30-Gal. Limit Is Taken Off Servicemen's Furlough Gas

Discussing the additional gasoline rations which now may be obtained by servicemen on furloughs, John H. Summers, district OPA director, today advised such servicemen not to forget the three easy rules to be followed in getting this gas:

1. Apply at any local War Price and Rationing Board.
2. Bring along the mileage rationing record for the car to be used.
3. Be ready to show furlough papers.

"Furlough gasoline still will be issued at the rate of a gallon a day," Mr. Summers said, "but the 30-gallon limit is being removed for the benefit of released American prisoners-of-war who get leave or temporary duty assignments for 60 days in this country, and for those members of our armed forces who return from overseas and get more than 30 days' leave."

Servicemen on terminal leave before discharge are eligible for furlough gasoline rations at the rate of a gallon a day until the date of discharge, but the maximum of 30 gallons still applies in these cases, the district director explained. A discharged serviceman who does not have an A card for his car is, of course, eligible for the book, just as civilians are.

Further, if a veteran is looking for work and is referred by one of the appropriate Government agencies to a specific job, he may get gasoline rations up to 400 miles a month for this purpose. A veteran who gets a job in another part of the country and who changes his residence will be issued sufficient rations to move his car and family. Like any other civilian, he then may get gasoline for occupational driving.

Special gasoline rations also will be issued for transportation of convalescent servicemen and veterans from Government hospitals and recuperation centers to sports events and other recreational activities, Mr. Summers said.

Applications for the special ration must be accompanied by a request from the administrative or medical head of the hospital or recuperation center. In addition, the place of entertainment generally must be within a radius of 50 miles of the hospital, which must be operated by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard or Veterans' Administration.

The ration also may include gasoline for the applicant or driver to reach the hospital from his home and return, but the mileage allowed for this purpose may not exceed 100 miles.

"O LOVE THAT WILT NOT LET ME GO"

O Love that wilt not let me go.
I rest my weary soul in Thee;
I give Thee back the life I owe.
That in Thine ocean depths its flow
May richer, fuller be.

Written with extreme rapidity in the Clydeside Manse of Innellan in Scotland in 1882, it was, as the author tells us, the fruit of acute mental distress and personal sorrow suffered by long years of blindness.

Raders Serve In Navy

Eugene Rader

Charles Rader

Mrs. Lloyd Rader, 49 S. Terrace-av, has two sons serving in the Armed forces. Eugene Rader, S1/c, age 19, is in the Coast Guard, now stationed in New Jersey doing clerical work. He entered the service in Aug. 1943 and went overseas in Nov. 1943.

S1/c Rader has made 22 trips across the Atlantic on a destroyer escort and has been to several other countries. At the time of his father's death, he was given a leave home and returned May 24 to New York. Prior to S1/c Rader's entry into the service, he worked at the Government Depot.

Charles Rader, S2/c, age 21, was recently home on a 30-day leave and reported back July 3 to Virginia Beach, until a new assignment.

He entered the service in April, 1943 and was sent overseas the following July. Charles participated in the battles on Saipan, Tarawa, Guam and Okinawa. He said that he was always glad to receive the Hilltop Record because it helped to keep up his morale.

A student of West High School, he formerly worked for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Police Chief Asks Citizens To Help Reduce Traffic Toll

Appealing to all citizens to lend a hand in reducing the city's traffic toll, Police Chief Lester W. Merica today expressed alarm over the large number of pedestrian deaths.

Only 16 persons have been killed in Columbus traffic this year, marking the lowest number for any comparable period, but 14 of them have been pedestrians. Most of this number were well advanced in age, the largest group more than 60 years old.

"It is a civic duty of every citizen to watch over the other in traffic," said Chief Merica. "For years we have exercised caution where children were concerned and now we must treat all pedestrians as children. They must be educated in crossing streets and to protect themselves, especially the older persons to whom we all can give a guiding hand," he added.

A large percentage of the traffic deaths have been due to crossing of streets not at intersections. To this end the chief hopes all persons will exercise care in crossing traffic lanes and to use intersections crosswalks. Automobile deaths in Columbus during the past 20 years have numbered 1271 or one each six days. The injury rate has been 18 times as high.

Further steps in a pedestrian education control program will be taken as soon as a result of exhaustive study of the problem becoming one of the foremost in traffic safety.

West High Sports Star on Leyte

T/Sgt. Phil Wisdom, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wisdom, 254 N. Harris-av, overseas since last February, is now stationed in the Emergency Rescue Crew in the AAF on Leyte. He entered the service in April, 1943 and received his rescue school training in Gulfport, Miss.

Sgt. Wisdom attended Ohio State University and took a nine month course in Meterology at Brown University. He formerly worked with his father on road construction.

A graduate of West High in 1942, Sgt. Wisdom was very active in football, baseball and basketball. He was president of the student council in his senior year.

The Hilltop Record
2465 W. Broad St.
Columbus 4, Ohio
Dear Sir:

During the past two years that I have been reading the Hilltop Record I have found it a welcomed companion. I am also a resident of the Hilltop Community and have been for some time, or should I say every since elementary days? I am also a graduate of West Hi in '38.; you can understand why I write appreciatively of the Record. It has kept me abreast with the news it contained, in addition to happenings there in the community; many of my friends that are now in the service and also out, and of whom I had lost track, were soon located through the Record. Indeed the Hilltop Record has done its part toward the war effort in my estimation and I think I voice the sentiment of those who are now receiving it.

I am now in New Caledonia, I have been oversea for two and a half years and will return home when we take the axe out of the one and only AXIS, Japan. I, like others, did not realize the paradise we had there 'till we came over here and began to make comparisons, and out of all my observations none have been able to surpass those there in America. I lived at this address: and this is what I am fighting for including freedom of speech, religion, equal rights, etc. etc.

Cpl. William H. Johnson

Respectfully yours,
Cpl. William H. Johnson

Major Hicks Is Awarded Bronze Star In Europe

Major Hicks

Wears Four Battle Stars; Assigned To Engineers

Major Warren W. Hicks, 2856 W. Broad-st, has been awarded the Bronze Star, with the following citation:

"Major Warren W. Major Hicks enlisted in the Army in August, 1942, and was sent to England ten months later. He wears four battle stars, one each for Normandy, France, Germany and the Ardennes. The Major will be remembered by Hilltop folks as the doctor who practiced medicine at the West Broad-st address for eight years. His wife and three-year-old son, Michael, are living there now.

PRINTING

is a weapon for Victory . . .

Success, whether in War or in Business, is often separated from failure by the narrowest of margins. One more tank, one more plane, one more battleship may be the decisive factor in a crucial battle. One more advertisement, one more booklet, one more direct mail piece may spell the difference between success and failure in retaining your customers during the postwar battle of business competition. It is better, therefore, to err on the side of too much than too little. Remember, too, that your letterheads, invoices, and every other piece of printing bearing your name become an advertisement of importance. Contact us for successful printing!

BIRD-IMPACT WINDSHIELDS

Small manufacturers have listed collision-resistant windshields as third in importance among matters to which special research should be given. In an effort to solve this problem, one aircraft manufacturer has submitted his second windshield design within seven months to the ATA. In this newest windshield, the designers have assumed the impact to be overcome would be that of an eight-ounce bird at maximum level flight speed.

Vol. XXIX, No. 10 | The Hilltop, Columbus 4, Ohio, Friday, July 20, 1945 | Total No. 1372

Lake Erie and its surrounding area seems to be the vacation spot this year for Hilltoppers, as the OPA still seems to object to long trips on occupational gas and trains and busses just aren't suitable for equipment necessary to stay a week or two.

Robert Hurd and wife, Martha, 64 S. Eureka-av, spent the past week at Pin Oaks, near Vermillion on Lake Erie. Saturday night the Mr. and Mrs. entered a jitterbug contest there and came in second. He is 6' 7" tall and she is a mere 5' 4", which must have made it a spectacular sight . . .

George Sharp, Spears Funeral Home embalmer, and wife were in the Mintawangi district for a week-end recently . . . Tom Zelkoff and family, he the former owner of Broad-Hague Restaurant and now operator of the Tom Thumb Restaurants, have a summer cottage at North Palm Beach in the same general area . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lugger, 3080 Sullivant-av, spent last week on a vacation at Buckeye Lake . . . and Jack Mitchell and wife, 289 S. Westgate-av, joined Mr. and Mrs. Russell Welch, 354 S. Brinker-av, in a stay at Indian Lake.

THEY OBJECT

We understand that a couple of property owners close by Westgate Park are objecting rather strenuously to efforts of the Hilltop Community Council toward building a skating rink within the park limits . . .

According to reports, their objection is based on the theory that such a project would bring a larger attendance of strollers to the park grounds, tending to decrease the value of their property.

Although we fail to see how an attempt to make a park useful instead of just plain ornamental can decrease property, we think that a post-war rush of factory workers in large numbers will eventually take care of this problem for them, rink or no rink.

LITTLE HELPER

The grapevine has it that there will be a new arrival to assist West High's football coach in his strategy come October . . . maybe that's what will be needed to beat North.

Also an heir to quite a flying future is said to be on its way.

HERE AND THERE

Art Korn has quite a garden up on Haldy-av, especially in the bean department . . . in fact he and the missus were recently seen working over pots of string beans in the wee hours of the morning . . .

Dick Kennedy, 3090 Steele-av, was having dog trouble late Wednesday evening. He was calling upon his neighbors for castor oil for his seven-week-old Cocker Spaniel pup . . . and we thought that was one way a dog's life was good . . .

There is a new face at the First Federal Savings and Loan office, being Harriet Eckeberry, 45 S. Oakley-av. She is a graduate of West High in the Spring class.

Cleanliness personified is the word for Chuck Waldo's "Melba Sandwich Shoppe" on West Broad-st, which opened up this week. Chuck says he'll keep it clean if there's no food there, but so far he seems to be doing all right.

GROWING

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club, just a month old today, was expected to close its charter with approximately fifty members to date . . .

With such a start this service club promises to be a big factor in the proper growth of the Hilltop.

Veteran of Italian Air Action Home

Sgt. Joe Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Graham, 25 Binns-blvd, arrived home Tuesday morning on a 30-day furlough. Sgt. Graham has seen eight months service in Italy in the 15th Air Force. He wears four battle stars.

A graduate of St. Charles, he entered the service in December, 1941.

BILLFOLD LIFTED

Revilla P. Case, 252 S. Harris-av, told police Sunday that someone took a billfold, containing $20, from his pocket, while he was in a downtown store.

500 Attend Band Concert With Top-coats and Blankets

First Program in Westgate Park Meets With Approval; Others Scheduled

A top-coated and blanketed crowd of some 500 music-lovers stayed through two hours of football weather at Westgate Park Sunday evening to listen to the Columbus Federation of Musicians' Band Concert.

Conducted by Dr. Frank Simon, of Cincinnati, a superb program of classical and popular music was well received by the unexpected large crowd.

Dorothy Stevens Humphreys, Columbus soprano, was featured as soloist, singing four numbers which included "Habanera", "La Danza," "Clavelitos" and "A Kiss In the Dark" to prove that she could sing in English.

First In Series

The concert, first of a series to be held in various city parks, was sponsored by the musicians union, City of Columbus and the Hilltop Community Council.

It was announced during the program that two additional concerts would be held at the same location later in the summer. There are to be financed by the Hilltop Community Council. According to C. P. Maus, council prexy, this proposal would depend on results of the present drive for funds to carry out this and other projects.

Introduced at the bandstand were City Council President Joseph Jones and Capt. Don Gentile.

While in Columbus, Rev. Shields was active in the local Federation of Churches, serving as chairman of the International Goodwill Committee and chairman of the first goodwill dinner for Jews and Christians ever held in the city of Columbus.

He was a trustee and co-founder of the Holmes Memorial Library; had charge of the Vacation Schools of the city for three successive summers; was a member of the Synodical Committee on Religious Education of the Presbyterial Synod of Ohio and chairman of the local Presbyterian Committee on Religious Education; besides serving on committees of the Ohio Council of Churches and the Ohio Council of Religious Education for which organization he conducted the Vacation School Institutes for the convention of the State Council.

He was broadcast and later vice-president of the Mercator Club International and secretary for three years of the Mercator Club of Columbus.

Served Widely

After leaving Columbus, Rev. Shields served community churches at Mountain Lakes, N. J., Winnette, Ill., Piedmont, Calif., and Joplin, Mo. Before he came to Columbus, he was associate pastor of Trumbull Presbyterian Church, Detroit, Mich.

He was a graduate of the Moravian College, Bethlehem, Pa., and was commissioned to the missionary field in the West Indies.

The Rev. Shields was born at Hope, Ind., and received his education from the public schools. He is survived by his wife and five children. Arrangements are being made in Hope for his burial.

A graduate of West High School, he was a student at Ohio State University at the time of his enlistment in the AAF in February, 1943. He received his commission in March, 1944, and had gone overseas last July.

Shown above are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Primmer, 35 N. Oakley-av. They are, Pvt. Richard Primmer now taking pre-medics at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C. and Wesley Primmer S2/c, who is serving aboard ship somewhere in the S. Pacific.

Richard entered the service in July, 1944 and was stationed almost a year at Camp Barkeley, Tex., as a general helper. He was home on a three-day pass on July 5 and returned to Washington, D. C.

Pvt. Primmer attended West High and formerly worked at Leamarr Printing Co.

Wesley enlisted in the Navy last March and took his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill. After seven weeks of boot training he came home on a short leave. He returned to San Francisco, and was stationed at Treasure Island for several weeks.

Westgate Prowler Breaks Track Records as Housewife Acts

There is one prowler who will think twice before entering any more Westgate homes.

Mrs. Clifford H. Householder, 111 Binns-blvd., was working in the basement of her house Monday afternoon about 3:30 when she heard someone moving around on the second floor.

Thinking it was her husband, she called his name several times, and was answered by a man who claimed to have been hired by Mr. Householder to clean the upstairs, but, knowing different, she rushed up the stairs in time to see a colored man crawling from under the bed . . .

She made him stand still while she searched him, taking his social security card. He had taken nothing from the house. The man ran from the front door while she was attempting to call police.

In response to Mrs. Householder's call, Lorenz Rausch, 3008 Olive-st, took up the chase, and was joined by Walter Davis, insurance agent of 3084 Steele-av in Davis' car. The prowler ran east on Olive and north to Broad-st, where the two located him at a bus stop. Upon hearing "Stop that man," he took off again, running back of the Westgate Temple grounds.

Detective Paul Fulton was then awakened at his home, 110 S. Roys-av, by Davis, and the three men scouted the neighborhood but failed to again pick up the trail.

The man was said by neighbors of Mrs. Householder to be taking pictures of various homes on Binns, and when seen was carrying a camera, which was first taken for a gun by his pursuers.

Tommy Stone Leads Hilltop In Scrap Paper Drive

With a total of 925 pounds of scrap paper to his credit, Tommy Stone, 101 N. Eureka-av, was leading all Hilltop parks in the week-old drive, according to the City Recreation Dept.

Four paper companies have been scheduled to collect the scrap at Glenwood on Tuesday, and Holton and Westgate on Thursday. Collectors were urged not to bring their paper on any other day of the week.

Conducted along the same line as last year's drive, something new has been added in prizes with the top boy and girl to receive a bicycle. Highest 15 boys and girls will win a trip to Lockbourne Air Base. Ranks are started at Pfc. and end at four-star general. Campaign ribbons and shoulder patches are also part of the scheme.

Six Injured In Collisions

Several injuries were suffered by Hilltop persons this week in auto accidents.

White Flowers, Candlelight Provide A Lovely Setting for Koehler-Woda Rites

Soft candlelight falling on an unusual arrangement of white snapdragons, gladioli, and carnations, interspersed with dark green palms and ferns, formed the beautiful background for the wedding of Miss Virginia Woda to Mr. Jed W. Koehler.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Brobst, in St. Mathews Lutheran Church on Sunday afternoon, June 24.

The former Miss Woda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Woda, 77 S. Westgate-av. Mr. Koehler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Koehler, of Grove City.

The ceremony was preceded by nuptial music presented by Mrs. Jo Koehler of Grove City and Mr. Fred Gauggle. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a deep sheer, yoke of silk marquisette edged with a wide bertha of Chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a halo of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book to which was fastened clusters of stephanotis and white orchids. An antique laviellier, which belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother and a birthstone ring, gift of the bridegroom, were her only jewelry.

Miss Lola Shelton, of Winston-Salem, N. C., cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was gowned in pale marquisette and carried a semi-colonial bouquet of carnations, gladioli, delphinium and baby breath. The bridesmaids, Miss Betty Burton, Miss Mary Honstine and Miss Mary Lou Edwards, wore identical gowns of net, styled with sweetheart necklines and fitted bodices. They carried semi-colonial bouquets of summer flowers. The bride presented her attendants with a single strand of pearls.

Mr. Earl Rouff was best man for the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Woda home for 100 guests. Mrs. Woda was attired for the occasion in a navy blue dress with which she combined white accessories. Mrs. Koehler, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of powder blue, with pink accessories. Both wore corsages of shattered carnations. Miss Leah Krumlauf and Miss Francis Boggini assisted the hostess.

Pretty Double Ring Ceremony Unites Mary Louise Roach, Robert Allen Duncan

Madonna lilies, huckleberry and ferns decorated the candlelit altar of the Glenwood Methodist Church on June 24, when Miss Mary Louise Roach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Roach, 632 S. Ogden-av, became the bride of Petty Officer 1/c Robert Allen Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duncan, 648 S. Ogden-av. The Rev. Joseph S. Shellhaus officiated at the double ring ceremony, held at 2:30 p. m. Preceding the wedding, a half hour of nuptial music, including vocal solos by Alice Remington, accompanied by Mrs. Fern Johnston, who also played the wedding march and recessional, was heard.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, with an embroidered fitted bodice and a sweetheart neckline. The tightly fitted sleeves ended in points over the wrists. The full skirt terminated in a circular train. A crown of seed pearls and crystal beads held in place a long veil trimmed in chenille lace, which ended in a circular train like the gown. She carried a white Bible, to which was fastened a white orchid with streamers of orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a cross set with a diamond, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Mollie Huffman attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a gown of aqua, with a satin bodice and net skirt, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. A headdress held a matching veil in place. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Irvin, Miss Jeanne Duncan, sister of the groom and Mrs. Gloria Grimes, Jr. Their gowns were of pastel shades, fashioned like the gown of the maid of honor. Their bouquets were of gladioli, roses, baby breath and carnations. The bride presented her maid of honor with a double strand of pearls. Her gifts to the bridesmaids were gold charm bracelets, starting them with a gold wedding band.

Little Louanne Miller was flower girl in a gown of aqua net. Little Thomas Finckel was ring bearer, in a sailor suit. Both are cousins of the bridegroom.

A reception was held in the church parlor, immediately following the ceremony, for 125 guests. The bride's mother greeted her friends in a gown of pink chiffon with which she wore a corsage of white roses and baby's breath. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of powder blue jersey, with a corsage of white roses and baby breath. The only grandparent, Mrs. Pauline Hebron, wore a gown of white jersey, with a corsage of pink rosebuds and baby breath.

The bride is a graduate of West High school and is employed by the F. & R. Lazarus Co. in their Adjustment Office. Petty Officer 1/c Robert Allen Duncan is a graduate of West High School and the Ohio Institute of Aeronautics. He was employed by the Curtiss-Wright Corp. before his enlistment in the Navy. He recently returned to this country after taking part in nine major battles in the South Pacific. Later on, he will report to Seattle, Wash., where the new Mrs. Duncan will join him.

Following the reception, the bride changed to a navy blue crepe dress, trimmed in white lace, for her wedding trip. She wore a white orchid.

AN HONEST ANSWER

★ Medical ethics are not something unique and set apart, but simply a direct application of the Golden Rule. They provide an honest answer to the question, "What is best for the patient?" As one physician put it, "I do for my patients what I would do for a member of my own family."

As pharmacists, we adhere to the same code. The quality of our medicines and service is the best it is possible to give. You, the patient, are our first concern.

THOUSANDS OF WORK HOURS NEEDED TO REPLACE THESE HELLDIVERS . . .

Sure we're doing a swell job of pouring it on the Japs. But they have their innings, too. The smashed Helldivers on the damaged carrier, "Bunker Hill," pictured above, are proof.

Our Navy fliers need more Helldiver dive bombers to take the place of those destroyed. They can use all they can get to bring the tough Nip to his knees in the shortest possible time.

Take a job at Curtiss-Wright. It's urgent, vital work that will save lives and perhaps cut months from the duration of the war.

Both men and women are needed—skilled, semi-skilled, inexperienced. Don't let unfamiliarity with tools, machinery or plant work keep you away. A few weeks at the training school right at the plant will enable you to take your place on the production line. You will earn good wages under working conditions which compare favorably with those in any plant in the United States.

There is a real place for you in this war—building Helldiver dive bombers at Curtiss-Wright.

Ways to Use New Tomatoes

Baked Stuffed Tomatoes

6 large firm ripe tomatoes
6 strips bacon
2 tbsp. chopped parsley
1 tbsp. chopped onion
1 cup dry bread crumbs
¼ tsp. celery seed
½ tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
1 cup bread crumbs moistened with fat

Wash the tomatoes, remove a thin slice from the stem end, scoop out pulp carefully so as not to break the shells. Fry the bacon until crisp, remove from pan, and break into bits. Add parsley and onion to the fat, cook for a few minutes, add dry bread crumbs, celery seed, salt, pepper, crisped bacon and tomato pulp. Stir until well mixed and add more salt if necessary. Fill tomato cups with this mixture, cover tops with crumbs, and bake in a shallow dish in a moderate oven 45 to 60 minutes.

Stewed Tomatoes and Celery

1 qt. tomatoes
2 cups cut celery
1½ tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. fat

Simmer the tomatoes and celery together for 20 or 25 minutes, or until the celery is tender. Season with salt, pepper, and fat and serve. Use up outer stalks of celery for this dish.

Ration Board Says to Shop On Services

Local Ration Board 25-10 has received numerous complaints regarding the repair of washing machines and refrigerators. The majority of the complaints concern labor services, according to T. F. Webb, chairman.

"Before you permit anyone to take your equipment for repair it is a good idea to shop two or three of the reliable concerns, getting an estimation of the cost of the work to be done. Also be very positive that the company that is doing the work notifies you of any additional work or parts before they proceed," he said.

Many services are covered by ceiling prices and customers have the privilege of checking with their local board on such services as repairing washers, refrigerators, etc., plumbing, laying linoleum and repair work on automobiles.

Hours Change

A new schedule of hours was announced this week by the board. On Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday the board is open from 8:15 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.; Wednesday 12:30 p. m. to 9:00 p. m., and Saturday, 8:15 a. m. to noon.

In the Rough

By the Roughest

With the middle of the golf season now in full swing the same well known Hilltop golfers, plus a few new ones, are pounding the old white pill around to get and keep in the lower scores on the course.

Whitie Marlowe turned in a 79 last Sunday with Dr. Chester Brady an 82. Ann Bara Cullen, who was almost constantly seen on the golf course every day a couple of years back and who recently returned from Florida to enjoy a short vacation with her friends, while her husband, Lt. Ralph Cullen is on furlough, played a very excellent 18 holes to turn in the best score she ever had—an 88.

R. J. Hyatt, a consistent player on the course, came in with an 84.

Lt. Jack Kidwell, former pro at Beacon Light, who came home on furlough, really whipped into shape in a hurry after not having played for a year, turned in a 77 for low score. Incidentally, Lt. Kidwell flew on T.W.A. Air Lines to Fort Ord, Calif., which is his new location.

The scoop of the week was the other night as this writer was visiting Joe Agee's home at 262 S. Harris-av, and there was Joe practicing chip shots in his backyard into a sand box. On the q. t., he is getting into shape to beat his rival in a future golf game. Sorry, Joe, it was too good to keep a secret.

Jerry Watson, local grocer, says he was playing slightly over his head when he won the first flight championship at Brookside District golf tourney last week, but he played some mighty good golf while he was there.

His semi-final match was the toughest, wherein he carded a 76 as compared to his opponent's 77. This meant pressure all the way.

In Grant Hospital

Due to an error, it was announced in last week's issue that Charles Burris, 322 S. Hague-av, was ready to receive visitors in Mt. Carmel Hospital. Mr. Burris is in Grant Hospital, recovering from the amputation of his right limb, several weeks ago.

Several leading network programs are being transcribed by War Prisoners Aid, a Community War Chest agency, for shipment to prisoner of war camps. Loud speaker systems have been set up in many of the camps.

Vol. XXIX, No. 11 | The Hilltop, Columbus 4, Ohio, Friday, July 27, 1945 | Total No. 1373

Last week's circus at Red Bird Stadium, sponsored by the Police Athletic Association, was definitely of a high caliber as circuses go. The thrills and chills were there, along with a well-balanced and fast-moving program.

According to members of the circus committee, attendance wasn't exactly what had been expected, and a circus of that type is a very expensive thing. However, we think this can be attributed to a more or less general lack of interest in this type of entertainment because of varying quality.

By starting off with such a good show and planning to make it an annual affair, the policemen have taken a step which should develop into a worthwhile program of public relations, as well as a medium of revenue for their athletic association.

Capt. Glenn Hoffman and members of his committee are to be congratulated.

LOST THE DECISION

John Kresky, 464 S. Huron-av, stopped by the ball diamond at Westgate Park Tuesday night to see a couple of the knothole teams tangle. Finding they had no umpire, he volunteered to work the game.

He got so wrapped up in his work that he lost a black cameo set from his ring while waving his decisions. Fortunately several diamonds were still in the mounting.

BETS HIS DOG

Mark Stevens, 666 S. Eureka-av, last week ran a Record ad for his lost dog. One of several calls showed him a dog which was almost, but not quite, the same. Mark said that it was so close he just accepted the pooch with a little urging from the finders.

OFF TO GEORGIA

Nine-year-old Gary Koontz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Koontz, 354 S. Richardson-av, started for Atlanta, Ga., last Tuesday, all by himself. Papa took him as far as Cincinnati, which Gary said was absolutely unnecessary. From there on he was taken in tow by the conductor, who got him there all right as a letter informed them.

HERE AND THERE

Fireman Edward Nothacker, 679 S. Roys-av, has been promoted to lieutenant and shifted from a down-town station to the Hilltop fire house. He was taking his turn as building inspector this week . . .

One of those weather signs at the Sunoco Service Station at Burgess and Broad-st this week read "Colder—Snow" . . . and the temperature was only 91 . . .

George Herren, 325 Whitethorne-av, left Thursday morning for a visit of 320 towns and cities in 37 states and Canada. He is an inspector with the Seagraves Co., builders of fire-fighting equipment.

Sandra Lee Baker, whose birthday is Sept. 13, won the Gift Box baby contest on Friday, July 13th.

Thriving Gardens Give Way to Basement Excavations as Westgate Building Starts

A strange sight in this day of food shortages, and exhortations from the government not to waste precious food, is the spectacle of thriving gardens almost ready for harvest, ploughed under, as excavation gets under way for a new development project in Westgate.

Thirty new homes will be built on Guernsey, Roys, Huron-ave, and Binns-blvd, between Fremont and Wicklow-rd. It is expected that within 45 days, the first of these homes will be ready for occupancy. Each dwelling has been estimated to cost $7500.

The Columbus Southern Lumber Co. has the contract for the job. It is reported that the necessary priorties have been granted because of the great need of war veterans for homes.

The lots are owned by Todd Tibbals, architect, 1116 Broadway.

Several lots have already been excavated on S. Roys-av. Sturdy corn stalks and vines loaded with green tomatoes have been destroyed.

Gardeners in that section report that agreement was required from the owner giving them permission to put gardens in and it was stated at that time, that if the materials were available, building would be started. Therefore, they have [illegible]

However, it is difficult to see the product of many an hour of hard work destroyed just as the time approaches when some benefit might be derived from it.

Those gardeners contacted, state that it will not be so bad if building is started at once. But if the land lies idle after excavation, when the full benefit of the gardens may have been enjoyed, it is understandable that there may be a bit of bitterness in the hearts of those who planted crops.

Even two or three weeks would see the gardeners get some return from their investment of labor and money.

Even in normal times it is difficult to put up thirty homes in three weeks time, thus many Hilltoppers fail to see anything other than a fall and winter project for this Westgate area.

Over $300 had been contributed to the drive for a $1500 summer and fall recreational program, sponsored by the Hilltop Community Council, according to a report of residential workers Monday night.

Letters from supporting organizations were also read before the city fathers, with Koontz discussing the proposal with the service committee.

Referred to Service

After favorable discussion, the resolution was referred to the service director for his report. This means that the city parks and forestry department will have to pass on it before final action is taken.

Meanwhile, a concerted effort toward raising the necessary funds for a varied recreational and social program was under way with the start of solicitation of the business districts.

Boys Escape by Climbing Trees At Glenwood's "Sadie Hawkins" Day

It was "Sadie Hawkins Day" Tuesday at Glenwood Playground. However, instead of the girls catching a husband, they wound up with a pot-luck dinner partner.

Things were going fine as the girls prepared their dinners, then gathered at the starting line to catch their partners, but, alas, at the sound of the gun, the boys all took to trees and tall recreation standards where the less agile girls couldn't follow.

But the way to a man's heart is still through his stomach, so the boys bailed out from their high perches and were caught and quickly taken to supper.

After the pot was licked dry, games and songs were taken up.

Next Friday's feature at the park will be games. Prizes, consisting of articles made there, will be given.

GIs Look to Points for Their Future Life

A letter written by Pfc. Ace L. Forbes to his mother, Mrs. Cleo Forbes, 2545 Sullivant-av, describes in a vivid way, the terrors of war, both to the soldiers and to the civilian population.

Dear Mother:

I am sitting here in front of an open window and a breeze is blowing in from the Alps, making everything cool and refreshing. I am sweating it out, along with a couple of hundred thousand others, about points.

I checked my service record today and find that I am right on the nose (85 points) with a possible ten points to receive. I hope I can raise it, for the way I have it figured out, the more points you have the better the chance of at least getting back to the States for a while.

In any event, I have the critical amount (85) that is supposed to keep me out of the Pacific, although that remains to be seen.

Point Guesses Off

The main topic over here as far as the GIs go is "am I or ain't I going to C.B.I. (China, Burma Section). It is really amusing. The fellows, including myself had all their points figured up even long before they checked with our company clerks and some were disappointed.

For instance, one man, although he had at least 101 points, found that court martials, etc., knocked his total down to 84 and that, according to the Stars and Stripes, may just as well be 21 for all the good it does you.

Pfc. Forbes

Some of the details may be told now, of our dash across Germany, from the breakthrough of the Seigfried Line to the finish in the Alps.

For months men felt sick inside, but outwardly you could not tell it. I know, for the whispered conversations; the wide open eyes that try to stare through trees; the way you take care of and are taken care of, by your buddies; the teriffic letting off of pent-up emotions when the battle is over and the Krauts have retreated or surrendered.

Allergic to Church Steeples

Sometimes we would march all day and go through little village after little village, and maybe only have trouble with one or two.

We could always tell when there was trouble coming, for upon advancing to a village, if there were no white surrender flag on the church steeples or if things were too quiet, with no civilians around, or no old women puttering in their gardens, we braced ourselves for the fight we knew was coming.

I find that I am very allergic to church steeples and attic windows, because that always is where the trouble starts.

We have been pinned down for over an hour at a time, unable to raise our bodies an inch off the ground, listening to the crack of bullets over our bodies and praying. There were naturally some unfortunate boys who got it, God rest them.

Battle At Its Worst

It is funny the things the brain remembers. For instance, when we ran smack into Ger-

Vol. XXIX, No. 11 | The Hilltop, Columbus 4, Ohio, Friday, July 27, 1945 | Total No. 1373

Last week's circus at Red Bird Stadium, sponsored by the Police Athletic Association, was definitely of a high caliber as circuses go. The thrills and chills were there, along with a well-balanced and fast-moving program.

According to members of the circus committee, attendance wasn't exactly what had been expected, and a circus of that type is a very expensive thing. However, we think this can be attributed to a more or less general lack of interest in this type of entertainment because of varying quality.

By starting off with such a good show and planning to make it an annual affair, the policemen have taken a step which should develop into a worthwhile program of public relations, as well as a medium of revenue for their athletic association.

Capt. Glenn Hoffman and members of his committee are to be congratulated.

LOST THE DECISION

John Kresky, 464 S. Huron-av, stopped by the ball diamond at Westgate Park Tuesday night to see a couple of the knothole teams tangle. Finding they had no umpire, he volunteered to work the game.

He got so wrapped up in his work that he lost a black cameo set from his ring while waving his decisions. Fortunately several diamonds were still in the mounting.

GETS HIS DOG

Mark Stevens, 666 S. Eureka-av, last week ran a Record ad for his lost dog. One of several calls showed him a dog which was almost, but not quite, the same. Mark said that it was so close he just accepted the pooch with a little urging from the finders.

OFF TO GEORGIA

Nine-year-old Gary Koontz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Koontz, 354 S. Richardson-av, started for Atlanta, Ga., last Tuesday, all by himself. Papa took him as far as Cincinnati, which Gary said was absolutely unnecessary. From there on he was taken in tow by the conductor, who got him there all right as a letter informed them.

HERE AND THERE

Fireman Edward Nothacker, 679 S. Roys-av, has been promoted to lieutenant and shifted from a down-town station to the Hilltop fire house. He was taking his turn as building inspector this week . . .

One of those weather signs at the Sunoco Service Station at Burgess and Broad-st this week read "Colder—Snow" . . . and the temperature was only 91 . . .

George Herren, 335 Whitethorne-av, left Thursday morning for a visit of 320 towns and cities in 37 states and Canada. He is an inspector with the Seagraves Co., builders of fire-fighting equipment.

Sandra Lee Baker, whose birthday is Sept. 13, won the Gift Box baby contest on Friday, July 13th.

Thriving Gardens Give Way to Basement Excavations as Westgate Building Starts

A strange sight in this day of food shortages, and exhortations from the government not to waste precious food, is the spectacle of thriving gardens almost ready for harvest, ploughed under, as excavation gets under way for a new development project in Westgate.

Thirty new homes will be built on Guernsey, Roys, Huron-avs, and Binns-blvd, between Fremont and Wicklow-rd. It is expected that within 45 days, the first of these homes will be ready for occupancy. Each dwelling has been estimated to cost $7500.

The Columbus Southern Lumber Co. has the contract for the job. It is reported that the necessary priorties have been granted because of the great need of war veterans for homes.

Several lots have already been excavated on S. Roys-av. Sturdy corn stalks and vines loaded with green tomatoes have been destroyed.

Gardeners in that section report that agreement was required from the owner giving them permission to put gardens in and it was stated at that time, that if the materials were available, building would be started. Therefore, they have no recourse.

However, it is difficult to see the product of many an hour of hard work destroyed just as the time approaches when some benefit might be derived from it.

Those gardeners contacted, state that it will not be so bad if building is started at once. But if the land lies idle after excavation, when the full benefit of the gardens may have been enjoyed; it is understandable that there may be a bit of bitterness in the hearts of those who planted crops.

Even two or three weeks would see the gardeners get some return from their investment of labor and money.

Even in normal times it is difficult to put up thirty homes in three weeks time, thus many Hilltoppers fail to see anything other than a fall and winter project for this Westgate area.

Opens Office

Dr. Gettrost

Dr. J. M. Gettrost, who has received a medical discharge from the United States Army, this week announced the opening of his new office for the practice of medicine. The office will be located in the property recently purchased by the doctor at 2527 W. Broad-st.

Dr. Gettrost enlisted in the Army in June, 1942, and reported for active duty in August of the same year. He served with the 6th Infantry Division for two and one-half years, one year of which was spent in the Southwest Pacific.

Dr. Gettrost recently took post-graduate work at the University of Michigan Medical School. His former offices were located at 3661 W. Broad-st.

Community Council Fund At $300 in Residential Drive

Koontz Presents Rink Resolution To Council; Referred to Service Director

Over $300 had been contributed to the drive for a $1600 summer and fall recreational program, sponsored by the Hilltop Community Council, according to a report of residential workers Monday night.

A resolution to City Council, asking for permission to build a 45x120 foot roller skating rink in Westgate Park, which could be used for ice-skating in the winter, was presented by Councilman Henry A. Koontz, 455 Hilltonia-av, Monday.

Letters from supporting organizations were also read before the city fathers, with Koontz discussing the proposal with the service committee.

Referred to Service

After favorable discussion, the resolution was referred to the service director for his report. This means that the city parks and forestry department will have to pass on it before final action is taken.

Meanwhile, a concerted effort toward raising the necessary funds for a varied recreational and social program was under way with the start of solicitation of the business districts.

Lt. Kern Is Wounded On Okinawa

Lt. John Kern, 23, USMC, was slightly wounded for the second time, in action, June 30, on Okinawa, his wife, Mrs. Eileen Kern, 632 S. Eureka-av, was informed. Lt. Kern is a veteran of the Bougainville, New Guinea, Saipan, Tinian and Okinawa campaigns. His first wound was received August 1, 1944.

He enlisted in the Marine Corps in June, 1941, and went overseas in 1943. He later returned to the States on leave and returned to overseas duty in June, 1944.

He attended Ohio State University before enlisting. He is the son of Patrolman Fred E. Kern, Sr., Chittenden Hotel, and Mrs. Edna Kern, Columbus.

Lt. Patterson, Missing, Now Listed as Dead

Lt. Arthur J. Patterson, reported missing in action on August 20, 1944, in France, died the following day from wounds, the War Department has notified his mother, Mrs. Arthur J. Patterson, 605 Wiltshire,-rd.

Lt. Patterson was with the 145th Armored Signal Corps. On August 20 he was sent to cut important communications, performed his mission successfully, but was wounded and captured by the Germans. The driver of his jeep was killed at that time. Eyewitnesses among French peasants confirmed his capture and wounded condition.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his wife, Nancy Patterson and 2½ year old daughter, Patricia Ann. One brother, Lt. E. N. Patterson, in the Army Air Force, also survives.

Memorial services will be held for Lt. Patterson at Trinity Episcopal Church at Third and Broad-sts, on Friday, August 3, at 11 a. m.

Boys Escape by Climbing Trees At Glenwood's "Sadie Hawkins" Day

It was "Sadie Hawkins Day" Tuesday at Glenwood Playground. However, instead of the girls catching a husband, they wound up with a pot-luck dinner partner.

Things were going fine as the girls prepared their dinners, then gathered at the starting line to catch their partners, but, alas, at the sound of the gun, the boys all took to trees and tall recreation standards where the less agile girls couldn't follow.

But the way to a man's heart is still through his stomach, so the boys bailed out from their high perches and were caught and quickly taken to supper.

After the pot was licked dry, games and songs were taken up.

Next Friday's feature at the park will be games. Prizes, consisting of articles made there, will be given.

GIs Look to Points for Their Future Life

A letter written by Pfc. Ace L. Forbes to his mother, Mrs. Cleo Forbes, 2545 Sullivant-av, describes in a vivid way, the terrors of war, both to the soldiers and to the civilian population.

Dear Mother:

I am sitting here in front of an open window and a breeze is blowing in from the Alps, making everything cool and refreshing. I am sweating it out, along with a couple of hundred thousand others, about points.

I checked my service record today and find that I am right on the nose (85 points) with a possible ten points to receive. I hope I can raise it, for the way I have it figured out, the more points you have the better the chance of at least getting back to the States for a while.

In any event, I have the critical amount (85) that is supposed to keep me out of the Pacific, although that remains to be seen.

Point Guesses Off

The main topic over here as far as the GIs go is "am I or ain't I going to C.B.I. (China, Burma Section). It is really amusing. The fellows, including myself had all their points figured up even long before they checked with our company clerks and some were disappointed.

For instance, one man, although he had at least 101 points, found that court martials, etc., knocked his total down to 84 and that, according to the Stars and Stripes, may just as well be 21 for all the good it does you.

Pfc. Forbes

Some of the details may be told now, of our dash across Germany, from the breakthrough of the Seigfried Line to the finish in the Alps.

For months men felt sick inside, but outwardly you could not tell it. I know, for the whispered conversations; the wide open eyes that try to stare through trees; the way you take care of and are taken care of, by your buddies; the terrific letting off of pent-up emotions when the battle is over and the Krauts have retreated or surrendered.

Allergic to Church Steeples

Sometimes we would march all day and go through little village after little village, and maybe only have trouble with one or two.

We could always tell when there was trouble coming, for upon advancing to a village, if there were no white surrender flag on the church steeples or if things were too quiet, with no civilians around, or no old women puttering in their gardens, we braced ourselves for the fight we knew was coming.

I find that I am very allergic to church steeples and attic windows, because that always is where the trouble starts.

We have been pinned down for over an hour at a time, unable to raise our bodies an inch off the ground, listening to the crack of bullets over our bodies and praying. There were naturally some unfortunate boys who got it, God rest them.

Battle At Its Worst

It is funny the things the brain remembers. For instance, when we ran smack into Ger-

THE THREE SCOURGES OF MAN

★ Devastating epidemics have ranked with war and famine as population levelers. Of these three scourges of man, pestilence was most dreaded. During the Black Plague epidemic of 1348, it was estimated that in some places over two-thirds of the population was wiped out.

The discovery of bacteria as the cause of infectious disease is still within the memory of the living. Pasteur developed the first vaccine for rabies in 1885. Since that time many immunizing procedures have become routine. As a consequence, deaths from infectious diseases have been drastically reduced.

Everyone should be protected against smallpox and diphtheria as an absolute minimum. Do not wait for an epidemic to break out. Then it is often too late.

"Horn Blows At Midnight" To Be Shown at Westmont

Combining the rib-tickling antics of funny-man Jack Benny, the blonde loveliness of Alexis Smith, one of the brightest and gayest comedies of the season, "Horn Blows at Midnight" opened at the Westmont Theatre Thursday, July 26th, for a three-day engagement.

Starring Jack Benny and Alexis Smith and featuring a supporting cast that includes such capable performers as Allyn Joslyn, Reginald Gardiner, and John Alexander, the farce comedy tells the story of the trumpet-blowing angel (Jack Benny) sent down from Heaven to herald the doom of the earth on his horn.

Caught in a web of mortal scheming, Athanael, the angel becomes involved in a series of situations, both hilarious and fantastic.

The companion feature is "Gentle Annie," starring James Craig and Marjorie Main.

"Captain Eddie" Premier To Be Largest in City's History

Captain Rickenbacker and Family To Be Present; Hollywood Stars Here

For the first time in its history, Columbus is to have a World Premier of an outstanding motion picture. And quite appropriately this picture is "Captain Eddie," based upon the life and adventures of Eddie Rickenbacker, the city's outstanding son and war hero. It will be held on Wednesday, Aug. 1, at Loew's Ohio Theatre.

All of the glamour and excitement which accompanies these world premieres will be seen in connection with the first showing here of "Captain Eddie," a Eureka production distributed by 20th Century-Fox. But there will be more than the Hollywood touches. It will also be another home-coming for Rickenbacker and the civic committee headed by Congressman John M. Vorys, plans to make it the most outstanding day in the city's history.

Capt. Rickenbacker, his mother and his family will be here for the premiere, and nothing will be left undone to make this homecoming eclipse the celebration in 1919 when he returned as the nation's leading war ace and hero. Downtown streets, buildings, stores, offices and State Capitol and City Hall will be decorated. There will be a parade, welcomes by Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Mayor James A. Rhodes, a civic luncheon, visits to the military and naval bases and finally a celebration at the Ohio Theatre with introduction of visiting movie stars and presentation to "Rick" of a bound book with thousands of names of his fellow townspeople.

It is for this purpose that the "Welcome Captain Eddie" headquarters has been established in the vacant store on the northeast corner of Broad and High-sts. Here young women from Ohio State are on hand daily, except Sunday, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., to receive Columbus citizens and others who would show their respect for "Rick" by signing his "Welcome" book. These will be taken up to the night of August 1st, then bound together with photographs of the activities of the premiere and presented to him as the good-will token from his old home town.

What movie stars will be here for the premiere has not yet been decided, due to "shooting" schedules at the studio, but those already scheduled include Lloyd Nolan, George Jessel and Peggy Ann Garner. Other stars are also expected to attend.

It is expected that Fred MacMurray, who plays the role of "Rick" in the picture will head the Hollywood delegation at the premiere.

Loew's Ohio Theatre announces that a large part of the theater for the show on August 1 will be sold to the public. Tickets will be on sale a few days before the premier at regular theater admission prices. The time for the sale of these tickets will be announced later.

"COME, THOU ALMIGHTY KING"
— — CHARLES WESLEY — — —

This hymn, one of the brightest and spirited of the church, was found printed on a tiny leaflet somewhere in 1757 — alongside two others of Charles Wesley. Therefore, it is usually ascribed to him, though the real authorship is not known.

Northwest Kiwanis Club To Place Additional Help On Ration Board

The Northwest Kiwanis Club of Columbus has arranged to furnish a paid addition to the staff of Grandview War Price and Rationing Board No. 34-25.6 to give exclusive attention to servicemen and veterans, H. H. Maynard, Grandview Board Chairman, announced today.

The new board member, whose salary will be paid by the Kiwanis Club, is Mrs. Ella Miller Bonham, 1051 W. 3rd-av. She is the wife of an aviator now on duty in the Pacific area and was senior clerk in the Grandview board office for two years.

"Since Mrs. Bonham will give exclusive attention to needs of service people and recently discharged veterans, they will be able to have their needs considered immediately when they visit the board office and they will not have to wait in line behind civilians," Dr. Maynard said.

In addition to rationing needs, Mrs. Bonham will help answer other problems concerning OPA regulations, Dr. Maynard said. She will act as representative of the various panels on the board and will be on duty whenever the board is open to the public. She also will issue furlough gasoline and food coupons to servicemen on furlough in accordance with board policy and OPA regulations.

Another of Mrs. Bonham's duties will be to give veterans and servicemen advice as to which members of the Kiwanis Club are available for consultation with discharged men of the GI bill of rights. The vocational guidance committee of the Kiwanis Club is ready to help discharged men, in any way, Dr. Maynard said.

The club also plans to photostat discharge papers for veterans as an additional protection for these men, it was announced.

A Fighting Man

man anti-tank guns and machine guns.

They opened up on us first with machine guns and pinned us down, so we radioed back for tanks to come up and knock out the nest, so we could get going.

So up they come and are we surprised to find the Krauts with anti-tank guns waiting and they knock out one of our tanks in no time. Then they turned the guns on us, when we had just been given orders to continue the attack..

I was no more off my knees when all hell broke loose and I was looking right into the glowing green of an anti-tank shell coming at me like a meteor. I hit the ground in nothing flat and we lay flat on that field praying again. This time our forward observer called for the artillery and you can imagine how we felt when we heard the first ones coming over, one right after the other, making that horrible "swishing" sound. However, it was horrible for the Germans. They were scared stiff of our artillery and certainly had a right to be, for they didn't last long.

War Nasty for Children

That isn't the only thing that makes war nasty. There are the little kiddies who have to bear such things as living in cities that are burning over their heads, while they are in the deep dark candlelit basements of churches or other places they think may be safe from what they know is coming.

My lieutenant and I had to flush a bomb-proof cellar of a church way back in the early part of the breakthrough and it made me kind of sick.

We entered the church and descended to the regular basement, then down a flight of stone steps into caverns of ancient origin, opened great doors, then down a small flight of stairs, through a tunnel into a larger room, lit with a few candles.

There, in this subterranean room, we found about a hundred and fifty civilians, some old women, a very few young ones and many small children. They sat very, very quietly, watching us search for soldiers.

Fright Predominates

They were so utterly frightened. Some old women were crying and the young women's faces were white. The little ones sat just looking at the floor, afraid to look up. One little girl was watching me, I noticed. She was a sweet looking little kid with a white rabbit fur coat on. When she found I was looking at her, she winced as if I had slapped her and began to shake and whimper and refused to look at me any more.

Scaring little children was a new experience for me and just for curiosity I looked at three or four other children and old women. The children jumped like they were shot and the older women clenched their hands and began to moan. Women holding babies clutched them tighter.

They Ask When

These people had been told they would be killed and raped by us. One woman with a German-English translation book tried to ask us in English when we were going to kill them. We called our translator and he explained to them that Americans don't fight or kill women and children, at which they began to laugh and cry and whisper among themselves.

It was a relief to me to get out of that hole. We probably looked like something out of this world for we had been attacking for days and were dirty and needed shaves and our eyes were all bloodshot. We were wrecks, we were so in need of rest.

We rested in that town for the night and the next day were attacked by our own fighter planes because we had forgotten to hang out "Maggie's drawers."

Well, this should give you a bird's eye view of your so called "super race." I believe they will think twice before they start trouble again—I hope.

Postwar Kitchen-Laundry to Banish Drudgery

Combination kitchen-laundry will save homemaker steps.

AS WAR BONDS accumulate, many farm homemakers are dreaming of beautiful, work-easy kitchens and light airy laundries on the first floor that will cut household drudgery, according to an article in nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer.

The combination kitchen-laundry pictured above was planned by a well-known electric equipment manufacturer to make those dreams come true. It is a sample of the improved appliances which will be available after the war, says the article in the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families. The new laundry equipment will be attractive and the elimination of climbing basement stairs with baskets of clothes will justify the combination.

Starting at the left side of the sketch is a power ironer, that will enable the homemaker to whiz through ironing in seemingly no time. Next is an automatic washer that does the clothes while she prepares dinner. An automatic drier is handy to receive damp clothes, then to tumble them dry in warm air. Beyond the sink a counter and 2 pull-out ventilated metal hampers make sorting clothes easy.

In the kitchen an electric range is conveniently near the dining-room door. The sink directly under the window is equipped with an automatic garbage disposal unit. Next to it is the electric dishwasher that takes care of a whole day's dishes at once. On both sides are cupboards. Base cabinets separate the dishwasher and electric refrigerator. In the center is a snack bar.

Canning Clinic to Help Puzzled Home Canner

Skillet Chicken and Rice Is Zestful Dish

IT'S chicken every Sunday and oftener, once the family has tasted Skillet Chicken and Rice, says Marjorie Griffin, the rural home editor of Capper's Farmer, a farm magazine of national circulation.

As the ingredients cook together, the rice takes on an added flavor. Served in a white fluffy mound, surrounded or topped with a tender, browned piece of chicken, this rice combination is an appetite-tempting favorite. Parsley sprigs and red paprika give it added color appeal, the Capper's Farmer expert points out.

Skillet Chicken and Rice

1 fryer
½ c. flour
1½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. paprika
⅛ tsp. pepper
⅓ c. fat
3 c. boiling water
¾ c. rice, washed
1 onion

Cut chicken into serving pieces; rub with mixture of flour, salt, pepper and paprika. Brown in the hot fat. When well browned, reduce heat, add boiling water and onion (or 1 clove garlic). When chicken is about one fourth done sprinkle rice over it. Cover tightly. Cook gently until chicken is tender, rice is fluffy and tender, and water is evaporated—1 to 1½ hours. Remove onion. Serves 5 to 7 depending on size of bird.

A Canning Clinic and Information Center, sponsored by the Franklin County Nutrition Council, will be in operation during July and August at the Garden Center, 30 E. Broad-st, to help the home canner solve her food preservation problems.

The clinic is open, Monday through Friday, 10:00 - 4:00 p. m. A telephone call to MAin 4622 will bring immediate help to the puzzled home canner. All services are free.

This year, there are many questions concerning canning with less sugar and the women on duty can help by giving suggestions for sirups made in a combination of corn sirup or honey along with the sugar and thus extend the sugar ration. The use of corn sirup can increase the amount of fruit you can put up with your sugar ration by one fourth.

Mrs. Charles J. Mick, chairman of Nutrition Volunteers, supervises the Canning Clinic which is staffed by Nutrition Volunteer members and members of the American Red Cross, all of whom are home economics graduates.

The services of the Canning Center were offered as a public service last year and opened this year by popular request of those who availed themselves of the service last year.

Tire Dealers Warned To Have Certificate Before Giving Tires

Tire dealers and distributors today were warned by OPA that under OPA regulations they "must have tire certificates in hand before releasing tires."

Robert A. Lang, district tire rationing officer, said there is a "growing practice" in the 34-county Columbus OPA district of dealers and distributors succumbing to "pressure" of arguments in which buyers declare "The board said I will get a certificate, but I need the tire now. I will bring the certificate in as soon as I get it."

In addition to violating OPA regulations, Mr. Lang said, persons yielding to such arguments also are endangering their tire stock since certificates must be presented for tire replacements.

Shoe Dealers To Provide Nation's Consumption Data

Future Rationing Will Depend On Nation-wide Survey

For the first time in history Uncle Sam soon will know how many shoes, national and unrationed, are available for his civilian nieces and nephews. The answer will be found when a complete inventory of the nation's stocks of footwear is made at the close of business this month. The survey has been requested by OPA.

An actual physical count of all shoes on hand, by type and in many cases by price ranges, is to be made by all persons selling shoes, including shoe manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, auctioneers and dealers in export or import trade.

This will form one of the basis for determining how many pairs of shoes can be allotted to the home front and what types of shoes can be removed from rationing, according to W. M. Charters, local rationing officer.

The United States entered 1945 with the lowest shoe stock in years—147 million pairs. In 1941 our shoe factories made 369 million pairs for civilians. Last year 44 per cent of the total cattle hides went for war purposes. Of the better grades of leather, an even higher per cent went to the military.

The shortage of civilian shoes stems directly from the war, Mr. Charters said. The average soldier in this country wears out two and one-half pairs of shoes a year. In the European theatre the rate was as high as one pair in five weeks. In the Pacific, because of the tropical climate and rugged jungle and coral reef conditions, soldiers often wear out a pair of heavy Army boots in three days. The Army combat boot uses about three and one-half times as much upper leather as the ordinary men's shoe.

Since November, 1943, shoes have been rationed at the rate of one new coupon every six months, except the last stamp—Airplane No. 3—which covered an eight-month period. The military demand for shoes is expected to be reduced to allow approximately 10½ million pairs to be added to civilian supplies during the latter part of the year. Airplane Stamp No. 4 in Book 3 will be good August 1.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

By O. H. Craft

Anyone who has not experienced failure is less likely to be able to cope with success.

Washington, D. C.—The Navy is vitally interested in seeing that mail is delivered to all the boys in the service. That which is properly and legibly addressed is quickly dispatched to its destination. Despite the hazards of war and weather, the Navy Mail Service has delivered letters to remote ships and stations with great efficiency. But—the mail must be addressed correctly.

Mail addressed to amphibious craft seems to give the most trouble. But if the sender addresses it properly the Navy will get it through. In the first place, there are at least ten different types of craft — LSD (Landing Ship, Dock); LSV (Landing Ship, Vehicle); LCI (Landing Craft, Infantry); LSM (Landing Ship, Medium); LCT (Landing Craft, Tank); LCS (Landing Craft, Support); and LCI (L) (Landing Craft, Infantry—for more personnel).

Each type may have hundreds of different units numbering from 1 to 600. LCI No. 442 may be operating in the Pacific, whereas LCT No. 442 may be in the Mediterranean. The letters "T" and "I" are often interchanged or are written so similarly that they are unreadable. If the "I" was mistaken for a "T," the letters would go far out of the way and the delay would easily be several weeks.

Some are still under the impression that the Navy has one vessel called LST and they address their mail to the USS LST, Fleet Post Office, San Francisco. This is just like addressing mail to Main Street, U.S.A.

In addressing Navy and Coast Guard personnel aboard ships, print, don't write, his full name, rank or rate; print the name of his ship, i.e., LST (Landing Ship, Tank) No. 442 (four four two); write out both designation and number. The last part of the address is either Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, or New York City.

Undelivered letters due to incomplete, incorrect, or illegible addresses amount to more than 5,000 a day at the Fleet Post Office, San Francisco. While the letters are undelivered a lot of lonely men are waiting and wondering why their mail isn't coming through.

The Navy has done a remarkable job in getting mail to its personnel in all parts of the world. In nearly every case, undelivered mail can be eliminated if the simple rules given above are followed.

Lightweights Can Now Go To Sea

Lightweights will be accepted for Maritime service apprentice seaman training according to an announcement by the regional enrolling office at Cleveland, Ohio, which stated that ten pounds was knocked off the minimum weight requirements for entrance to the service.

Prior to the new ruling, 130 pounds was the least a prospective seaman could weigh to qualify physically. Today if you're only 120 pounds and otherwise physically sound you can join up with the merchant marine.

2000 men between 17 and 50 years of age are currently being sought by the Maritime Service to train for duty aboard cargo ships carrying supplies to the Pacific theatre of war.

Applicants may apply to recruiting office at Cleveland or Cincinnati, Ohio.

PRINTING
Is a weapon for Victory . . .

Success, whether in War or in Business, is often separated from failure by the narrowest of margins. One more tank, one more plane, one more battleship may be the decisive factor in a crucial battle. One more advertisement, one more booklet, one more direct mail piece may spell the difference between success and failure in retaining your customers during the postwar battle of business competition. It is better, therefore, to err on the side of too much than too little. Remember, too, that your letterheads, invoices, and every other piece of printing bearing your name become an advertisement of importance. Contact us for successful printing!

POETRAIT OF AN UNKNOWN ARTIST

Don't breathe. A light of Rembrandt's by your head,
The wash of sleeping gold that wafts your hair,
This coronal of almost holy dread,
Seems more of loveliness than sight can bear.

Yet stay and let my eyes invite the thrust,
Then turn from you forever, if they must—
Since now they may adore you in my heart,
Transfigured by an art beyond my art.

VITAMINS

She baked the loaves and sunned the quilts;
She scrubbed each pan and bowl,
But failed to furnish calories
For his Bohemian soul.

He left her for a gypsy lass;
Now hand in hand they roam,
As fetterless and unafraid
They spurn an ordered home.

Sometimes a vision blurs his eyes—
He dreams of steak and apple pies.

INTERLUDE

Brief sniff of warm, unseasonable air,
Redolent of lilacs' fragile show,
Of golden-dusted dandelions, of bare
Young blades of corn, did you come but to go?
Ah, stay! For you remind me of a place
And time I had almost forgot. Now, here,
From this sad office-clutter you erase
Scenes wintry, and I seem to know another year;
For red barns streaked with age I think I see,
Leaning silos, a bridge across the brook,
Huddled cattle by the pasture's single tree—
All pinkly glimpsed through the mind's backward look.
Well, go! It is torment that you bring, yet
Something you leave more buoyant than regret.

M. E. Grenander, in POET LORE.

Serves on LST

In the picture above is Charles A. Hulls, Quartermaster 3/c, who is now serving on an LST somewhere in the Pacific. He served in the Leyte, Luson and Mindanao campaigns in the Philippines.

QM3/c Hulls entered the service on Jan. 18, 1944 and has been overseas 10 months. A student of West High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hulls, 3272 Wicklow-rd.

LOCUST BLOSSOM TIME

Sacred memories stir my heart
While sweetest perfume fills the air;
They bring a smile as teardrops start
For locust blossom time is here.

The joy of youth I live again
With unexplained desire I feel
Mixture of sweetness and of pain
That locust blossoms can reveal.

She loved their fragrance and I see
When trees are laden with fresh bloom,
My mother's hand, her loving smile—
A locust blossom-scented room.

Maggie Woody Stratton, former Hilltop resident. (Reprint)

AUNT SARAH'S GRAVE

Aunt Sarah fought dirt
Till her fingers hurt.
Her old hands scrubbed,
Her fingers rubbed
With soap and lye
While the years went by
With springtime buds.
She scattered suds,
Hung clothes on the line,
Her windows would shine,
Her dishes were done
But from sun to sun
She fought to be clean.
No speck could be seen
In kitchen or bedroom.
But dirt was her tomb.
They laid her deep
In dirt. Does she sleep
There in the ground
With dirt all around?

Raymond Kresensky, in EMBERS.

REBIRTH

Nothing is lost; wet lengths of pavement hold
A murky puddle which, when Greece was young,
Might have, for one sharp instant, caught the gleam
Of chisel raised, as smiling Phidias
Marked those brief moments of transition when Cold bronze became transfigured beneath his hand.

Dark pool, upon whose muddy surface float
Green dust of leaves, discarded rose, a scrap
Of tinselled paper, rubbish from the street;
Waters whose dismal shadows now reflect
Those self-same clustered constellations which Lighted the scroll of Sappho when she sat
Within the grove of Lesbos, stylus poised,
To etch in words love's changeless tapestries?

H. P. Stoddard. (Reprint.)

THEY MUST NOT KNOW

"And you?" the king said, "what will you do about it?
Will the old feasts and sacrifices go on and the oracle speak, as of old, the mind of the gods?
Or will you tell our people the truth about the perilous, terrible truth, to set them free?"

The high priest raised a weary, haggard face and looked long into the old king's stricken eyes—unutterably sad.
"The god's will speak," he said.
"The people must not know the gods are dead."

Clifford Gessler, in his book TROPIC EARTH.

ONE IS REMINDED

One is reminded of one's friends
(Whose morals one abuses)
While thinking of the books one lends,
And ultimately loses;
And also when, with loving looks,
One opens one's own cherished books,
And sees (in some) the quaint pothooks
Of Samuel's name or Susie's.

Richard R. Kirk, in THE STEPLADDER.

THE BEES WILL TELL

The bees will tell the clover,
The clover tell the grass
In words of yellow honey,
And tunes of sassafrass.

The grass will tell the little boy
As he goes whistling by,
But you and I will never hear
Who holds our heads so high.

Mae Winkler Goodman, in her book, FOAM AGAINST THE SKY.

"A Soldier's Letter"
Below is a letter a soldier sent home
Soon Dear Mother, I must start to roam,
Military secrets I'm not allowed to disclose
What those secrets are—nobody knows.
My eyes are excellent, I have good teeth,
Plenty of air overhead, and water underneath.
There'll be smoke on the water, they all declare,
On the ground, the air in the enemies' lair.
I may go East, North, South, I may go West,
All they request—is to do my best,
Here is one secret I am allowed to impart
We are going some place after we depart,
And wherever I go I will like to know
Two hundred above or two hundred below,
I've told all the news I'm allowed to write,
Hope you are well, Dear Mother—Good Night.

"TAKE-OFF" STUDIES SIMPLIFIED
New special cameras and analyzing instruments are now being used to determine the airplane speed, acceleration, ground distance, and flight paths required for safe "take-offs." Developed by the Civil Aeronautics Administration in cooperation with several companies, the new instruments have greatly decreased the element of human error. In the case of seaplanes or flying boats, where conditions prevent a precise location with respect to the path of flight, two sets of instruments, spaced up to 2,000 feet apart, are used.

Vol. XXIX, No. 12 | The Hilltop, Columbus 4, Ohio, Friday, August 3, 1945 | Total No. 1374

The best laid plans of men, etc, was again the old story as on of the big affairs of Columbus was literally washed out in Wednesday's thunder storm.

A good percentage of Hill toppers were among the rain-drenched onlookers to get a glimpse of the famed "Captain Eddie" . . . although the parade was out, the premiere of his show went ahead as scheduled with all the trimmings

Mrs Charles Koons, 309 S Harris-av, considers herself lucky to have been caught in the downpour . . . while she was getting wet a bolt of lightning demolished a chimney and left a hole in her bedroom roof

She says that things have been happening too fast to suit her lately. About three weeks ago her son, Pvt. Jack Koons, whom she thought was still in Germany, walked in unannounced for a 30-day furlough Things like this are enough to make a person just a little jumpy

A fire truck coming from the house in the bottoms was experiencing trouble in making the Broad-st hill in answer to a call from four houses on the Hilltop that were struck within 15 minutes. . .

It was funny to an onlooker, but not to the fire-eaters, as they rode the open truck with a solid sheet of rain threatening to wash them from their precarious positions . . . also there was too much water for the truck motor, which coughed and complained up the hill. It's the first time we have ever seen a fire engine using its siren and lights profusely to prevent being run over by mere automobiles . . .

OBJECTION EXPLAINED

We had a visit from one of the objectors to the Hilltop Community Council recreation drive, who stated that his chief complaint against a proposed skating rink in Westgate Park was a matter of inadequate supervision.

Forman W. Slager, 3122 Wicklow-rd, says that such an added attraction to the park will bring in a class of people that will be slightly reticent in leaving the park at a reasonable hour, thus bringing about loafing

Slager says that it will be up to the council or the city recreation department to see that proper supervision is provided, or the citizens who live adjacent to the park will have another problem to contend with.

And he might have something there . . .

SCENE OF THE WEEK

Were the four men who were riding in a moving van down Broad-st enjoying a game of cards as they rode . . . They had installed a regulation card table and chairs and even had their refreshments in sight

All that seemed to be missing was the bridge score pad

NO A CARD

Does a little lady over on S Roys-av need for her daily grocery trip . . . every morning she is noticed going north on Roys riding a bicycle equipped with a grocery basket, and trailing her is Junior holding tight to the sides of his wagon as it rattles along on the tow rope

ANOTHER COMEDIAN

City Playgrounds Need Help

Eager Children Gaze at Empty Glenwood Wading Pool With Broken Base

All previous attendance records for city playgrounds are being broken this year. An effort has been made to appeal to children of all walks of life and of all different tastes, with unprecedented success being accomplished

One of the greatest difficulties is the matter of procuring new playground equipment And this difficulty is not caused by lack of money, N. J. (Nick) Barack, recreation director, stated, but by the difficulty of obtaining materials and equipment

However, there is some hope that equipment may be available in the near future since the War Production Board has decided that recreation is a prime factor in reducing juvenile delinquency, and has decided to encourage construction of playgrounds and applications for playground and recreational facilities which do not involve the use of large quantities of material.

An outstanding example of this condition is the Glenwood Park wading pool. The concrete base is broken and crumpled and the supervisors have been forced to turn the water off

The children gaze wistfully at the useless pool and it is to be hoped that very soon repairs will be available for this and other parks and playgrounds

The broken condition of the pool constitutes a hazard to children playing about, since a fall on the crumpled concrete could be extremely dangerous

Westgate Citizens are 'Taken In' by Lawn Restorer Fraud

Transient Crew Escorted from Town After Paying $150 on No License Charge

At least three Hilltop home-owners fell victim to a lawn improvement fraud which was worked here last Wednesday and Thursday by a crew of fast talking characters with a load of worthless "Peat Humous."

John C. Corrigan, 32, Cleveland, Joseph Barrett, 37, Jersey City, N. J., and Frank Burns, 53, Brooklyn, N. Y., were fined $50 and costs in Police Court Friday on a charge of selling without a license.

Sgt. Edgar M. Butler, police license inspector, and his deputy, Patrolman Charles H. Johnson, arrested the trio on E. Gay-st Friday morning, where their truck was parked at a "dead" meter. They were booked on a suspicious person charge.

Phillips Taken

Questioning brought out the fact that the individuals were selling the "peat humous" to Columbus citizens, having worked the Westgate section the two previous nights. They named as one of their customers Sgt. Otto Phillips, 129 Powhatan-av, of the police detective bureau

According to Sgt. Butler, who had arrested Corrigan two years ago on the same charge in Cantonville, said that their product had been analyzed by Prof. Frank A. Salter of Ohio State University and found to be absolutely worthless.

He said that the men, who work mostly in the early evenings, find a bare spot in a lawn, then sell the owner on using their "high grade" restorer in large quantities at 75 cents to a dollar per bucket.

Production Line

The men organize into a carrier, spreader and supervisor, scattering buckets of "peat humous" all over the lawn in no time at all. Then when the customer finally gets them stopped, he is presented with a bill which some times runs into "three figures" he said.

After Corrigan, Burrett and Burns had paid their fines and had been escorted out of town by police, Mrs. George Kelly, 3292 Wicklow-rd, reported to police that she had paid $100 for a treatment to her front and back lawn.

She also reported that Dr. W. Duane Burnard, 240 Binns-blvd, had paid $10 for a like treatment, according to police. Mrs. Kelly had become suspicious when her check, made payable to an M. Miller, was cashed the same day and cleared the bank on the following day.

Muck and Sawdust

The material used by the men is said to be obtained in various places in Central Ohio, being mixed with sawdust to give it a resemblance to peat moss.

Sgt. Butler said that any further reports from victims would be filed for possible future charges against the men. Their photographs and fingerprints have been sent to the FBI, he said.

Mr. Rhoades had been ill and it is believed that he was stricken and died while wandering through the field

He is survived by a son, Lawrence, of the Eakin-rd address; a daughter, Mrs. Mina Stroup, of the Little-av address, a son, Harold, and a daughter, Mrs. Jessie Williams, both of Clarksburg, O.; and a son, Pvt James, Jr., with the army in the Philippines.

GOD HEALED HIM

★ "I dressed his wounds, and God healed him," was the modest statement of the great French physician, Paré. It was he who first insisted on cleanliness and fresh air for his patients.

These things now are accepted as the minimum essentials for health, although in the sixteenth century they were revolutionary. Medical science has traveled a long road since the days of Paré. Some diseases have been eliminated, others drastically curtailed. Given full co-operation, physicians could eradicate many of the infectious diseases still rampant today. It is up to you to take advantage of the knowledge your physician possesses.

Your prescriptions will be promptly and accurately filled.

Veterans' Bulletin Is "Best Seller"

The "best seller" among Ohio State University bulletins these days is the little booklet, "Opportunities for Veterans," prepared for service men and women contemplating study at Ohio State after their discharge.

According to university officials, thousands of requests have been arriving, many of them from overseas for this bulletin issued free by the Entrance Board.

With the end of hostilities in Europe, the number of such bulletin requests has increased greatly, the university reports.

Nearly a thousand discharged men are women are already on campus and another big group is expected in the fall, as a result of discharges now being made on the basis of points.

Dear Sir:

The seventh annual Shrine night baseball game for crippled children has come and gone. It was the most successful since its innuguration and drew a record breaking crowd of nearly 13,000 people.

We believe this success was due to the excellent publicity which the event obtained in the press and on the radio.

In that connection we wish to thank you very sincerely for any part you played in publicizing this great humane charitable event.

As potentate of Aladdin Temple and speaking for the more than 6700 Shriners and on behalf of the crippled children of all races, creed and color, I want to express our deep appreciation for this excellent cooperation.

Very truly yours,
JOHN H. SUMMERS,
Potentate

MORE HELLDIVERS
LESS KAMIKAZE

TAKE A JOB AT CURTISS-WRIGHT. Don't worry if you can't pronounce "Kamikaze." It's simply the Japanese word for "suicide pilots" who try to sink our ships by crashing into them. Most of them fail, but occasionally we suffer losses of men and planes such as in the recent attacks on the "Bunker Hill" and the "Ticonderoga."

If you take a job at Curtiss-Wright and help build more Helldiver dive bombers, losses from these attacks can be cut down. Helldiver pilots are doing a good job of picking off the Kamikaze planes in the air, liquidating their bases and wrecking the plants where they are made.

Curtiss-Wright needs men and women at once . . . experienced and inexperienced. Pay is good, working conditions unusually favorable. Inexperienced workers are paid during their few weeks of instruction at the Training School, held right at the plant. See the war through . . . get it over quicker . . . by working at Curtiss-Wright.

Sgt. Bowser has seen action for more than a year during his service overseas, and has completed 39 missions in low level combat in New Guinea and the Philippine Islands. Besides his decoration of the Air Medal, he was cited for his meritorious achievement for participating in aerial flight between October, 1944, and May, 1945. He also wears the Presidential Unit Citation and the Philippine Liberation Ribbon. S 'Sgt. Bowser entered the service in April 1943, and went overseas in March, 1944. He is now stationed somewhere in the South Pacific.

A brother, Pvt. Phil Bowser recently spent a two week furlough here with his parents. He is now stationed with the Army Replacement Tank Corps at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Lt. Rex Jones Has Narrow Escape In Jap Waters

Lt. Rexford Jones, 24, husband of Mrs. Catherine Jones, 267 Midland-av, had a narrow escape recently in the Pacific when he and another pilot and their rear gunners had just completed successful attacks on a Japanese warship and Lt. Jones radioed Hemby, a lieutenant from Vicksburg, Miss., that his bomb bay doors wouldn't close, a generator was out and his hydraulic fluid was gone.

A part of the fluid had run into the cockpit and had gotten into his eyes. Jones wanted to attempt a forced landing in the inland sea but Hemby talked the blinded pilot out of it. Lt. Hemby leading the way, the two airplanes climbed to 5,000 feet to clear a mountain range and then flew back over Japan in the direction of the task force.

Because of bad weather Hemby lost his friend and later had to fly turns in front of the curtailed ship so he could follow.

Lt. Rex Jones entered the service on Dec. 12, 1942. He is a graduate of West High School and attended Ohio State University. Rex is the son of City Patrolman and Mrs. Robert Jones, 592 Racine-av.

Lt. Jones, now safe aboard a carrier in the Pacific, is the father of a daughter, Lynn Dalee, born Saturday morning in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

In Transit

The old Spectator heading appears in this corner again this week after an absence of over two years. It was that long ago that yours truly left the finest spot in Ohio for duty with the Navy. And in this period I'm here to say it is fine to be back again even if for but this one week.

Next Tuesday should find me on my way westward by air for San Francisco and then to Pearl Harbor for further assignment out in the Pacific somewhere. Even this will be a welcome relief after having served in a Naval Air Station in Florida for the past 21 months. Both the heat and all the things that go into a training program become monotonous after so long a time.

Reunion

Outstanding event of the few days I have been at home has been the reunion with other Record employees, Homer Prince and Ed Busch who are on furlough after returning from Germany wearing Purple Hearts. I only regret that Chet Rinehart, Don Bailey and Bob Cavanaugh are not home yet. Chet and Bob should be arriving from Europe very shortly and latest word from Don on Luzon is that he has had 53 missions in B-24's over Formosa and the China Coast and is awaiting transportation back to Ohio.

Most regrettable incident of the war to date to this staff was the loss of former Record pressman John Adair on Luzon and our Greenfield Times pressman Bud Hill in a B-17 mission over Italy. Two fine friends and two in numerous stories for all time. We are indeed grateful that the others have been more fortunate and trust our luck will continue to hold out.

Nerve Wracking News

Since the big news of the powerful destruction brought to Japan by the atomic bomb on Monday, we have noticed a lack of enthusiasm or outward joy at the progress of the war or turn of events. It goes without saying that every American mother and father of sons still in the service are glad to learn of a possible early end of the war but at the same time there is an ever present feeling among us all that such a destructive force could easily have been or may yet be used by our enemies with the result that the whole future of the world is nothing more than an enormous question mark.

Likewise the entry of Russia in the war on Japan causes much comment and wonder.

Where we had one problem before the war began it appears that we will have a dozen even greater ones at its conclusion.

What is the answer, you ask? Who knows? Certainly no power on this earth can comprehend what lies ahead of us.

One thing is certain. Man's understanding of human nature and our abilities to get along with each other must be speeded up to meet and cope with the developments of science else man will bring about his own destruction.

Observations

Big times are ahead for the Hilltop it appears, with the vast expansion that is getting under way here . . . Westgate Methodist Church will break ground on their new building on Sunday . . . At least two other churches plan fine new buildings just as soon as conditions will make materials available . . . Add to building programs a new home for the Hilltop Record on the lot between Todd's and Shank & Saunder's which will house a much needed office for the paper as well as additional shop space . . . And out at Westgate and Broad, Morgan Murphy will be in a new service station ere too long . . . Finest thing we have run onto since getting back to good old Ohio has been corn and beans and large red ripe tomatoes . . . yep I like Florida oranges but still contend that there isn't a finer fruit than corn on the "bone" as my small daughter Patricia puts it . . . Sorry to leave a fine Hilltop boy down at DeLand, David Haines, who incidentally received orders as willingness to perform those little extra services that were above and beyond the call of duty.

Mr. Sebring resides at 226 Midland-av, with his wife and daughter, Mrs. Gordon Woodcox, and his small granddaughter, Janet, who is his pride and joy. He also has one son, Milton and his son-in-law, Gordon Woodcox, both with the U. S. Army overseas.

The following poem written by Mr. Fred Davis, 226 Clarendon-av, aptly expresses the feeling of the many friends and acquaintances he has made during his long years in the postal service:

TO AN OLD FRIEND

Thru summer and winter, thru snow and sleet,
For years and years and years,
Our Postman, on seemingly ageless feet—
Ignored Time's clipping shears,
And tirelessly, patiently day by day,
Perennially youthful, and blythe and gay,
Each morning and evening came down our way—
With joys and sighs and tears.

But friendships were formed on his daily rounds,
With the folks he came to know,
The grown-ups, the children, and even hounds,
Such friendships grow and grow.
And now in retirement, the longed for rest—
The wishes of friends who have known him best—
Are happiness, health and a long, long rest;
And hope that the years go slow.

Council, Presiding Judge Are Main Issues In Primaries

Koontz Represents Hilltop; Seeks First Elected Term

A light vote is expected in Tuesday's Municipal Election Primaries, with the most important issues being the nomination of six men for City Council and the six-year term of Presiding Judge of Municipal Court.

Koontz

Henry A. Koontz, local druggist, of 485 Hilltonia-av, will carry the Hilltop banner and is expected to be nominated for his first elected term. He was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Ray G. Hauntz.

Plugs Hilltop

Koontz has been active among the city fathers through his work as chairman of the legislative committee and as a member of the safety committee. Among other actions, he was instrumental in bringing the General Motors factory to the city, banning of swimming in the river and the extension and subsequent improvement of West Mound-st.

A strong factor in the council race will be Ralph O. Rannebarger, representing the Linden and Clintonville sections. He formerly lived at 445 Hilltonia-av for 15 years.

Another newcomer to the council scene is Attorney William H. Brooks, a veteran county government employee.

Two Experienced Men

Seeking the Republican nomination for Presiding Judge of the Municipal Court, a six-year term, is the incumbent, John M. Matthias, who was appointed to that office in January of this year by former Governor John W. Bricker.

Opposing Judge Matthias is Col. Kenneth Little, veteran of both World Wars in the Army, who has practiced law since 1908, during which time he has held positions as City Attorney, Chief Deputy of Probate Court and Prosecuting Attorney.

Joan Jackson Hurt In Auto Collision

Joan Jackson, 14, of 257 S. Terrace-av, was injured Tuesday night when the auto in which she was riding figured in a collision at Terrace-av and Mound-st. Helen Mahn, 231 Deshler-av, was the driver of one car, while Mary Hemmer, 390½ Linwood-av, was the driver of the other, police said.

Miss Jackson suffered a possible fracture of the right collarbone. She was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Young Is Named As West High Principal

Formerly Principal of East High; Kern and Bachmeyer to Remain

A long awaited answer to the question of who would be the principal of West Junior and Senior High Schools was given to West Side parents Tuesday as the Columbus Board of Education approved Supt. George E. Roudebush's naming of Irvin P. Young, former principal of East High, to the post.

Young, very successful for the past two years at the east end school, will succeed the late Dr. H. H. Reighley as the head of both junior and senior schools. Mr. Young, who lives at 155 S. Stanwood-av, is a graduate of Capital University and received his masters degree from Ohio State University.

Succeeding Young at East will be Austin Besancon, principal of Everett Junior High for the past four years.

Lengthy Search

A concentrated search for the new principal has been going on between Roudebush and the board of education all summer. It is understood that several members of the present faculty were considered. Also that the possibility of attempting to obtain former faculty members from the armed forces had been considered.

Blanche Kern and Ruth Bachmeyer, vice-principals of West Senior and West Junior High Schools, respectively, will remain in their position as they did during the period that Dr. Reighley was principal.

Young is the third principal that West High has had in the past 30 years. Otto Mogley had served for 25 years prior to the late Dr. Reighley.

The altar of St. Aloysius Church was decorated with white gladioli, fern and candles for the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Ruth T. Gardine and 1st Lt. Donald McCall. The Rev. Father Maloney officiated at the ceremony, which took place on Monday morning, July 30 at nine o'clock.

The new Mrs. McCall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gardine, 243 Belvidere-av, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert Woerner, as matron of honor. Mr. Paul McCall, brother of the bridegroom served as best man.

For her wedding the bride was attired in a suit of dove grey, with which she wore a white hat and white accessories. A corsage of lavender orchids completed her ensemble. Mrs. Woerner's suit was of lime green, with white accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held for members of the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents. A reception was held later in the evening.

Lt. McCall of the Army Air Force returned recently from the European theatre of war. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCall, of Johnston, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. McCall will make their home in Miami Beach, Fla., where the bridegroom will report for further assignment in the near future.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. James Cahill, of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCall, and Mrs. George Germain of Detroit, Mich.

David Galloway Rides Behind Dog

David Galloway, 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Galloway, 191 Haldy-av, is not at all concerned about gasoline rationing. He is not even interested in horses.

He does his travelling in a cart pulled by his pet bulldog, "Roxy." Every morning the animal takes his small master out for fresh air. He is so well trained that he starts, stops and turns, walks and trots to a spoken command.

"Roxy" is an old hand at this business of minding babies. David's brother, Jack, 9 years old, was one of the dog's first passengers.

Originally the dog was part of a team trained by Mr. Galloway about ten years ago. "Spoof," the other half of the team died three years ago and since that time "Roxy" has had his young master all to himself.

"DILLINGER" AT WESTMONT

As entertainment of a particularly absorbing nature, "Dillinger" is one of the most successful motion pictures of the current season. This exciting film which opens its engagement at the Westmont Theatre, Friday, might almost be called the picture of an era, since it deals with the rampant gangsterism of ten years, as exemplified particularly in the career of John Dillinger, one of the most spectacular outlaws in the history of the United States, and classified by the FBI until his death as Public Enemy No. 1.

Lawrence Tierney, a comparative "unknown" on the screen and selected partly for that very reason, plays the role of Dillinger, and brings to its characterization a very definite quality of reckless daring and ruthless cruelty.

Edmund Lowe, Anne Jeffreys, Elisha Cook, Jr., and Ralph Lewis all are members of Dillinger gang. The colorful story of Dillinger's exploits thrilling in the extreme, closely follows the actual events of his life of crime.

"You're In The Army Now," starring Jimmy Durante and Jane Wyman is the second hit of the above double bill.

I was leaving to be transferred to Cecil Field in Florida for his second dose of training as an aircrewman . . . Was a visitor at the Kiwanis meeting last week and must say they show that some old spirit that has always made the Hilltop famous . . . Note that the big Chicago Tribune takes a crack at the navy's attempt to publish a newspaper for the boys, saying it will be like the Stars and Stripes, which in their estimation was a thing of the Communists . . . well our experience with service newspapers has been that a good paper is about the best morale builder that welfare funds can buy . . . So much for the present and here's hoping The Spectator will be back in this corner for good in the not too distant future.

Congratulations Pop

Record manager Joe Agee became the proud papa of a baby daughter on Wednesday evening at White Cross Hospital. Mrs. Agee as well as pop is doing nicely. Rumor has it that Joe is looking for 25 cent cigars but if he can't find them will do the same thing Lee Koontz did last week . . . just print a 25c sign and paste over the 5c label on the box.

Howard Ingles Is Expected Home For 45 Days From Pacific

Sgt. Ingles

Mr. and Mrs. John Ingles, 77 Clarendon-av, have received word that their son, T/Sgt. Howard C. Ingles, is somewhere on the Pacific homeward bound for a 45-day furlough.

Sgt. Ingles has been in the service 38 months and 34 of which he has spent on various Pacific islands.

On Guadalcanal

For the past two years he has been stationed on Guadalcanal. He is a radio operator.

Ingles just returned to the island from a 30-day furlough in New Zealand. There, he stayed with Mr. and Mrs. E. Jackson, a family he met when he was located there three years ago. He wrote his mother he had a wonderful time, with his breakfast served in bed each morning and three beautiful girls to kiss him goodnight.

When his furlough home is over, Sgt. Ingles will return to Guadalcanal. Many parties are being planned in his honor and Mr. and Mrs. Ingles have a large flag in readiness to hang out during his home stay.

Nephews Ready With Sign

His two little nephews, Pat and Kenneth Martindale are busy building "Welcome Home, Howie," signs for the lawn. He has two nieces to see for the first time, Joan and Jean Ingles, daughters of his brother, Morris.

Poem Carried Overseas

When Howard first went overseas, his mother composed and dedicated the following poem to him, which he has carried thousands of miles and as he says, has read millions of times.

WISHING
I wish I had an Aladdin lamp;
Its mysteries to unfold
I wouldn't wish for idle things
Nor would I wish for gold.
I'd rub that lamp with abated breath
(My son's across the sea)
And wait, and hope, with faith supreme,
That he'd return to me.

Juvenile Programs Seen As Solution to Vandalism

Certain city youngsters who find it so difficult to find entertainment for themselves these summer days that they are turning to vandalism and petty destruction of property might view with good advantage the efforts of a couple of Hilltop youngsters.

Robin Crispin, 12, 655 Hilltonia-av, and Ronald Gross, 11, 576 Hilltonia-av, organized an old-time carnival for the amusement of children of the neighborhood. Using pup tents, packing crates, ingenious home made devices, and lots of imagination, they turned a vacant lot into an amusement park midway.

Profitable, Too

Admission was free, but the various concessions cost the customers, prices ranging from one cent to a dime. The boys proudly state that they made money and plan to have an even bigger and better carnival next year.

Vandalism in the city has become so serious that Mayor Rhodes called a meeting of child welfare groups yesterday, to formulate some plans for checking the orgy of destruction that seems to have struck the city.

Smashed windows and locks on doors of shelter houses, stolen equipment, broken water faucets, and shingles pulled off park buildings are among the acts of vandalism reported.

Materials Lacking

Juvenile officials dislike to bring children into court for these acts and wherever possible, they contact the parents of the child and try to induce them to take such steps as are necessary to halt the destruction. If such children are brought into court, it gives them a record which is hard to live down in the future.

However, the situation has become serious because of the lack of materials for repairs on equipment, to say nothing of the money involved, or the difficulty in obtaining new parts in these days of war shortages.

It is to be hoped some method will be evolved to overcome the problem, possibly with the co-operation of the parents, which will make these ill-advised children realize that they are heading for serious trouble if their depredations are not halted.

"The Corrall," where the Teen Age Canteeners of Schonthal Center hold their dances has a membership of 108 boys and girls. Schonthal Center is a Community War Chest agency.

IN BOOT TRAINING

Albert Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watts, 208 Demorest-rd, is taking his recruit Naval training at Great Lakes, Ill. He enlisted in the Navy in May prior to his graduation from West High School.

— Letters — To the Editor

I wish to take this opportunity to express my most sincere thanks to the neighbors, friends and patrons who so generously rewarded me for the service I rendered them in the past few years as their letter carrier. If my services merited the lovely gifts I received and I can leave the mail service with the esteem and respect of the people on the route, I can lay the mail sack aside with real pleasure and pride. It gives you the feeling that your efforts have not been in vain when those whom you have served through a period of years think enough of you to reward you so generously.

I want to especially thank the ladies who gave of their time and energy to make my retirement such a grand surprise and success.

I also wish to thank Mr. Fred Davis of 226 Clarendon-av for the kind words of the poem he composed, which was read at the time of the presentation.

Again please let me express my thanks to each one who so generously contributed to the lovely gift of money I received.

Respectfully,
Ivan E. Sebring,
Your Retired Letter Carrier

Mrs. Fox was the former Margaret Fletcher, who was employed at the First Federal Building and Loan Co. on W. Broad-st before her marriage.

Both Capt. and Mrs. Fox are graduates of West High School.

The new arrival has been named Thomas Thurman Fox. He weighs 7 pounds, five ounces. He and his mother are at the home of Capt. Fox's parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Fox, 25 S. Brinker-av.

White's Undergoes Refinishing

The new White's Furniture Store, 635 W. Broad-st, has been undergoing a complete refurbishing, inside and out, and the net result is a store that is prone to catch the eye of the passerby. Painted in pure white, with black trimming on the doors and windows and the word "White's" in enormous white letters on a black background, the building is outstanding.

Inside, fluorescent lighting has been installed over the entire building. The twenty-eight rooms comprising the 40,000 square feet of floor space have been painted and refinished completely, and a new line of furnishings for the home is displayed to the best advantage.

Being out of the downtown high rent district, high quality furniture is shown in this modern store at lower prices.

The present owners purchased the store nine months ago from D. E. Jacques, 74 S. Terrace-av, who for a number of years operated the Jacques Furniture Store at this spot. Since that time, $15,000 has been spent on the building.

MODERN POETRY

IN PASSING

I met you on a crowded thoroughfare
And oh, your smile
Lent Mercury's winged sandals to my feet
For many a mile.
I walked, rejoicing, from my tryst with you,
My dear, my sweet;
Can lovers share a safer rendezvous

Beatrice Allison, in AMERICAN WEAVE.

A PATH ALONE

Take up the dark
with the mind's strongest claw humble your eyes to the lightless arc
And know what death is in the toothless jaw.

Absorb the gloom
to the core of your despair let your anguish stumble in that room
Until it makes the stair.
Seize only the bone of the fundamental sight
then come out alone
And know the meaning of light.

J. Calder Joseph, in POETRY.

GOD'S MASTERPIECE

God made the mountain and the sea,
And He alone can make a tree.
The twinkling stars, the moon and sun,
God, our Father, made each one;
His are the rainbow and the shower,
The fleecy cloud and lovely flower;
He gave us the birds' sweet song of delight
And the glorious sunset that brings on the night;
But of all His wonderful plan,
God's great masterpiece is man!

SPRING COMES WITH THIS HOUR

This is the end, and this is the beginning.
Blue grey the bend of the hills, and the spinning
Earth all nacreous height, above its breadth of white.
Vacant the nests, and vocal with waiting
Feathery breasts, with their vibrancy freighting
Earth with color and song—it has been in want of long.

This is the balance, the delicate hour.
Slumberous creatures awaken: each flower
Quivers its exquisite loveliness, with earth's caress.

This is the end, and this the beginning.
Blue grey the bend of the hills, and the spinning
Earth all nacreous height, above its breadth of white.

"Concessions"

America must use all natural Resources
Or suffer overpopulation.
Crowded cities are breeders of divorces
Divorces can ruin a nation.
We must use all our idle possessions
If we'd help a falling brother,
Grant the industrious liberal concessions
Or soon ambition we'll smother.

Concessions in every country estate
Similar to the West when new,
Put a limit on the amount we allocate
Usurpation to subdue.
I especially refer to idle soldiers
Help them to be pioneers,
Help them build a throne of their
We have millions of frontiers.

. . . HENRY F. LYTE . . .

Abide with me! fast falls the eventide,
The darkness deepens; Lord, with me abide!
When other helpers fail, and comforts flee,
Help of the helpless, O, abide with me!

Little Stories of GREAT HYMNS

Henry F. Lyte was a clergyman with remarkable literary gifts. Poor health compelled him to give up his pastorate. He preached his farewell sermon, and, discouraged, went down to his beloved ocean and prayed for inspiration to write something that would live. As evening was closing, he wrote this immortal hymn.

Enjoys Food At Hotel In Austria

Pfc. Moore

Pfc. Firman E. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moore, 446 S. Hague-av, is connected with headquarters in the 42nd Rainbow Division with an anti-tank company as a clerk with the personnel section.

Food Is Excellent

His division is located at a large hotel at Hofgastein, Austria, with living quarters and offices in the same building. Hofgastein is a winter resort, known for its radium mineral water baths and the finest skiing in that part of the country. He has written home several times and said the food at the hotel is excellent. Fat chicken, baked ham and all the ice cream they want to eat.

This division is the first to reach and liberate Lechfeld, a German prison camp close to the Austrian border. Furstenberg Pfc Moore said his squadron was credited with destroying three gun nests.

Missing For Three Days

Around the first of April, Pfc. Moore was listed missing in action for three days. It was believed they had gone over the German lines after the battle in Munich.

Moore went through six countries before crossing the Rhine. He will be stationed in Austria with the occupation forces.

Pvt. Moore wears the ETO ribbon with two battle stars and the combat infantryman's badge. He entered the Army in August, 1944, and left Camp Meade, Md., on Jan. 8, 1945, and went into action on Feb. 17.

Transferred To Clerk In Personnel Section At Halle, Germany

Pfc. Shaw

Pfc. Kenneth R. Shaw, who served as a machine gunner with the 1st Armored Division of the 5th Army in northern Italy, has been transferred to a clerk in the Unit Personnel Section and is a member of the Army of Occupation, stationed at Halle Germany.

Pfc. Shaw has two battle stars and has received the Combat Infantryman badge. He has served overseas since last October.

Prior to his entering the service, Kenneth was a prominent bowler in the Hilltop Bowling Leagues. His wife, Doris, son and daughter, reside with his mother, Mrs. Nellie Boyer, at 66 S. Central-av. Both Pfc. Shaw and his wife graduated in the class of 1935 at West High School.

Two Are Awarded Bronze Star Medal

Pfc. Robert Lorimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lorimer, 517 Columbian-av, has been awarded the Bronze Star for military operations against an enemy of the United States near Kapfelberg, Germany, on April 26, 1945. "Entangling Alliances"

True Americans despise aristocracy
Cater to no class nor clan;
John Bull has no use for democracy
Invest their power in one man
One man his cronies and relations
Called the upper classes,
Brazenly ignore human obligations
To the poor working masses.

Jefferson must turn over in his grave
At the way we change courses,
Lease-lending to those who will not save
Only for foxes, hounds and horses.
It is time true Americans should awake
Use our skill on home appliances,
For our children and their children's sake
Avoid foreign entangling alliances.

YOU CAN HELP PUT THEM TOGETHER...

Here is the Curtiss Helldiver dive bomber shown in its 27 major sections. More than 45,000 individual parts must be assembled to make the complete Helldiver.

More men and women are needed at Curtiss-Wright to put these parts together so our fighting men in the Pacific will be better able to nip the Nips quicker and get home sooner.

If you're handy with tools and machinery, so much the better. If you're inexperienced, a few weeks, with pay, at the Training School at the plant will show you how to assemble like an old-timer. Pay is good, working conditions ideal. Above all, you make a contribution to a speedier Victory that you will be proud of all your years to come.

Three Divisions Of Boys and Girls To Participate

City recreation director Nick Barack announced Saturday that a city-wide playground foul shooting tournament will be held at each of the city playgrounds starting Monday and concluding on Aug. 23.

The event will be held in three divisions, a junior division for those between 9 and 13 years of age, inclusive; an intermediate division for those 14 to 16 and a senior division for those 17 to 18. There will be three divisions each for boys and girls.

Champ to be Crowned

A city finals will be held, probably at a centrally located spot, when the playground champions are determined. City champions in each division will then be crowned. This will be held the week of Aug. 26.

A city champion will then be determined for boys and girls. Scores compiled in the tournament will be used, with a shoot-off in case of ties.

Installation of basket ball equipment is in process of being installed at all of the city's 28 playgrounds, Mr. Barack stated, in order that contestants may start their practice at once.

Prizes will be awarded playground division champions and city-wide winners. Entries will be made at each playground.

In the Rough

By the Roughest

Two weeks ago the Women's District Golf Tournament was held at the University Golf Course.

Mrs. John N. Cross, wife of Dr. John Cross, 2560 W. Broad-st, was the only Hilltop lady in the qualifying matches. In her first flight she had a 98. Mrs. Cross then drew another lady that had qualified and she was then defeated.

This defeat put Mrs. Cross in the consolation flight. In her first match she played beautiful golf to defeat her opponent, Bunny Randolph. In the next flight she drew a Mrs. Goldberg, veteran golfer, and was defeated.

While this was going on Mrs. Cross' son, Gun, who is an up and coming young Hilltop golfer, qualified with an 82 in the Mayor Rhodes Junior Tournament, and had the misfortune to draw the medalist of the qualifying round, Jim Mawhirter, and was eliminated.

As this was their first tournament, they deserve a lot of credit for their good showing.

On Beacon Light Golf Course an old face is showing up regular again, and that is Erv Friend.

Erv has been on the patient list for some time due to an operation, but he is really getting back into the harness. To prove it he came through Sunday with the lowest score on the course, a 77.

Behind Erv came that Hilltop milk man, Carl Richards, with a 79, also R. J. Hyatt, with an 84, and Squire Lewis with an 86.

Buddies Apart Since High School Days, Home On Furloughs

Buddies who graduated from West High School together and have served overseas are now home on furloughs. They are Pfc. Raymond Barr, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barr, 109 S. Sylvan-av, and Cpl. Howard Lamprecht, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lamprecht, 350 S. Wayne-av.

In Six Countries

Pfc. Barr has served in France, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Luxembourg, and Belgium with the 7th Army.

He wears the Good Conduct Medal and the ETO ribbon and was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds he received at the Moselle crossing. On Christmas, Pfc. Barr was in a hospital in Luxembourg.

Served Mostly In Iran

Cpl. Lamprecht is serving with the 791st Railway Battalion. He has served at Pearl Harbor and in New Zealand, Australia, India, Iran, Iraq, Palestine, Egypt, and Spain.

Most of his overseas service Cpl. Lamprecht has spent in Iran. He stated the climate is hot and that the country was full of disease.

He entered the service on Nov. 2, 1942, and went overseas on Dec. 7, 1942.

STOLEN ON BUS

Michael Hans, 197 S. Belle-st, reported to police that his billfold was stolen from his pocket on a Broad-st bus last Friday.

It contained $210 in cash and 22 B gasoline coupons issued him by the OPA to drive to Key West, Fla., where he expected to go for his health, he said.

Army Meets The Navy As Buddies Hit Philippines

Celebrations were in order a few weeks ago when two Hilltop buddies met in the Philippines.

Charles Graul and Dean Howell live near each other and were pals at West High School and at vacation time so when they met unexpectedly they had a lot to talk about.

Graul

There are three other Hilltop boys near Charles but this is the first time in nine months that Dean has met one of his friends.

Cpl. Charles R. Graul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Graul, 41 N. Harris, joined the Army Feb. 10, 1943, just ten days after Dean Howell BM2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Howell, 240 N. Harris-av, had joined the Navy.

Charles was last home in September 1943, and Dean was home in April 1944.

Vet of 13 Months Overseas Is Home

Pfc. Paul E. Wilkinson, 32, was recently home on a short furlough to be present at his mother's burial services on July 10. She had been ill for a long time.

Pfc. Wilkinson is a veteran of 13 months overseas and wears four campaign stars, two of which he participated in the battles of Luxembourg and St. Lo.

He entered the service on Aug. 28, 1942, and went overseas in June, 1944. In November, Wilkinson was sent back from the front lines to England and then sent to Paris for a rest. He worked as an inspector in a Ford plant in Paris, to repair machinery on tanks. Here he was attached to the Comsey unit.

Before his entry into the Army, he was graduated from Central High School and worked at Curtiss-Wright. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wilkinson, 643 S. Burgess-av.

Martha Circle Meets With Mrs. Elder

The Martha Circle of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church will meet at the home of Mrs. K. M. Elder, 110 Southampton-av, Tuesday, August 14, for their annual picnic.

Each member is asked to bring a covered dish, sandwiches and table service. The dessert and drink will be furnished by the committee, Mrs. K. M. Elder, Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Charles Buchsieb.

Mrs. Donald Dewhurst is chairman of the circle.

Promoted to Corporal

Pfc. Richard C. Bolen, 58 N. Oakley-av, has been promoted to corporal at the General Hospital at Myitkyina, Burma. He also has been chosen as the non-commissioned officer in charge of motor transportation.

His unit was the first general hospital to be organized in Burma which was set up in a wrecked British resort town. Cpl. Bolen has served overseas 20 months, including 12 months in the S. Pacific Theatre.

Instructor In Florida Is Commended

Richard W. Johnston, chief radioman in the Navy was recently presented with a letter of commendation from the commanding officer of the U. S. S. San Jacinto, for "excellent performance of duty" while aboard that carrier during the "Battle for Leyte Gulf."

The commendation reads, in part, as follows: "When you realized that the communication facilities in this vessel were going to be taxed to the limit on the eve of a major engagement, your keen foresight and resourcefulness in the installation of additional radio equipment enabled your ship to receive reports on the enemy fleet and relay same to the task force commander. This information was of vital importance and had not been previously received in the flagship."

The commendation was presented by Capt. Van Swearingen, acting captain of the Pacific Fleet Schools where Chief Johnston is now instructing. Chief Johnston participated in seven major invasions while aboard the U. S. S. San Jacinto before being transferred to the Pacific Fleet Schools.

Chief Johnston graduated from West High School in 1938 and joined the Navy that same year.

Mrs. Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Albery, 854 S. Richardson-av, is at present residing in Coral Gables, Fla., with Mr. Johnston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Johnston, formerly of this city.

Hilltop Noisily Celebrates War's End

Final victory was celebrated on the Hilltop Tuesday night in a joyous and noise-making manner by most, while some just lined the streets and looked on with a feeling of awe at the spontaneous celebration of a people realizing that they were at long last out of the dreaded conflict.

After the presidential announcement was made at 7:00 p. m. Broad-st was soon lined by residents of the nearby area who sensed the coming blow-off.

Head Downtown

Cars were raced onto Broad-st headed for the area of Broad and High with their horns blowing. It took the second shift at Curtiss-Wright just 10 minutes to empty, and then those workers were headed West on Broad-st with the same amount of noise.

Added to the din of automobile horns and shouting was a new wrinkle in noise-making. Patterned after the "just married" custom, several youngsters came by on bicycles with empty gallon cans tied to their rear.

This almost brought an accident to one of the youngsters when his can bounced in front of his bike, causing him to run over it. Luckily he kept his balance as an automobile was speeding along directly in back of him.

Anything Goes

As an example of the "everything goes" attitude prevailing was an incident at the corner of Broad-st and Eureka-av, when a light changed to red in front of two speeding cars. The first one made the stop but the second crashed into the rear of the first. A husky individual stepped out of the leading car, lifted the bumper and allowed the offending car to back free, then laughed and waved to the other driver as he again entered the stream of down-town headed traffic.

Wednesday was more in the order of any recognized legal holiday as all Hilltop business, including groceries, restaurants, drug stores, etc., failed to open their doors at all.

Stations Jammed

A mad rush by travel-hungry motorists was made for the few open service stations Wednesday as the announcement was made of the lifting of gasoline rationing. In some instances cars were lined up 20 deep in front of the pumps, with their drivers saying "fill 'er up," with the uneasiness of a boy asking for two tickets for a show on his first such an occasion.

Everybody Shares

Housewives were all excited over the announcement of the cancelling of all blue-point rationing, and also concerned over the length of red-point regulation.

Closing of local groceries without warning brought about a drastically limited diet for those who had not stocked up earlier in the week. One woman shouted to her neighbor that she didn't have a slice of bread in the house, being given the answer that she could go old-fashioned and make up some hot biscuits.

What's the Future?

The announcement by Curtiss-Wright officials to the effect that employees were through work until called at an indefinite date, plus lifting of all regulations on man-power came as a sudden and sobering thought to many a local citizen Wednesday as he was faced with a period of vocational uncertainty.

During the Tuesday evening celebration, a sad note was struck by an on-looker with the following statement: "It is too bad that this couldn't have come much sooner, so that many more people would feel like celebrating."

Remark of the Week

"It's hard to tell which is the most dangerous . . . the war or the celebration".

TIMES CHANGE

The end of the war with the slant-eyed citizens of the land of the sinking sun will undoubtedly bring about one of the greatest upheavals in the employment setup that history can remember.

All during the war time control of manpower period, with its tremendous government employment and competitive bidding for the services of what was left, steady employment was just a question of what hours were wanted, and what pay the employer could stand.

Now comes the swing of the pendulum to the other side of the clock as what were once war plants with a cost-plus spending budget go back to price competition. And most of these plants will have a lay-off period of varied length before the change-over is brought about.

This will all effect an improved interest in their work by the employee and for those who don't happen to catch a commercial situation right away, it will mean a period of unemployment which may make quite a dent in the pocketbook.

The announced closing of the local Curtiss-Wright plant is a good example, as some 16,000 people are left stranded for an indefinite period. Smaller plants in the Columbus area will go through the same thing as all war production, except for experimental purposes, has been stopped.

The employer without government orders through the past hectic period has been taking it on the chin and may be slightly anxious to dish it out for a change. However, this policy toward employees would not result in a good relationship program which is essential for any business at any time.

GO IN AS WAR ENDS

Five Hilltop men couldn't see the sense in what happened to them on Tuesday; the last day of the war . . . they were taken to Ft. Hayes for induction into the armed forces . . . "for the duration and six months".

With no duration left, maybe they will do the six-month stretch . . . they were: Ralph Brown, 18, 280 Binns-blvd; Carl Morrow, 20, 2774½ W. Broad-st; Charles M. Hessinger, 28, 468 S. Ogden-av; Phillip O'Hara, 29, 129 Letchworth-av, and Glenn Butters, 25, 2183 Safford-av. O'Harra and Hessinger, only married men in the group, have one and two children, respectively.

IT'S DIFFERENT

Report that Lt. George T. Tarbutton, 2917 Crescent-dr, has saved the government $500,000 in stolen property recovered is a far different cry from the waste that we have been used to hearing about.

Lt. Tarbutton is chief agent of the Criminal Investigation Division of the Allied Military Government in the Rome, Italy area.

HERE AND THERE

We understand that Mark Seiller is doing quite well with his fishing up at Lakeside on Lake Erie. Mark has been spending the summer there and has had time to figure out all of the angles to angling . . .

Koontz Is Nominated For Fall Council Race

Polls Second Highest Total In Very Quiet Primary

In Tuesday's primary election, completely overshadowed by peace news, Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, won the right to represent the Hilltop as city councilman in the Nov. 6 election.

Koontz polled the second highest number of votes in the group of six men nominated for council. He garnered a total of 8453, headed only by Joseph R. Jones, another Republican, with 8591.

Others nominated for council competition this fall were Dr. O. J. Fillinger, Peter Kinnear, Charles Harcourt and William H. Brooks.

Finally Nominated

Harcourt is the independent of the group who always runs, but has yet to be elected.

In the only other primary contest, Judge John M. Matthias defeated Col. Kenneth Little for the Republican nomination for Presiding Judge of the Municipal Court by 7402 to 1580. This office is good for a six-year term.

Seiller's Clearance Today and Saturday

The first big clearance of the post-war era begins Friday, Aug. 17 at Seiller's. A colorful array of bargains are being featured for the occasion. With the possibility of hard to get merchandise becoming available with not too great a delay, stocks are being reduced to a minimum.

Doors will open at 9:30 a. m. and the early birds will get the pick of the merchandise. A courteous, efficient staff of clerks will be glad to assist in every way with all purchases, it was announced by the management.

Lt. Ansel is Discharged After Battling with Paratroops

1st Lt. George C. Ansel, 153 N. Oakley, received his discharge from the Army on Tuesday evening and will be classified in an inactive status. He was inducted into the Army on Mar. 26, 1941, and received his commission as second lieutenant on April 1, 1943.

Lt. Ansel volunteered for the paratroops and went overseas in October, 1944, with a tank destroyer unit of the 507th Battalion.

Fighting Christmas

He flew from England on to Belgium and was fighting on Christmas Day. At the time of the bulge in Belgium, Lt. Ansel was hit on Jan. 7, by a German machine gun, while he was on night patrol. He was carried back two miles to a first aid station and hospitalized until Mar. 10.

The first of April he was taken to England and worked in the Military Intelligence Dept. and on July 23, he returned to the states in a C-56, and arrived at Indiantown Gap, Pa.

Many Decorations

Lt. Ansel was awarded the Purple Heart, Bronze Star, ETO ribbon, and the Pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon. He is the son of "Cap" Ansel and Mrs. Edna Ansel, at the Oakley-av address.

He was graduated from Aquinas High School in 1937 and was employed at the Ault and Wiborg Paints and Varnishes in Cincinnati before entering the service.

McPherson Wins "Mumble Peg" Contest at Park

A "mumble peg" contest was held at Holton Park last Friday afternoon. Bill McPherson walked off with first prize, Jimmy Hyatt, second and and John Hallam third in the boys' division. In the girls' division, Deanne Reed, was first, Mona Sue Gary, second and Evelyn Wharton third.

Tommy Stone is still leading the paper drive with 1624 tounds. Jimmy Johnson has 708 pounds and Janet Hickman 685 pounds. Altogether the park has about 6000 pounds of paper to its credit.

The "foul shooting" tournament started Monday, August 13. Persons between the ages of nine and 18 may enter. They may practice at any time they wish, before throwing for the tournament. Prizes will be awarded to each park champion, as well as to the city champion.

Attempted Holdup

William Siebert, 215 N. Burgess-av, reported an attempted hold-up to police Wednesday.

Mr. Siebert, operator of a bus, told police a man stepped from a clump of weeds as he stopped to change the trolley on the bus at the end of the line, Mt. Vernon and Greenway-aves, and demanded that he and the one passenger in the bus hand over their money.

When they denied they had any the man ran. Police are seeking the would-be bad man.

MONEY TAKEN FROM TRUCK

R. C. Glass, 172 Guernsey-av, reported to police that $37 was stolen from his truck, parked at Long and 20th-st. Wednesday.

Cowboy Football Starts At Magley Field Monday

Four Fast Backs and Two Linemen Among Those Returning

The 1945 football season will be officially started at West High School Monday evening as over a hundred hopeful athletes are expected to answer the call of Coach Dale Rose to the training grind.

All boys who are students of the three upper grades and are interested in playing football are requested to be present at the first practice session in order to absorb all of the training program.

Practice sessions will be held at 6:00 p. m. nightly during the first week then will be held twice daily at 9:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. until school starts, according to Coach Rose.

Fast Backfield

Six lettermen will form a nucleus for this year's Cowboy squad. They are: Walter Dean, Dick Slager, Bill Smith and Bruno Masdea, all backs; Jack Buckingham, an end, and Bill Eckle, tackle.

Slager, all-city quarterback on last year's second-place team, will be the spark-plug of a backfield which has all the speed and power of three major sports. The other three are all sprint men from West's track squad.

New Line Needed

The loss of linemen like Virgil Crawford, Sam Estell, Donn Haines and Buchanan, who were more than a match for any team they played during their 10-game schedule last year, will necessitate the building of an entirely new forward wall by Coaches Rose and Pemberton.

First scheduled game of the season will see the Cowboys at Springfield on Friday, Sept. 14, where they hope to repeat last year's 38-6 upset. Coach Morgan Jones' Wildcats are reported to be an improved squad this year, however.

Westway Post To Entertain Service Men

Service men of World War II are invited to be present with their friends at the Westway Post and Auxiliary open meeting to be held at the V.F.W. headquarters, 2393½ West Broad-st, on Tuesday evening, Aug. 21, at 8:30.

On the program for the evening will be a magic show presented by E. T. Stone, chemistry teacher at West High School. During the past year Mr. Stone has been president of the Columbus Society of Magicians.

Mr. B. G. Redman, a teacher at South High School, will deliver an address on "Dangerous Trends In America Today."

The Ladies' Chorus of Westway Post Auxillary, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Snyder of 405 S. Harris-av, will furnish music for the occasion.

"WORK, FOR THE NIGHT IS COMING"
ANNA L. [illegible]

Work, for the night is coming,
Work through the morning hours;
Work while the dew is sparkling,
Work 'mid springing flowers;
Work while the day grows brighter,
Under the glowing sun;
Work, for the night is coming,
When man's work is done.

Little Stories of GREAT HYMNS

The author of this hymn was born in Canada where summers are short and call forth every bit of energy to get the crops harvested before the early frosts. The theme is taken from the words of Jesus, "The night cometh when no man can work"—a challenge to use to the utmost all the time that we have.

THESE ARE THE BENEFACTORS

★ One of the greatest accomplishments of civilization has been the remarkable progress made in increasing the average life expectancy. In the Middle Ages the average life span was twenty years. In the seventeenth century it had advanced to twenty-five years. Through the years there has been a steady increase until, today, the life expectancy is sixty-three years for men and sixty-six for women.

Authorities agree that the most productive years of life lie between the ages of forty and sixty. Medicine and the allied sciences have thus been indirectly responsible for all progress. Good minds that had sickened and died before reaching their zenith now live to apply the judgment and experience of maturity. As pharmacists, we are proud of our function in the distribution of lifesaving medical supplies.

SHE'S A HEROINE ON THE HOME FRONT

The housewife needn't go overseas to be a real war heroine. No sir. She's the girl behind the food behind the boy behind the gun. She relieves the food shortage by canning her victory garden surplus so that commercially canned food can be sent to the front. Thereby she helps her country and her home book.

TOO TOUGH

We heard one of those little stories this week that at first makes you mad, then seems quite funny as you realize how silly it is . . .

A 19-year-old sailor, just back from 23 months of service with a battle fleet on the Pacific ocean, made an evening's date with a young local girl . . . but when he called for the girl, he ran into a battle problem which he could not overcome.

Mother simply put her foot down, saying that any boy in the Navy was "too tough" for her daughter to go out with; and as the teller declared, was very tough about it herself.

We have heard stories from the last war like this, but have somewhat disbelieved most of them because we can hardly believe that anyone would discredit a boy's character because he happens to be a member of the armed forces . . .

And after all, this boy was only one of those many million that were called away from their homes to defend this mother, among others, from a very, very tough life.

If there is something against the boy, okeh, but the general service, we can't see it . . . we have met too many of the nicest boys in the country, serving in all branches of the service. It just doesn't make sense.

STEADY GUY

Herb Deems has just completed 15 years of service with the First Federal Savings & Loan Assn. office on the Hilltop as secretary . . . He started when the organization was known as the Hilltop Building & Loan.

MEET WITH MAYOR

The executive committee of the Hilltop Business Men's Association met with Mayor James A. Rhodes Wednesday afternoon with the thought in mind to see what was cooking on the post-war planning set-up for this section of town.

After going over the completed budget, which was made up by the "Metropolitan Committee for Post War Jobs and Progress," the Hilltop men left with the thought that this part of the city will get its share in what improvements are set up to be made as materials become available and the money is raised through bond issue and by government provision.

This planning committee, working with the city and county planning commissions, have detailed plans which will be aired at a luncheon scheduled for noon today at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel.

SAYINGS CHANGE

Those people who used to get a big kick out of saying, in a joking way, "Don't They Know There's a War On?" have now changed it to "Don't They Know the War Is Over?"

And one fellow was very disgusted Wednesday when he found that he was still driving on gasoline that he had acquired by using a ration coupon.

REMEMBER

Next Friday, Aug. 31, is the last day that applications for canning sugar will be accepted by any ration board . . . and this item is still very much on the ration list.

Ida Wilson Hurt In Funeral Car Crash

Mrs. Ida Wilson, 326 Clarendon-av, suffered shock when the auto in which she was riding in a funeral procession figured in a collision with another car Monday afternoon.

The accident occured at Broad and Fourth-sts. Elizabeth Mitchell of Pisgah, Md., and Russ Williams of Glouster were injured. They were treated at Grant Hospital.

Suffers Ankle Injury

Amy Jackson, 19, of 718 Binns-blvd, was treated in Mt. Carmel Hospital for an ankle injury suffered, police said, when the auto in which she was riding at Town-st and Glenwood-av, collided with a truck, early Wednesday.

Service Men Feature Church Ground-breaking

With special ceremonies, ground was broken on Sunday, Aug. 12, for the new Westgate Methodist Church on Wicklow-rd, at Brinker and Algonquin-rds.

The Hilltop church was organized Dec. 7, 1941, the day on which the attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japs shocked the civilized world. The congregation has been meeting in the West High School auditorium for its services.

The ground breaking ceremonies were assisted by six of the church's service men, who were present for the occasion.

Circus Takes Over at Park

Folks living in the vicinity of Glenwood Park were sure the circus had come to town last Friday as a procession of snake charmers, dog face boys, skinny ladies, fat ladies, midgets and other freaks common to the midways of circuses and carnivals paraded about the streets.

The occasion was the opening of the annual Glenwood Park carnival and a very colorful array of costumes was in evidence.

The boys and girls assembled at the playground at 6:30 for the parade, which was led by Frankie Keffer. Following the procession, both adults and children enjoyed playing the 12 concessions set up on the playground.

Prizes consisted of candy kisses and articles made on the playground during the summer.

A treasure hunt and quiz show are on the schedule for Friday, Aug. 24.

Funeral Services Held Tuesday for Former Hilltop Jeweler

Funeral services for Earl Franklin Bell, age 50, were held at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church Tuesday at 1:30 p. m.

Mr. Bell who formerly operated a jewelry store near Broadst and Wayne-av, died Friday at his home, 59 Chicago-av. Rev. A. J. Wold, Hoge pastor, officiated at the services.

Interment was in Sunset Cemetery by Wylie S. Shroyer, 1278 W. Broad-st.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edith Bell; two sons, Leroy and Lt. William E. Bell, and two grandchildren.

Hilltonia Resident Struck by Car

Mrs. Bessie Beaumont, 73, 560 Hilltonia-av, suffered cuts Wednesday, Aug. 15, when she was struck by an auto while crossing Sullivant-av at Hilltonia-av. Randall Jackson, 157 Cleveland-av, was the driver of the car, police reported.

Mrs. Beaumont was treated in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Awarded Air Medal

Capt. Jerry Spears has recentcently been awarded the Air Medal for his service overseas. In August, 1944, he flew the hump in India.

Last month, Capt. Spears returned to the states and is now stationed at Ft. Dix, N. J., flying a transport. His wife, Gracebelle, and their son, Jerry III, are making their home with him.

Hilltop Men in Legion Drum, Bugle Corps

Camp Chase Color Guard Helps To Make Corps One of the Best

The Hilltop section and the West side is well represented in the membership of The Columbus American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, with fifteen men being regular members, while the Color Guard of Camp Chase Post No. 98 usually accompanies the corps when needed.

The corps was organized in 1930 under the auspices of Camp Chase Post, continuing until 1940 when it was reorganized so that any Legionnaire residing in Columbus and the immediate vicinity was eligible to join. Ten different posts are now represented in the corps, six members being from World War No. 2.

In 1940, Ben Deems, 287 N. Harris-av, was elected commander, serving two years in a most efficient manner. Through his own individual efforts he procured new uniforms and equipment. He is serving this year as manager and is also on the executive committee.

Efficient Director

For director, there is one of the best to be found in Harry Biddle, 121 So. Warren-av. Now nearly 73 years of age this man, as a boy, played a drum with the old G. A. R. Fife and Drum Corps. The high esteem the boys have for Harry is also startling. He has composed several pieces which the corps plays.

During the past 12 years the citizens of Columbus have often stood and gazed in awe upon that 6 ft. 5 in. drum major when he marched down the street ahead of the corps. He is Wm. Harlor, 100 N. Westgate-av.

The bugle section is paced by Bugle Sgt. Ray Thornton, 632 Hilltonia-av, who is always in demand to blow taps when the occasion requires it.

The reliable Bob Clarke, 115 Dana-av, has been the top bass bugler since the outfit was founded, and Bob Hitchcock, 472 S. Westgate-av, very capably directs the cymbal section.

Other very dependable buglers are Pete DeVere, 453 Hilltonia-av, Ed Moon, 152 S. Eureka-av, and George Smith, 98 N. Chase-av, a veteran of both World Wars, who recently returned from overseas duty a second time within a quarter of a century.

Quartermaster

The drummers are looked after by Drum Sgt. Francis "Pete" Herbert, 111 S. Harris-av, who also is the corps quartermaster. He is one of the hardest workers in the oganization and has been with it since it was founded.

The drum section gains strength with men like Harry Fullen, 39 N. Harris-av, Clarence Fuhr, 1944 Fairmont-av, Francis Brooks, 7087 W. Broad-st, Pete Malvick, 1149 Mulford-rd, and Jim Myers, 93 N. Oakley-av, a World War No. 2 veteran and the youngest member of the corps.

One of the most talented color guards in the state belongs to Camp Chase Post No. 98. There are seven men who offer their services in this endeavor. All are nearly six feet and over in height with several having been in the guard for 20 years or more. It is ably headed by Color Sgt. Chet Wagner, 667 Wiltshire-rd, a past commander of the post who has for 16 years served in this capacity. His capable assistants are Dan Stout, 333 S. Harris-av, John Kirkpatrick, 21 N. Huron-av, Dewey Stout, 90 N. Wayne-av, Chas. Long, 423 S. Burgess-av, Elmer Young, 125 N. Chase-av, and Jay Bowser, 35 N. Hague-av.

C. B. Reichel Succumbs In Honolulu

Cabled word from Honolulu to Mrs. Augusta Reichel, 134 Cypress-av, on Sunday, Aug. 19, told of the sudden death from a heart attack on that date of her son, Charles B. Reichel, age 34.

Mr. Reichel, a former student at Central High School and a member of Hilltop Lutheran Church, was formerly employed in Dayton, Ohio, and went to Honolulu following the attack on Pearl Harbor and was employed there in the Navy Yards office.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Reichel, and a daughter, Betty, age nine months.

Upon receipt of the cablegram Mr. Reichel's mother telephoned his family in the Pacific for full details and, in this way, learned that burial was to be made in Honolulu.

Others surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Florence Sears, Beulah, Mich.; Mrs. Hilda Groves, Dayton, and Miss Frances Reichel, San Antonio, Tex.; and three brothers, Leonard and Arthur of Columbus, and Louis, in a U. S. Army Hospital in Texas.

Victory Edition This Week . . .

Included in this week's Record is a special section devoted to the GI Joes and Jills who have battled their way through to final victory over the enemy forces.

News of the whereabouts and past work of the service man that were available, along with feature stories, plans for reconversion and a list of all people known to have been killed in line of duty are included.

This section was made possible through the cooperation of several Hilltop merchants and industrial plants who have expressed their appreciation to our fighters.

Hilltop Housewives Are Urged To Continue Saving Fats, Tin, Paper

Hilltop housewives are urged to continue to save fats, tin, and paper. Despite the surprise ending of the war with Japan, these materials are still urgently needed and are expected to be scarce for some time to come.

For instance, all tin used in this country is imported and much of the supply in normal times is brought in from islands still in the hands of the fanatical Japanese. It will take time to free the mines and start production again. 100,000 tons of tin are used annually in the nation and every bit saved is a help.

Soap companies use glycerine from fats to make soap and soap chips and the current shortage of these items is a fact well known to every housewife. The more fats saved and turned over to the butcher, the more soap will be on grocers' shelves in the future. To say nothing of those beautiful red points the butcher hands over to the lucky person turning in waste fat.

A thirty day supply of pulp from which paper is made is on hand in the nation at this time. It is possible to bring in 1,000,000 tons, but that must wait until ships are available.

In the future, many timber workers are expected to be released from the Armed forces to work in the forests of the country, but at the present time, the paper shortage is still something with which to be reckoned.

In the Rough

By Davis

Thirty-eight teams competed in the publinks amateur-amateur held at Beacon Light Golf Course last Sunday with the unbeatable team of Cal Richards and Whitey Marlowe, both club members, taking the honors with a best ball score of 68.

Deadlocked for second were the teams of Dick Rhyan-Tony Vennitti and Tony Melfi-Ralph Passero with best balls of 70.

Four teams were tied for fourth place, Len Price-Harold Todd, Art Todd-Jack Hathaway, Ernie Mawhirter-Mile LaMotta and Paul Tulga-Jim Pollock, all posting 70's.

Of the ten teams classified in Class "C" group, Howard Donahue and Larry Gibbs won with a 76 best ball. Tony Melfi was medalist with a 71. Mayor Jim Rhodes and his partner, Al French, came through with a best ball of 72.

A lot of credit goes to Whitey Marlowe in the last nine of the tournament play he turned in a 33, which is three under par.

Due to this low score the boys at the club gave him quite a razzing that he was shooting way over his head, so to prove he wasn't he came back on Monday to shoot a 35. Nice going Whitey.

At the tournament there seemed to be quite a bit of criticism about the small greens. This tournament on Beacon Light course really showed up the ability of some of the better golfers. It's true the greens at Beacon Light aren't so large, but it made the boys bear down to hitting the old ball straight.

Play Heavy

Play on Beacon Light course has been exceptionally heavy this past week with V-J Day drawing one of the largest crowds since the war began. Listed below are some of the local players that frequent the course:

J. Nicholas, Ed Witherspoon, A. L. Davis, Claire Hay, Ed Johnson, Ray Johnson, Bill and Jim Agresti, P. H. Hoag, Robert Wren, Russ Hill, C. E. Boyer, Jack Mayhew, E. Whitlow, Jay W. Kent, Jr., Paul Anderson, J. McClrie, Forest Cochran, Bob Thornton, Joe Briggs, Jr., and Sr., Don Henderson, C. Roby, Frank Shea, and Wendell Glass.

John Wayne at His Best!

"Back To Bataan" . . . Startlingly vivid enactment of amazing heroism of the Philippine guerrillas in combatting the Japanese invasion! It is timely, true and terrific! Striking while the theme is hot RKO has dynamically pictured an action melodrama starring John Wayne as the American leader of Filipino patriots, based upon factual events that built up to General MacArthur's recapture of the ravaged islands.

With priceless cooperation from the United States military authorities and the Philippine Republican government, supreme realism has been obtained in "Back To Bataan."

Instances of native sacrifice, loyalty and resistance to the invader vie with such epic incidents as the "March of Death" on Bataan and the spectacular delivery of American fighting men from the horrible Japanese prison pen at Cabanatuan.

Robert Fellows has produced this picture with triphammer impact upon emotions, and played to the hilt by the star and a cast included by Anthony Quinn as a Filipino patriot, Beulah Bondi, Faly Franquelli, and Leonard Strong. A thundering epic of grit and glory, it is a superb motion picture no one will want to miss.

The associate feature is "Zombies On Broadway," starring Bela Lugosi and Wally Brown. It opens at the Westmont Theatre Sunday, Aug. 26, for a three day engagement.

While Bob was stationed in Sicily two years ago, he learned that his brother's division was quartered only a few miles away. He applied for a pass and it wasn't long before he located Cecil.

Both brothers were overjoyed at seeing one another. Thereafter they met several different times in Sicily.

Jane Wright Weds J. M. Bell on June 28 At Sioux St. Marie

Before an altar decorated with gladioli and palms, Miss Jane Wright, Specialist Cook 3/c, of the SPAR, became the bride of J. M. Bell, Phar. Mate 1/c.

The ceremony was read by Dr. John Verstraate at 8 o'clock on June 28, at Sioux St. Marie, Mich.

The former Miss Wright is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wright, 99 S. Westgate-av. The father of the bridegroom is Mr. J. M. Hall, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt terminating in a long train. The full length veil was held in place by a Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Opal Gerstead, SPAR, who attended the bride as maid of honor, wore a gown of pink chiffon and lace. Her bouquet was of pink roses and snapdragons. Chief Phar. Mate J. E. Patterson served as best man.

The mother of the bride chose a suit of pink silk with a matching hat for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of pink and white carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the ceremony.

The bride attended Ohio State and Capital Universities, and prior to entering service with the SPAR, was associated with the Columbus Bolt Works. The bridegroom has served four years with the Coast Guard. He received specialist training at Columbia.

Three Lamp Brothers Serve With U. S. Fleet Units

Gilbert, Robert And Daniel Have Long Service

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lamp, 261 W. Park-av, are all stationed in the Pacific. The brothers have kept in close contact with each other during the war.

Gilbert Lamp, HA1/c, 26, entered the service in October, 1943, and went overseas the next April. He was stationed at Brisbane, Australia, last winter, and took a course for laboratory technician. In January he went to New Guinea and is now with the hospital corps at Subic Bay on Luzon.

Gil Lamp, HA1/c

Photograph by MacArthur

Gilbert in his letters home has said the natives want all their clothing. While in Australia, Gilbert and a friend were able to take a picture of Gen. MacArthur in the Botanical Gardens. The Australian soldiers, with whom Gilbert made several friends, are called "diggers."

Prior to his going into the service, Gilbert worked at short time at Seiffert's Dept. Store, and for the Greyhound Co.

His wife, Jane, and their 2½-year-old son, David Bruce, are living at 33 N. Chase-av.

Bob in Band

Robert Lamp, BM2/c, entered the Navy in April, 1942, and was sent overseas in October, 1943. He has served 22 months in the Hawaiian Islands, near Honolulu. He and some of his buddies have organized an orchestra on the island and he plays the drums.

Robert is aboard the captain's ship following his orders to other islands.

WPB States Reconversion Detail Plans

The War Production Board's detailed plan for reconversion of industry to civilian production was made public by Chairman J. A. Krug following President Truman's announcement of Japan's unconditional surrender.

In effect the plan calls for revocation of all possible controls, only those being retained which will be necessary to prevent industrial dislocation and bottlenecks which might prove harmful to reemployment and to assure stabilization. At the same time the Krug report stressed the fact that even the controls which are being retained, are only a temporary measure and would be revoked as soon as possible. The high points of the plan are as follows:

1. Almost a handful of orders will be cancelled within a few weeks.

2. Release of a huge industrial building program through a plan to relax industrial construction controls. This plan, designed to absorb the manpower and materials freed by military cutbacks is already in effect and additional relaxation will be considered within thirty days.

3. Remove ceilings on production of automobiles and other consumers durable goods. These important industries may now move forward with all-out production programs.

4. Orders controlling materials that are still in short supply, tin, crude rubber, textiles, lumber, etc., will be retained until shortages cease or until there is no longer any danger of a scramble.

5. Inventory controls will be retained until the danger of hoarding, preemptive buying and stockpiling by the few at the expense of the many are over.

6. Preferential protection of small business ($50,000 or less per quarter) including the rating system will remain in effect for the time being until the effects of cutbacks can be appraised and it is safe to remove them.

7. WPB will retain its powers for breaking bottlenecks or giving protection where needed to military or highly essential civilian or export needs. These powers will be used only where necessary and business should not rely on priorities help for conducting its normal activities.

8. In line with the President's letter to the WPB chairman, the board will take vigorous action to expand production of materials which are in short supply to meet civilian demands and will work with OPA, WMC and other agencies whose operations are of equal importance to the rapid expansion of such production.

"The WPB control structure was created and developed to provide a framework for the fulfilment of war production needs, to assure the maintenance of a sound war-supporting economy, and to further the combined war effort of the United Nations," Mr. Krug said. "With the ending of the war, these primary objectives have been accomplished and the occasion for many WPB controls have largely disappeared.

"In some cases, orderly relaxation and revocation must be spread over a period of weeks or even a few months, to avoid unnecessary dislocation and to assure stabilization. In some instances, the national interest dictates the exercise of control for a longer period.

"Practically all materials and resources needed by American industry will be available in abundance. American business men, managers and workers must meet this challenge and use their initiatives and resourcefulness for making the thousands and thousands of decisions necessary to get American production rolling again on a peacetime basis.

"The Government can help but the initiative must come from the people. Priorities which were designed to allocate short supplies and scarce materials will not solve the problem of making prompt and effective use of the materials that have now become plentiful."

"At the same time," he continued, "a smooth transition to peacetime conditions will be impossible unless steps are taken to prevent hoarding of scarce materials, or an inflationary scramble. Essential needs of the basic economy must continue to be met and to this end it may be necessary to break occasional 'bottlenecks' arising during the inevitably difficult period of readjustment."

Hilltop Thinks of War's Cost as Fighting Slows Toward Halt

Kiwanis Club Studies Means Of Helping In Reconversion

Young Local Organization Figures To Be Factor in Swing to Peace

Seeking to speed reconversion and aid returning veterans, Kiwanis International today announced nine far-reaching post-war objectives as the Hilltop Kiwanis Club considered ways and means of rendering greater community service in peacetime.

In a special message to 2,300 clubs throughout the United States and Canada, Hamilton Holt, Macon, Ga., president of Kiwanis International, declared that 149,000 Kiwanians "will not shirk from the problems of reconversion that lie ahead."

Holt told President Truman and Prime Minister King of Canada in telegrams read to the local club that Kiwanis International would lend its wholehearted cooperation in meeting and solving the problems of post-war reconstruction.

"Since Dunkirk and Pearl Harbor," he said, "Kiwanis manpower has been marshalled behind the allied war effort. These resources now will be directed toward the building of peace, unity and opportunity."

James W. Miles, Sr., president of the Hilltop Club said that Kiwanis International's post-war objectives had the unanimous endorsement of Kiwanians here. He revealed the service organization's theme would be "Build for Peace—Unity—Opportunity."

The nine objectives follow:

1. Develop an understanding of the United Nations Charter in support of world peace.
2. Aid returning veterans.
3. Encourage sound programs of reconversion.

Tricky Japanese Watched For More of "Pearl Harbor" Stunts

As the end of a four-year-long war came to a sudden "official" end, the wild celebration of released pent-up feelings had by this week simmered down into serious thinking of the war's cost in human lives, suffering and sorrow.

Out of some 5,000 men entering service from the Hilltop and vicinity, an unofficial count of 112 have been killed in action or in training courses.

The Hilltop Honor Roll, sponsored and maintained by Camp Chase Post American Legion, has around 3000 names listed on its panels. Of this amount, there are 86 gold stars showing at the present time.

According to Larry Scales, custodian, there are other names which have not as yet been placed on the board.

With the Japanese government officials stalling for time and army officers reluctant toward giving up the fight, it is felt that still more sharp fighting may lay ahead before lasting peace can be enforced.

Following is a list taken from the files of the Hilltop Record, of those who made the supreme sacrifice during this war:

Dip of Ice Cream Costs $1.50 In Manila, Says Clyde Good

Stationed Near 37th Division

1st. Lt. Clyde E. "Wimpy" Good, of the 417th Bomb Group writes home of conditions in war torn Manila. It is hard for us to conceive of the terrible destruction wrought by modern war, but "Wimpy" in a letter to Carl B. Sherburn, 122 S. Terrace-av, tells of it in a graphic way. He writes as follows:

"I have been over here two months now. I really like it. We aren't doing much at the present time, but before long things will start again. We are not far from the 37th Division. Our outfit gave them air support. It is pretty nice to be able to help out our Ohio boys. They really are doing a good job over here.

I spent some time in Manila. It must have been a nice town before the war, but it is surely a wreck now. Prices are out of all reason. A carton of cigarettes sells for 10 dollars. A quart of American whiskey would bring fifty dollars. Everything else is in proportion. One dip of ice cream costs a dollar and a half. We, in the service, have no trouble getting cigarettes. They only cost us fifty cents a carton.

Our food over here couldn't be better. We have fried chicken, steaks, etc., quite often. I really like it and expect to stay over until the war is over."

"Wimpy" graduated from West High School in 1937 and attended Otterbein College for three years. He entered the service on Dec. 13, 1943, and was trained at Pisalia, Calif., and Merceded, Calif. His advanced training was received at Luke Field, Ariz., and at Sacramento, Calif. He went overseas the latter part of May. His wife, Bessie, has returned to her home in California, to await the return of her husband.

Before his enlistment, Lt. Good was employed at Sherburn's Market, where he made many friends and at the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiselin Good, 334 S. Roys-av.

Diary of Japanese Officer Reveals Progress of Attu

Day-by-Day Report of Battle by Doctor Shows Yanks Fierce Fight to Gain Hold

An American Air Force flyer, who was on Attu, when that island was taken, discovered a diary of a slain Japanese officer, and returned with it to a neighboring island, where Hilltopper Sgt. Edgar L. Guyer, made a copy of the latter part after it had been translated into English.

In the earlier pages of the diary it was disclosed that the Japanese officer had been educated here in the states, studying medicine from September, 1929, to May, 1932, at the Pacific Union College, at Agwin, Calif. He received his California medical license Sept. 8, 1939.

Sgt. Guyer, who brought the diary to his sister, Mrs. Sheldon Kline, 222 N. Terrace-av, when he was home in May, 1944, entered service in October, 1941, and was stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla., at the time of Pearl Harbor. He left the states in June, 1942.

Carrier based plane flew over, fired at it. There is a low fog and the summit is clear. Evacuated to the summit. Air raids carried out frequently until 1000 heard land noises. It is a naval gun firing. Prepared battle equipment. Information — American transports, about 41, began landing at Hokkai Misaki. Twenty boats landed at Massacre Bay. It seems they are going to unload heavy equipment. Day's activities —air raid, naval gun firing, and landing of American troops.

May 13—Battle

The U. S. forces landed at Shiba Dai and Massacre Bay. The enemy has advanced to the bottom of Missumi Yama from Shiba Dai. Have engaged them. On the other hand, Massacre Bay is defended by only one platoon, but upon the unexpected attack, the AA machine gun cannon was destroyed and we have withdrawn. In night attack we have captured 20 enemy rifles. There is tremendous mountain artillery gun firing. About 15 patients came to the field hospital. The field hospital is attached to Arai Engineers unit.

May 14—Battle

Our two submarines from Kiska assisting us have greatly damaged two enemy ships. The enemy has advanced to the bottom of Missumi Yama. Lt. Suyuki died by shots from rifle. Continuous flow of wounded in the field hospital. Took refuge in the trenches during the day time and took care of the patients during bombardment. Enemy strength must be a division; our desperate defense is holding up well.

May 15—Battle

Continuous flow of casualties to our field hospital caused by the fierce bombardment of enemy land and naval forces. The enemy has a great number of Negroes and Indians. The west arm units have withdrawn to near Shitigati Dai. In a raid I was ordered to the west arm, but it was called off. Just laid down from fatigue in the barracks. Facial expression of soldiers from west arm is tense. They all went back to the firing line soon.

May 16—Battle

If Shitigati Dai is occupied by the enemy, the fate of east arm is decided. So burned documents and prepared to destroy patients. At the moment there was an order from headquarters of sector unit. Proceeded to Chicago of Harbor by way of Unanase, 0100 in the morning. There was an air raid so took refuge in the former field hospital cave. The guns of a Lockheed spitted fire and flew past our cave.

Gunner on B-26

T/Sgt. Bieber

A radio gunner on a B-26 and 12 months' service overseas, is T Sgt. John H. Bieber, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bieber, 116 Eldon-av. He is with the 9th squadron of the AAF, credited with 65 missions over Germany, France and Belgium.

In July, 1944, when he had had completed 30 missions over Germany, his ship's gas supply line was cut in two and he and his mechanic had to hold it together until they crossed the channel. They made a perfect landing but the gasoline spread everywhere, although by luck the plane didn't catch fire.

Last April, Sgt. Bieber returned to the states and was home on a 21-day furlough and reported to Santa Ana, Calif., for a two week period. He was afterward assigned to Enid, Okla. flying school. His parents expect him home Aug. 22 for a short furlough.

John wears four battle stars with 12 Oak Leaf Clusters. He was graduated from West High and worked at Curtiss-Wright a short time before his entry into the service on Mar. 7, 1943.

May 17—Battle

At night, about 1800, under cover of darkness, left the cave. The stretchers went over muddy roads and steep hills of no mans land. No matter how far or how much we went, we did not get to the pass. Was rather irritated in the fog by the thought of getting lost. Sat down after every 20 or 30 steps. Would sleep, dream, and wake up again. Same thing over again. The patient on the stretcher who does not move, is frost-bitten. The pass is a straight line without any width and a steep line toward Chicago of Harbor. Sitting on the butt and lifting the feet, I slid very smoothly and changed directions with the sword. Slid in about 20 minutes after that, arrived at Chicago of Harbor ward after straggling. The expended time was nine hours for all this, without leaving any patients.

Opened a new hospital. Walking is now extremely difficult from left knee rheumatism which reoccured on the pass. The results of our Navy, the submarine and special underwater craft since the 14th: cruisers 3, destroyers, airborne troops and transports 6. By favorable turn since the battle or east arm, reserves came back. Off shore of Shiba Dai six destroyers are guarding one transport.

May 18—Battle

The Yongenia detachment abandoned east and west arms and withdrew to Umanose. About 60 wounded came to the field hospital. I had to care for all of them by myself, all through the night. Heard that the enemy carried out a landing on Chicago of Harbor. Everybody did combat preparations and waited. Had two grenades ready. 2nd Lt. Omira left for the front. Said farewell. At night a patient came in who engaged a friendly unit by mistake and had received a wound on the wrist. The counter sign is "Isshi Hoke."

May 19—Battle

At night there was a phone call from sector unit headquarters in some spot on the beach. There are friendly float type planes waiting. Went into Attu Village Church—felt like some one's home—some blankets were scattered around. Was told to translate a field order presumed to have been dropped by an enemy officer in Massacre Bay. Was ordered to evaluate a detailed map sketch which was in possession of Capt. Robert Edward, adjutant of Col. Smith. Got tired and went to sleep. Lt. Ujue is now in charge of translation.

May 20—Battle

The hard fighting of our 303rd Battalion in Massacre Bay is fierce and it is to our advanatge. Have captured enemy weapons and used them to fight. Mowed down 10 enemy closing in under fog. Five of our men and one medical N. C. O. died. Heard enemy pilots' faces can be seen around Umanose. The enemy naval guns firing near our hospital is fierce. Drops about 20 meters away.

May 21—Battle

Was strafed when amputating a patient's arm. It is the first time since moving over to Chicago of Harbor that I went in an air raid shelter. Enemy plane is a Martin. Nervousness of our C. O. is severe, and has said his last word to his officers and N. C. O.'s—that he will die tomorow. Gave all his articles away. Everyone who heard this became desperate and things became disorderly. Hasty chap this fellow. The officers on the front are doing a fine job.

May 22—Battle

At 0600—air raid again. Srafing killed one medical man. Odayski wounded in right thigh and fractured arm. During the night a mortar shell came awfully close.

May 23—Battle

Seventeen friendly medium bombers destroyed a cruiser off shore. By naval gun firing, a hit was scored on the pillar pole of tent for patients and tent gave in and wo died instantly.

From 0200 in the morning until 1600 stayed in fox holes. The day's ration one 00.5 Shaker (1.5 pounds) nothing more. Officers and men alike in food. Everybody looked around for food and stole everything they could find.

May 24—Battle

It sleeted and was extremely cold. Stayed at Missumi barracks alone. A great amount of shells were dropped by naval gun firing —rocks and mud fell all over the roof. It fell down in a fox hole about 50 yards away. Hayaska, a medical man, died instantly by a piece of shrapnel through the heart.

May 25—Battle

Naval gun firing aerial bombardment, trench warfare, the worst is yet to come. The enemy is constructing a position. Battalion commander died at Unamose. They cannot accomodate their patients. It has been said that at Massacre Bay district, the road coming through sector unit headquarters is isolated. Am suffering from diarrhea and feel dizzy.

May 26—Battle

By naval gun firing it felt like the Missumi barracks blew up and things lit up tremendously. Consciousness became vague. One tent burnt down by a hit from incendiary bombs. Strafing planes hit the next room, two hits from a .50 caliber shell, one stopped in the ceiling and the other penetrated. My room is an awful mess from sand and pebbles that have come from the roof. Lieutenant from medical corps is wounded. There was a ceremony to grant the Imperial Edict. No hope for reinforcement. Will die for the cause of Imperial Edict.

May 27—Battle

Diarrhea continues. Pain is severe. Took everything from pills.

Local OPA Chief Warns Of Future Price Control

John H. Summers, director of the Columbus district of the Office of Price Administration, this week declared the district staff was "more than happy" at the speedy release of ration controls on gasoline, fuel oil and processed foods but warned that enforcement of remaining regulations will continue.

"The sudden lifting of ration control of gasoline, fuel oil and processed foods proves OPA's desire to eliminate controls of all kinds as quickly as possible," he said. "Rationing on remaining items will be removed the moment supply agencies tell us there is enough to go around.

"But there still is a big, tough job to do—price control. After the last war there was a temporary and deceptive sag in prices, an inventory boom, sky-rocketing prices, the crash, bankruptcies, foreclosures and unemployment. We do not want this to happen again.

"Many people still subject to controls which still are necessary may be inclined to ignore regulations or try to defeat them by dilatory tactics in hope that controls will be lifted before they can be caught."

"To prevent this, OPA's enforcement policies will be toughened."

Regarding commodities removed from either rationing or price control, OPA's position is that people who have violated regulations while they were necessary and made illegal profits or gained unfair advantage shall not go scotfree simply because rules they violated became unnecessary before their cases were disposed of, Mr. Summers said.

Since suspension orders for rationing violations are not punishments, but administrative measures to protect the supply of rationed commodities, they automatically expire when the commodity involved is removed from rationing and pending proceedings will be dropped, Mr. Summers added.

But all other pending cases—civil and criminal—will be prosecuted vigorously and cases under investigation will be completed and suits filed, he promised.

May 28—Battle

The remaining rations is only for two days. Our artillery has been completely destroyed. There is sound of trench mortar, also of AA gun. The company at the bottom of Attu Fuji has been completely annihilated except one. Rations for about two days. I wonder if Commander Yenegami and some of his men are still living. Other companies have been completely annihilated except one or two. 303rd Battalion has been defeated. Yenegami is still holding Umarose. Continuous cases of suicide. Half of the sector headquarters was blown away. Heard they gave 400 shots of morphine to the seriously wounded and killed them.

Ate half fried thistle. It is the first time I have eaten something fresh in six months. It is a delicacy. Order from the sector commander to move the field hospital to the inland, buf it was called off.

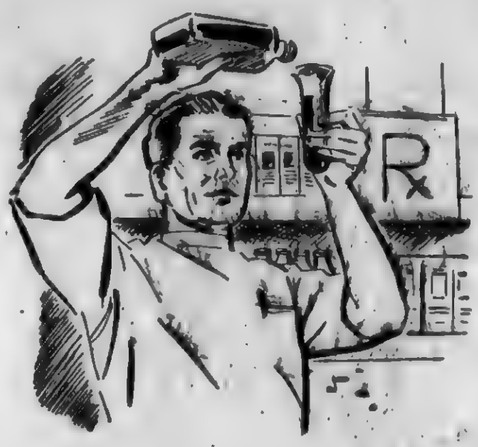
May 29—Battle

Today at 2000 o'clock we assembled in front of headquarters. The field hospital took part too. The last assault is to be carried out. All the patients in the hospital were made to commit suicide.

Only 33 years of living and I am to die here. I have no regrets. Banzai to Emperor. I am grateful that I have kept the peace of soul which Enkist bestowed upon me. Well be good, Matsu (brother) good-bye.

The number participating in this attack is almost a thousand, ta take enemy artillery position. It seems like the enemy is expecting an all-out attack tomorrow.

A young sailor on a crowded station bus arose, tipped his hat and offered a young WAVE his seat.



She was so overcome with such an unusual display of politeness that she fainted.

She was soon restored to consciousness and upon taking the proferred seat, thanked the sailor.

Then he fainted.

A LUMP GETS IN OUR THROAT!

Yes, there is a lump in our throat when we think of the many scenes of death, destruction, and desolation our flag has gone through to win this final victory over the fanatically-minded nations of the world. But our hearts are filled with joy as we think of the future that is in store for our young men and women who have gazed upon the atrocities that have become so familiar to our flag.

This great victory will soon result in the return home of these young people of the Hilltop and vicinity who will be looking forward to resuming the former life they loved. It is our sincere wish that they will be able to return to the activities of civilian life with a minimum of trouble and we will do all in our power to help them in this transformation. Each and everyone of the employees of this firm say, "Well done and the best of luck to you all."

LABOR DAY

Monday is what is known all over the country as Labor Day . . . and the day, as used in these United States, is anything but a day of labor . . .

Especially this year, with a war finished after four years of fighting, working and waiting for news—good or bad—people of the Hilltop, as well as other communities, are going to make it more like rest day.

We have heard the question, "What are your plans for Labor Day?" asked several times in the past two weeks. And always the answer is about the same, "I'm not planning anything; just going to take it easy."

The highways are expected to take a real beating, and undoubtedly more than one car will take the same . . . what few recreational facilities around this part of the state will be crowded clear to the hilt . . . also those in the distance will be well occupied since gas rationing has been removed.

A close-to-home attraction is the Tenth Annual Homecoming program at Galloway, whic his sponsored by the Galloway Booster Club.

Starting at 1:00 p. m. with the opening of a refreshment stand, the day will provide busy enjoyment in an old-time style.

Included in the program is a doll, pet, bicycle and comic parade; flower, handwork and canning displays; horseshoe pitching; potato relays; dashes; bullfrog relay; sack races; chicken-chasing contest, for ladies only; wrestling match amateur boxing; round and square dancing, and lucky basket drawings as well as food.

ON HIS WAY

It looks like Bob Phelps, the pitcher who won ten straight games for an undefeated season with West High last year, is now on his way toward the big leagues.

Phelps did a mighty nice piece of hurling Tuesday night in New York as he went three innings, allowing two hits and no scoring while walking none and striking out one.

It is reported that the former Carl Smith-coached athlete from Starling Junior High School has long had his heart set on big-time baseball and has trained earnestly to attain that goal.

FUTURE STARS

Never have we seen a more promising looking bunch of sophomore football players than those that are going through the tough grind of fundamentals at Magly Field these days.

When we saw them they were hard at work on head-on tackling, and they really put their hearts into it. In fact, when we left we simply hurt all over.

For example there's the boy who got got a bump on the leg which brought about quite some limping and was pulled out of the line by the watchful coach . . . he stayed out just two minutes, then says "It feels better now, coach, I got to get back in there." And that didn't make Mr. Rose mad at all, 'cause he was smilin' all over.

HILLTOP DEVELOPMENT

The Hilltop will definitely benefit by the announced program of city and county development which will go before the voters this fall . . . in fact, probably more than any other section of town . . .

This community is definitely in the growing stage, partly because of the coming General Motors plant and partly because it is the most practical section of the city for expansion . . .

However, before too much growth can be realized the ground-work must be laid by building new sewers, highways, new equipment for city cleaning and protection departments, schools and recreational facilities . . .

A step in this direction is the planned development program, with a very little increase in cost to the taxpayer. This is based on the assumption that all projects will be direct sources of revenue . . .

In short, it looks like a good

Hilltop Brother and Sister Drown at Buckeye Lake

Companion is Rescued by 17-Year Old Girl as He Clings to Overturned Boat

A longed for and eagerly anticipated vacation at Buckeye Lake, a rowboat with an outboard motor and a sudden storm led to double tragedy for a Hilltop family last Saturday, when Joseph Heaton, 19, and his sister Martha, 9, were drowned.

Columbus Citizen

Joseph and Martha Heaton

Joseph and Martha were the children of Mrs. Anna Heaton, 388 S. Eureka-av. The family had taken a cottage at the lake for the week, starting Saturday. The Heaton boy and girl, with Don Howard, 40, 257 N. Oakley-av, had gone for a ride in the boat when a sudden storm broke over the lake.

Clings to Boat

High waves swamped the boat in the deep waters of the conservation area south of the park. Howard clung to the overturned boat, while Joseph started for shore with his sister.

Catherine Obert, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Obert, 196 Frebis-av, and a friend, Mrs. Glenna Murdock, of 325 Woodland-av, who were out on the lake in a rowboat had just reached shore when they saw the accident.

They immediately turned around and started rowing to the scene. On the way, a roar slipped from the hand of Miss Obert. She removed her blouse and jumped in the water after it. She managed, with some difficulty to retrieve the oar and climb back into the boat.

Thought He Could Make It

When they reached the scene of the accident, Joseph was swimming with his sister and called to the girls to get Howard into the boat. He said he could make shore all right. But he apparently failed to reckon with the high waves. The girls and How[illegible] helplessly while the angry waters swallowed the two.

The body of Joseph was recovered and brought to Columbus in an Egan-Ryan ambulance. Martha's body was not recovered until Sunday.

Martha was a fourth grade student at St. Aloysius School. Joseph was a student at St. Charles Seminary preparatory to entering the priesthood. Surviving, besides the mother are four sisters: Betty, Margaret, Catherine and Julie, all at home.

Double funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Wednesday in St. Aloysius Church for the victims. Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery by the Egan-Ryan Funeral Home.

ATOMIC PROS AND CONS

The use of the atomic bomb to cut short the Jap war sure laid the foundation for debates and round-table discussions . . .

With brass hats of the armed forces praising its abilities and necessities and some church groups deploring those same praisers for its use, it is becoming quite a sport for gatherings to use it as a discussion question.

We recently overheard members of a program committee for the Hilltop Kiwanis Club discussing its probabilities as a filler in the routine of half-hour programs.

The only basis for argument against this stupendous explosive type of missile is that it is a cruel way to wage war . . . and the old standby answer there is "why take years to kill the same number of people that you can kill in a few hours' time, as long as it has to be done . . . and we would say that the recently-ended war was a fine example of one of those things that just had to be done.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

There are a lot of funny ways of pinning a nickname onto the good old American name, but we think the tops is the way some West High football players have pegged one of their number, Bob Gin . . .

They call him "Slow" . . . or "Sloe."

EVERY GI'S DREAM

Lt. William T. Scoles, son of Mrs. Hazel Scoles of 29 Midland-av, will undoubtedly have that dream come true of taking part in landings on the Jap mainland — without meeting hostile fire.

In a letter to his mother he said that he was waiting out a great and not too dangerous call as one of a group of C-47 pilots based in the Pacific.

This is interpreted as meaning a mission with airborne soldiers into the "land of the sunken sun. The lieutenant is a graduate of West High School.

Comedy Team Starred In "Practically Yours" at Westmont

Team Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray in a movie comedy and you have pretty good assurance that the result will be quite satisfactory. And such featured players and scene-stealers as Robert Benchley, Mikhail Rasumny, Gil Lamb and Cecil Kellaway, and you not only have a motion picture but a screen classic.

MacMurray returns to New York from the Pacific as a Navy flying ace thought to be dead. Whenhe makes a statement that his only thought is to kiss Peggy in Central Park, up pops Claudette who knew him only vaguely in civilian life. Fred was really talking about his dog, "Piggy" and the mix-up that follows is a real side-splitter.

The fun continues when Benchley arrives at Kellaway's home at a late hour, prepares to turn in for a good night's sleep only to find "Piggy" and Fred occupying his quarters.

In another rib-tickling scene, Lamb gets tangled in a subway jam while still another shows Mikhail Rasumny at his best as a temperamental photographer.

After the first few complications arise, Fred and Claudette iron out most of the difficulties and get down to some real romancing. Those who saw "No Time For Love," starring MacMurray and Colbert, can get a pretty good idea of the entertainment in store for them since "Practically Yours" has Fred and Claudette back in business once again.

The above program opens at the Westmont Theatre Saturday, Sept. 1, and plays through Sunday, Sept. 2.

"Murder, He Says"

Loew's Broad this week is showing the completely daffy comedy, "Murder, He Says" with Fred MacMurray and Helen Walker with Marjorie Main. Cofeature is "I Love a Band Leader" with Phil Harris.

Is Aboard U. S. S. Tanker in Pacific

Cranston entered the Navy two years ago and went overseas in March, 1944. He served in England and in the Mediterranean area.

Paul was graduated from Central High School and before his entry into the service, he worked as a technician in electrical refrigeration and air conditioning from utilities engineering in Chicago.

City, County Development Program to Be $24,700,000

Committee Airs Plans for Bond Issue At Fall Election; No Tax Increase

Columbus and Franklin County community leaders this week were getting plans underway to familiarize every voter in the metropolitan area with details of the $24,700,000 development program to be submitted at the November 6th election for public approval.

Unanimously approving the 16-point program designed to provide 15,000 jobs and permanent public improvements at virtually no increase in the tax rate, a gathering of 350 citizens last Friday pledged themselves to carry on the work of a non-partisan temporary planning committee.

Most Needed Projects

The 16-point program, proposed by the Metropolitan Committee for Jobs and Progress, is based on the planning and investigative work of city, county and school officials, embodying the most needed projects of each group.

It includes new and modernized schools for Columbus, county hospital extensions, a new children's home, new veterans' memorial auditorium, street, sewer, health and safety improvements.

"This is a program of the citizens," said Chairman Paul R. Gingher, "and not necessarily a plan of the officials. We must provide jobs, but jobs on projects which will provide permanent and lasting benefits to the community. We also believe that real estate should not be saddled with taxes."

Randolph Sellers, tax expert and executive director of the Cincinnati Home Owners' League, lauded the committee for its planning. He said that the method of financing was extremely sound.

Tax Increase Negligible

The development program will be financed through 15 bond issues and one operating levy. County voters will pass on six of the issues. The average tax rate for the last 10 years has been 19.23 cents. During the next five years, the building program included, the average rate would be increased to only 19.58 cents. During the next 10 years the rate will be lower than during the past decade.

County projects are headed by the new $4,500,000 veterans memorial auditorium which would provide a main auditorium seating 6000 to 7000 people, a music hall and sports and recreation facilities. One of the purposes of the auditorium would be to maintain the community's place as a leading convention center.

Other improvements for the area outside Columbus proper include a badly needed children's home costing $1,250,000, $1,500,000 for new trunk sewers and an equal amount for a court house annex, a $400,000 expansion of the county hospital and $350,000 for expansion of the tubercular hospital.

New Schools

To keep Columbus school facilities on a par with the rest of the state, the program calls for $6,500,000 to be spent for the construction of seven new schools, replacing of temporary buildings, modernization of 30 existing schools, vocational extensions added to high schools "to equip our youth for the scientific and industrial era which lies ahead" and needed new equipment.

Other Columbus developments include $3,500,000 for new sewers to prevent flooded basements, a $2,000,000 modern sewage disposal plant, $650,000 for streets, $500,000 for fire houses, $775,000 for playgrounds and recreational facilities, a $200,000 garbage incinerator and $575,000 for needed health, safety and park equipment.

An operating levy (two mills for three years and one mill for two years) will make it possible to add 200 necessary firemen and policemen, better refuse and dead tree removal, smoke abatement and rat control.

Edward Tharp, general manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., a member of the volunteer planning committee, told the group that written commitments had been obtained from officials of all three subdivisions stating that no other new bond issues will be proposed during the next five years.

He said that the original proposals examined by the Metropolitan Committee totaled $75,000,000 but had been pared to these most essential and most immediately needed.

Better Hen Housing For Better Eggs

CAMP DOUGLAS, WIS.—Correct housing is a vital factor in the year 'round productivity of laying hens. It is the clue to the success of numerous poultry farmers, the important reason why they continue to make a profit year after year.

Laying hens, properly housed, utilize feed more efficiently from the standpoint of egg production. Flock depreciation is reduced, with fewer culls and less disease. The work involved in caring for the flock is lessened. If too much money is expended on housing, however, even increased egg production may result in no greater profit to the farmer. Consequently this poultry house of Henry Schoot, near here, designed by agricultural engineers of the Masonite Corporation, falls within good poultry practice budget requirements. It is constructed of 3/16 inch tempered pressed wood over a framing of 2x3 lumber.

The principles of correct housing for the laying flock are relatively simple. They include ventilation that keeps the air fresh and eliminates excessive dampness; protection against sudden changes in temperature; proper space allowance for each hen (four square feet for heavy hens and three square feet for leghorns); protection from drafts, especially at night; economical operation, such as conserving heat by limiting the window area to the amount needed for vision; and arranging equipment to reduce work.

Victory Loan Starts Oct. 29

The Victory Loan, last organized bond drive of its kind planned by the government will be held from Oct. 29 to Dec. 8. The goal is set at $11,000,000,000, the treasury has announced.

Despite the end of the war, huge sums of money are still needed to meet costs of mustering out service men, redeployment of soldiers, hospitalization and other expenses incident to the war, it was announced by Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson.

A $200 bond, known as the Franklin Roosevelt Memorial Bond, will make its first appearance when the drive starts. It will sell for $150 and will be part of the E group.

Dick and Bill Johnson Meet After 4 Years Apart

Eat at Wallgau Mess Hall, then Part

Two local brothers met for dinner in Wallgau Germany, in the Bavarian Alps, last June 27 after being separated for nearly four years.

Chief Warrant Officer Richard C. Johnson and his younger brother, Pfc. William A. Johnson, were together for an hour and a half, their first time together since 1941 when William was 15 years old and Richard was leaving for a year's training in the peacetime Army.

Richard (Dick) is in the Inspector General's Department and spends most of his time traveling from one place to another on various assignments while William (Bill) is serving in Hd. Co. 636 Tank Destroyer Bn. Dick also has access to a lot of records. So when he heard his brother was overseas he started to hunt for him. When Dick found his brother's name on the records he planned his next trip accordingly.

Hard to Recognize

Four years can make considerable difference in a person's looks so Bill was looking carefully at all warrant officers that came by, hoping for a spark of recognition. When he finally did spot his brother there was no doubt about his identity but Dick experienced considerable trouble in identifying Bill and would no doubt have walked by him without knowing it if Bill hadn't been on the lookout.

The two brothers ate at Bill's mess hall and talked there for as long as dinner usually takes. Then Dick crawled back in his jeep and resumed his journey.

The anto-climax of the story is that Dick, by delaying an hour and a half, was held up and stuck in the snow in the Alps delaying him for 10 hours.

Advanced by Ranks

Dick entered the Army in November, 1941, as private in the infantry, was transferred to the Quartermaster Corps and advanced every rank to his present one of Chief Warrant Officer. He was among the first troops in Ireland, England, North Africa, Sicily and Italy. Since then he has also served in Russia. He was transferred to Inspector General's Department soon after the Sicily invasion. He never says anything about his decorations but he is not married and has 145 points to his credit.

Bill entered the Army in June, 1944, and was sent overseas as a Third Army replacement, and and was assigned to Co. B, 61st A. I. B. and after hostilities had ceased in Germany was transferred to Hq. Co. 636 Tank Destroyer Battalion still in the Third and is in charge of ammunitions.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Johnson, live at 697 Wiltshire-rd.

"Miss Pin Up" Of the Marianas

Miss Gladys Sahr

The title "Miss Pin-Up" was conferred on Miss Gladys Sahr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Crawford, 99 S. Terrace-av, by Navy Medical men of the First Base Headquarters Co., stationed in the Marianas, following a contest in which members submitted pictures of girls whom they had never met. Miss Sahr's picture was submitted by Carl F. Roth, PhM 2/c, of Cliffside-dr, Columbus, when he saw her picture in the Dispatch Service Edition in which it had appeared when she took a leading role in the West High School senior play last spring. The men took a vote in the Pacific and chose Miss Sahr as pin-up girl in the Mariana Islands.

Following Gladys's graduation in June, she left for Los Angeles, Calif., to spend a few months vacationing with her uncle, Delbert Slagle, a jockey, and who formerly was a jockey at Beulah Park two years ago.

On her way to California Miss Sahr stopped in Tennessee for a week to visit her cousin, Cpl. Hayes Scott, Springfield, O.

Miss Sahr was given an interview with Ken Murray at the El Capitan Theatre and she is now playing in the stage and variety show, "Blackout." The show travelled to San Francisco recently to entertain a group of soldiers returning from the Pacific.

A graduate of West High in June, 1945, she was employed by the Jaeger Machine Co. while attending school. Miss Sahr will return to Columbus in October and enter Ohio State where she will study education and radio.

Putting Time to Bed Before the Battle

When danger looms from enemy shells or bombs, an important job of the Chief Quartermaster aboard Uncle Sam's big fighting ships is safeguarding the navigationally necessary marine chronometers. He actually tucks the chronometers in bed, first wrapping them in blankets and then placing them on bunks to cushion the shock. On aircraft carriers and battle wagons the three chronometers are widely separated to prevent damage to all from a single hit. When, for example, the redoubtable aircraft carrier Franklin was badly shattered by Japanese suicide planes and debris littered all parts of the ship, only one chronometer was damaged and the remaining two Hamiltons enabled the "unsinkable" Franklin to navigate the 12,000 mile voyage to the New York Navy Yard.

Vol. XXIX, No. 17 — The Hilltop, Columbus 4, Ohio, Friday, September 7, 1945 — Total No. 1379

IT'S FOOTBALL AGAIN

It seems hardly possible that time for the shivering sport of sitting on hard bleachers and watching 22 guys commit mayhem, which is called football, is here again

Next Friday will start the annual pilgrimage to Springfield, with the time element coming into play to effect a late home coming for those who trek from the Hilltop . . . the game won't start until 9:15 our time, or 8:15 Springfield time.

We will miss the presence at each game and the comforting support to the players of Rev. Carveth Mitchell, who last year was pastor of the Hilltop Lutheran Church. His successor, Rev. Russell Olson, dropped in 'tother day to pay his respects . . . wonder if he will carry on the Mitchell football enthusiasm.

Haydn Jones is also a close follower, especially at practice sessions, where he shows up most every afternoon to needle the coaching staff and kid around with by-standers.

SKATING RINK STILL ON

According to C. P. Maus, the proposed erection of the skating rink at Westgate Park is still on despite the hold-up in the city departments . . . Ken Dickerson is said to be working with the engineering department in preparing plans for council to go over in the near future.

The fund now stands at some $700, but recent analysis indicates that the total cost will run $1500, so the campaign must be speeded up considerably if the thing is going through.

Meanwhile, an attempt has been made to get information from Toledo as to the erection, maintenance and supervision of their big municipal rink

HELP NEWSIES

The Golden Triangle Club, an organization growing out of the Auxiliary Police set-up, recently turned over $100 to the Charity Newsies. This was the amount of the proceeds derived from a "re-distribution of hard-to-get items." C. W. Row, president of the club, made the presentation.

NAME CHANGES

Name of the Chief Sandwich Shop at Sullivant and Ogden has now been switched to Wright's Sandwich Shop . . . the spot is quite popular with the youngsters at John Burroughs School, as they head for it on the run for lunch.

Furniture Co. To Enlarge

The Westgate Furniture and Appliance Co., 3422 W. Broad-st, is completing plans for the enlargement of its place of business.

Due to the convenience of a modern furniture store within easy access of Hilltop homes, added to the fact that prices are low, since the building is out of the high rent district, public acceptance has been such that a larger store, with more display space is a necessity, according to Joseph Ryan, owner.

This will be taken care of by the addition of the entire second floor of the building, thus doubling the present floor space

Here, room set ups will be arranged where furniture may be displayed to the best possible advantage, so that the customer can see for himself just how the furniture he contemplates buying will look in homelike surroundings.

Mr Ryan, who opened the store on May 1, stated this week that the new store will be the most modern and up-to-the-minute furniture store on the west side

The management is planning a clearance sale on all floor samples. Parking space is available for shoppers.

She claims she was struck on the head by a blunt instrument thrown by some children playing there.

According to Mrs. Fisher, she became faint and was told by the funeral directors to go out to the back yard for some fresh air.

Navigator's Combat Duty Is Ended at 12 Missions

Describes Life In Germany After Surrender Date

Lt. Bradford has been overseas since early March and is now with the 9th Air Force. He was formerly assigned to the 8th Air Force and completed twelve bombing missions before the fall of Germany for which he received the Air Medal and one Cluster.

Since being attached to the 9th Air Force Lt. Bradford and his crew have been on detached service doing special photography for maps over France and Germany and is now stationed near Brussells, Belgium. In recent letters the boys say:

Colonels Provide Souvenirs

"The other day we went to Paris and brought a couple of colonels back with us. They were stuck for a ride back to their base, so of course were very glad to see us. One of them is in charge of a supply depot near here. He told us to come down and see him and he'd try to fix us up with some German equipment for souvenirs.

We took him up on it the next day! Most of the stuff had been picked over so much that there wasn't much left of any account, however we got a bunch of German hats, insignias, books, records and some bayonets, none of which are worth anything except as souvenirs. We had a lot of fun poking around though.

All of these people here stop and watch us as we go by. You can see the hate for us in some of their faces; others seem quite friendly and wave as we go by and smile. The non-frat rule keeps us from learning anything more about them. Every time we leave the field we wear our 45's just in case some one takes a pot shot at us. It has been known to happen.

It surely is funny to ride along the road and see German soldiers walking along the same road in full field uniform. They are the ones who have been released by the Army to return to their homes. Some of them look at us and smile and others look as though they'd gladly shoot us if they had the chance. The majority though are just indifferent.

Last Is Worst

I got in 12 missions before our group went off operations. The last one strangely enough was the worst of the lot. You may have read about it in the papers. We bombed the Skoda Ammunition Factory at Pilzen, Czechoslovakia. They made all sorts of guns and shells. They just rolled the shells off the assembly line and shot 'em up at us! I saw three B-17s go down . . . not a very nice sight, believe me! We had 15 holes in our ship when we returned from this mission, three right under my desk. I figured out that if I'd been sitting down instead of standing when we got hit, I'd have been hit in the left shoulder. Lucky, eh? I have the piece of flak that made one of the holes. Ugly stuff! However the Bradford luck held and now I'm a veteran of 12 bombing missions.

Perhaps you read of our bombers taking some of the ground personnel for tours of inspection over the devastated areas. These flights were made so that the ground crews of our Air Forces could see the result of the two years' bombing. For many of them it was the biggest thrill of the war. We took the passengers plus the actual flying crew members of five. Our route was tree top level across France into industrial Germany, passing over all the bigger and better targets, mostly those located in the Ruhr Valley area.

Injuries Bother Cowboys As Springfield Game Looms

Johnson and Crawford Ineligible; Smith, Echols Suffer Injuries

Coach Dale Rose, of the West High School Cowboy football squad, is having his troubles as he attempts to put together a balanced team for next Friday's opening game with Springfield. Injuries and ineligibilities are combining to frustrate every stragetic move.

Tom Johnson, promising junior fullback, was discovered to be ineligible because of failures in two last-year classes. Harold Crawford, substitute center also dropped by the way-side for that reason.

Injured Players

Bill Smith, speedy junior halfback, is still suffering from an injured knee. Bill Echols, veteran tackle, has been advised to give up football because of an unhealed operation on his foot.

Two sophomores, Jerry Chinn, halfback, and Jack Thrush, an end, have come along with a lot of promise to somewhat ease the situation.

Although still early in the season for a set line-up, it looks like the opener will see Thrush and Jack Buckingham at the ends; the tackle position, a toss-up between Bob Cassell, Frank Deyo, Don Borror and Bob Ginn; Ed Moore and Jerry Miller at the guards with Ralph Watts and Dick Gubsch alternating at center.

Backfield positions are shaping up with Chinn and Dean at the halves Bruno Masdea at fullback and the all-city Dick Slager at quarter.

Scrimmages Scheduled

The reserves will scrimmage West Jefferson at Magly Field this afternoon, with the first stringers working out against Zanesville at the same location Saturday morning at 9 o'clock

Attention is called to the time of the opening game next Friday at Springfield, which is scheduled to get underway at 8:15 p. m. Since Columbus is on faster time than Springfield, game time will come at 9:15 our time.

He writes, Early in the morning we were lying a few miles off the beach at Okinawa watching the battlewagons and other ships shelling the beach. Soon after, the first wave of small boats went past us full of troops on the way to hit the beach. Overhead our planes were going in to drop their bombs.

Land on Coral Reef

The troops stormed ashore taking the beach easier than expected and everything was quiet for us. We had a very high priority cargo, so early in the afternoon we got orders to hit the beach.

The old '62 was the first LST to hit the beach, and it was a bad place to land. The entire island was surrounded by coral reef jutting out from the beach about two hundred yards, and plished by the leveling of entire cities. Of course we bomber crews have seen this before but only at high altitude and ground vision is very poor, so, going over a few feet above the house tops and flying between the few remaining smoke stacks offered much more.

Only those buildings in the far outskirts have been left halfway intact and even those have sufered greatly from the crushing onslaught of our ground forces. Aachen is a pile of rubble, twisted rails and everything in ruin. Essen is another ghost of shattered kraut might. As far as the eye can see is devastation beyond verbal description or expression!

I'll mention just a few of the other cities we visited: Cologne, Frankfurt, Koblenz, Nurenberg, Stuttgart, Ulm and many others. Seeing the sights was only half the big time for our crews. The low level flying was almost legal; that is we weren't supposed to go below five hundred feet. We were so low we had to pull up for the fence posts and I honestly believe there was grass on the belly of our ship! The passengers were frightened at first but soon got used to scraping hedges and the farmer's cow. We flew down Hitler's great highway, buzzing Allied convoys and everything in sight. Flying down between the valleys, skimming along the Rhine, looking up at the ancient castles and still standing, great fortresses of medieval days.

Germany Still Beautiful

The continent itself is beautiful in landscape and scenery. The soft, rolling greenery of France blends slowly into more rugged, even more beautiful Germany. The smaller villages and towns high in the mountains or low in the valleys and those along the Rhine have been unequaled attraction. These are untouched by the ravages of conflict. They hold the more simple and very old beauty of Germany. With her compact cities industrial Germany is smashed, yet these simple beauties remain to remind the onlooker that she is still strong in greatness and beautiful in creation."

Lt. Bradford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bradford, Sr., of 2608 W. Broad-st, and has been in service since January 31, 1943. On Dec. 4, 1943, he was married to Miss Margaret MacDonald of Houston, Tex. He received his Air Corps Cadet training at Biloxi, Miss.; University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Kingman, Ariz.; Carlsbad, N. M., and received his commisison at Houston, Tex., after which he was sent to Alexandria, La., for three months' additional course in navigation.

Lt. David Robb is a pilot on a B-17. His home is at Eau Claire, Wis.

McElwee, Andre -

it was on this hard, knife-like coral that we had to beach and unload.

At night, it was a pretty sight to see the many tracers, dark and light red like a glow of fire, eating their way skyward. We really didn't have time to appreciate beauty for the Zeros started coming at us with Easter eggs, but after several ships fired at them, they crashed into the water. It was a mighty close call and a very lucky one for us."

In Arizona with Husband

Jim is a West High School graduate and was very active in sports, one of which was baseball. He was formerly an employee of the Cannon Lumber Co. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. McElwee, reside at 125 S. Ogden-av.

Mrs. Ballaro, whose professional name is Mitzi Joyce, has returned from overseas and is now in Phoenix, Ariz., with her husband, Lt. Les Ballaro, whom she married shortly before going overseas. She is expected in Columbus soon for a visit.

Mrs. Ballaro left for the Pacific last February, and her tour as an accordionist included Hawaii, Guadalcanal, New Caledonia, New Hebrides, and the Marianas. She was playing with the "Time for Fun" show. While Mitzi Joyce was in the Marianas, she was injured in a jeep truck accident and was hospitalized a short time.

NO PRESENTS

A little misinterpretation of written copy submitted to the Record kept some members of the Job's Daughters away from an organizational meeting . . .

The notice was meant to say "please bring parents", but it ended up as "please bring presents", with some of the members not attending because they had no presents to bring.

LOST COAT

Mrs. James L. Estell, 227 N. Eureka-av, received a call from her son, James Jr., as he stopped over at Union Station on his way to Camp Atterbury. He said that he would be leaving for Atterbury on the train in just a few minutes.

Mrs. Estell promptly threw a light coat over her house dress and rushed up N. Eureka to the Big Four Railroad to catch a glimpse of her son after his long stay in Europe.

Being warmer than she expected the lady took off her coat and hung it on the city corporation sign. Then she was told that her son's train was over on the other nearby track, and rushed on over there only to see the train disappearing around the curve.

She started back for her coat, only to see a car stop and someone take the coat, place it in the car and drive off with it.

Mrs. Estell says that she would have stayed home and waited to see her boy if she had known that it was going to turn out anything like it did.

Council To Report On Rink Drive

The fall meeting of the Hilltop Community Council will be held Thursday, Sept. 20, at the Hilltop Lutheran Church, Terrace and Broad-sts, at 8 o'clock.

The finance committee will report on the progress of the financial campaign to raise funds for the roller skating rink and fall activities program. This fund has reached well over the $700 mark at the present time, as canvassers are continuing the work started earlier in the summer.

Mrs. F. Kenneth Dickerson and Mrs. C. Whipple, co-chairmen of the entertainment committee, will submit plans for the fall festival and Hallowe'en celebration.

Work With City

A special committee headed by F. Kenneth Dickerson and Charles P. Maus will report on the progress of the plans for the roller skating rink.

Mr. Dickerson is now working out suitable plans for its construction, while Mr. Maus is working with Mr. Ray Dietz of the Parks Commission on the suitable location in Westgate Park.

Mr. Maus is also working out a program for fall and winter programs to be held at the Glenwood Shelter house. He is being assisted by Mr. Karl Grant, supervisor at the shelter house, and Mrs. Williams, of the City Recreation Department.

Melvin's Hdw. Is Changed

Harold W. Erlenbach, of 340 S. Wayne-av, who recently purchased the Melvin's Hardware Store at 2409 W. Broad-st, is making extensive plans for the future of the store.

New lines of merchandise are being added as fast as they become available. With the ending of the war, many articles impossible to stock for several years are making their appearance.

Mr. Erlenbach also contemplates some changes in the store fixtures and stock arrangement which will allow a better display of merchandise and consequently better service to the customer.

Erlenbach, who acquired the store at the time of Ed Melvin's retirement in January, has spent 28 years in the hardware business, having been connected with the Frank P. Hall Co. for a good part of that time. The name of the store has been changed to Erlenbach Hardware and Paint Co. The telephone number will remain the same.

The new owner announces that he will be glad to assist customers with any hardware or paint problems and invites them to come in and inspect the store.

Three-Car Crash Results in Injury To Vollman

Theodore Vollman, 75 Whitethorne-av, suffered lacerations of the knee and mouth in an auto accident involving three cars on the West Broad hill about 6 o'clock Monday evening.

According to police, Cpl. William P. Vance of Mather Field, Sacramento, Calif., going east on Broad-st, skidded on the wet pavement, turned almost completely around on the other side of the street, where he collided with a car driven by Vollman. Vollman was in turn crashed into by a car driven by Curtiss Wade, 185 N. Ogden-av, coming from the rear.

Vollman, taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital, was given first aid and later transferred to Grant Hospital, where several stitches were required in his knee and mouth. His condition is reported by the hospital as fair.

Police Appreciate Bus Driver's Safety Policy

A West Broad-st bus driver was slightly disconcerted last Friday when a policeman boarded his bus at Westmoor-av and demanded his name.

Thinking desperately what he might have done that was wrong, the driver supplied the desired information.

His sigh of relief was heartfelt when the grinning policeman handed him a card which said, "Your observance of traffic safety has been noticed and appreciated."

It seems the driver of the bus had left his vehicle at Broad and Hague-av to escort a blind passenger to safety on the curb.

Must Wait Turn to See Wife

—Court. Citizen

A 20-year-old wife was critically ill in the Franklin County Tuberculosis Hospital, while her family and physicians are trying desperately to effect the return of her sailor husband from the Pacific, where he is stationed on the crusier Oakland, anchored in Tokyo Bay.

The little lady is Mrs. Mary Von Schriltz Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Von Schriltz, 239 S. Westmoor-av. Her husband is Robert Armstrong, 21, son of Harry Armstrong, of Hilliard. The young couple are expecting a baby in November.

Parted in March

Armstrong entered the service in July, 1943. He married Mary Von Schriltz in September, 1943. When he returned from the war in the Pacific last January, he wore nine battle stars. Little Mrs. Armstrong joined him in San Francisco and returned to her parents here after her husband went to sea again in March.

Seaman Armstrong knows of his wife's desperate illness. So do the executive officer and the chaplain of his ship and the Navy Personnel Dept. A wire received from him Tuesday by the girl's mother stated that he had been told " there was nothing that could be done; he would just have to wait."

Mrs. Von Schriltz reported a slight improvement in the condition of her daughter today.

All mothers are urged to attend. A tea will follow the meeting.

Wife and Children To Stay on Here

Howard Schlereth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Schlereth, 247 S. Terrace-av, left Monday, Sept. 3, for New York, where he will sail soon for Manila. He plans to assist The Standard Oil Company rebuild its business there, which was temporarily ruined by the Japs.

Schlereth, his wife and two children, Hewitt and Linda were prisoners of the Japs for three years. Released Feb. 4 by the Americans from Santa Tomas Internment Camp, they returned to this country in April, at which time they were still suffering from the starvation treatment meted out to them by their captors.

Family To Remain Here

Their health not yet fully recovered, Mrs. Schlereth and the children will remain in Columbus, since conditions are such in Manila that it is not considered wise for the families of the men working there to join them.

Schlereth's health is much improved and he is eager to get started on the reconstruction program planned by Socony.

Mrs. Schlereth, Linda and Hewitt are making their home with Mrs. Schlereth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. Hewitt, 203 W. Kenworth-rd.

Watch The School Children

AN EDITORIAL

With summer vacation days just a memory, sturdy little legs are trudging back to school this week. Junior in his shining new school clothes and sister in her crisp frock, carrying her precious school supplies carefully.

The problem of crossing busy streets is new to many of these tots and it behooves every man and woman driving a motor vehicle to exercise care.

Precious little lives may be lost because of a moment's carelessness at the wheel of a car and since the end of gas rationing, traffic is increasing every day.

All schools will have junior policemen on duty and these youngsters do a fine job, but the responsibility for the lives and welfare of little folks, who are naturally disposed to be a bit thoughtless and daring, rests squarely on the heads and hearts of the men and women who drive.

HBMA Gives Fall, Winter Activities

Future programs for the Hilltop Business Men's Association were announced by the secretary, C. H. Campbell, this week. Activities are planned through December 11 and it looks like an interesting schedule for the next few months.

On October 9, Mr. Ray S. Reinert president of the Columbus Council for Democracy will speak at the meeting. November 13, Major Whipple, chaplain in the Fifth Service Command, Ft. Hayes, who was speaker at the Kiwanis Club recently, will be heard. On December 11, a Christmas party will be held. Also election of officers will take place.

Successful Picnic

Over 75 members and their families attended the annual picnic held by the association at Westgate Park Tuesday evening. It was a basket affair with beverages served by the organization.

During the regular meeting, which was held immediately after the dinner, John Davis, of the Hilltop Riding Academy, 2547 Eakin-rd, proposed that the association sponsor a Western Riding Show.

According to Davis, this type of show drew 10,000 people at Hilliards. The executive committee was to have met at 4:00 p. m. Tuesday to discuss the proposal. Probable grounds for the show would be the State Hospital ball field.

Check Legislation

Two important pieces of state legislation enacted recently should engage the attention of all members who are in retail business. First, the Ohio Trade Diversion Law. This law prohibits any person or corporation from selling or procuring for sale to its employees, any article not of its own manufacture or not handled in its regular course of trade. Penalties for violation of this act are fines of from $100 to $300 for each offense.

Second, the termination of the Ross Act. Under proclamation of Governor Lausche, the Ross Act which permitted liberalization of provisions of the regulations governing employment of females and minors during the emergency will end on Dec. 16.

Cale Window Firm Is Sold; Owner Goes To Florida

It was announced today by F. N. Cale, owner and manager of the Cale Window Shade & Mfg. Co., located at 297 Derrer-Rd, that his business has been sold.

The Vogue Wood Products Co. has purchased the business and machinery and will operate from the old location for the time being, continuing the manufacture of venetian blinds and window shades.

Cale began the manufacture of window shades in Columbus over 20 years ago and moved to the Hilltop 15 years ago.

Mr. Cale did not state his plans for the future other than that he will spend the winter with his family in St. Petersburg, Fla., as has been their custom for the past several winters.

Emergency Squad Driver Suspended

Fireman Fred C. Daniels, 44, of 1613 S. Eighth-st, driver of the emergency squad truck which crashed into two parked cars early Sunday morning on S. Oakley-av, was suspended last Friday.

West Opens Season Tonite At Springfield

Untried Squad Will Face Team Bent on Revenge; Game Starts at 9:15

A green and not too impressive West High School football squad will board a Columbus-Celina bus tonight for the trek to Springfield where they are scheduled to do battle with Coach Morgan Jones' Tigers there at 9:15 p. m.

Cowboy mentor Dale Rose Wednesday announced a probable starting lineup of juniors and seniors with the exception of a lone stand-out sophomore halfback, Jerry Chinn.

The forward wall is composed of Jack Buckingham and Bob Miles at the ends, Bob Cassell and Bob Ginn at the tackles, and Jerry Miller and Ed Moore at guards, and Ralph Watts or Dick Gubsch will hold down the center position.

Fast Backs

All-city quarterback Dick Slager will again be in that position, directing the team and doing most of the ball handling from the T formation. He is also delegated to take care of the kicking. Jerry Chinn, hard-running 139-pound sophomore, has earned a starting berth at left half, with Walter Dean, who saw some action last year, at the other half. Speedy and elusive Bruno Masden will go at the fullback spot if an ailing ankle has responded to treatment by game time.

In case of Masden's inability to play, Walter Dean will be shifted to fullback and Harold McMillan will fill in at right half. Bill Smith, junior halfback, is still on the sidelines with a bad knee, which has kept him from practice for over two weeks.

Win at Grove City

The Cowboys downed Grove City 20-0 Tuesday night in a practice game held there under the lights. Attended by close to a thousand spectators, the boys looked ragged in spots, especially line-play, with their ballhandling not up to expectations.

West lost a scrimmage game to Zanesville Saturday 30-24 while the reserves were also being beaten 13-0 in a two-quarter game. The game at the Cowboy field sharpened Slager's passing eye as he completed several for scores or long gains.

West's reserves were scheduled to go to Hilliards Thursday night for a scrimmage with that school's varsity, while the varsity was dressing in game suits for pictures and the first two teams were running through signals earlier in the evening.

Complaints Cause Move

When his neighbors complained, L. C. Moore, who has operated a woodworking shop in the rear of his home at 360 Belvidere-av, for a year and a half, was ordered by the building inspector to move within 10 days, since the shop is in a residential district.

Moore appeared before City Council on Sept. 4 and appealed for a stay, which was granted for four months.

Last Monday night, Fred Donley, 345 Wrexham-av, and 35 other neighbors asked council in a petition to rescind the action, whereupon council requested the attorneys representing the different factions to step into the hall and see if an agreement could be effected. Robert M. Draper, attorney at 50 E. Broad-st, represented Moore, while Phil Stout, 2532 W. Broad-st, represented the neighbors. Moore agreed to move within thirty days.

Kiwanis Club Gets Charter

It was a historic occasion for Hilltop Kiwanians when they and their guests met with brother Kiwanians from all over the state at the Seneca Hotel last Thursday night to participate in the presentation of a charter to the newly organized club.

The Kiwanis International Charter was presented to President Jim Miles by Gov. Doughty, who addressed the officers and members of the chartered club on their responsibility as a service club.

Judge Dana Reynolds was the next guest speaker as the club went back into routine meetings Thursday, Sept. 13.

Walter Townsend Is Listed Dead

Declared missing in action in the Southwest Pacific since July 6, 1943, Walter R. Townsend, S1/c, 22, son of Mrs. Eva Townsend, 185 N. Central-av, has been reported dead by the Navy Department.

Seaman Townsend is said to have lost his life in the torpedo sinking of the USS Helena in Kula Gulf during a battle with the Japanese. He enlisted in the Navy in 1941 and went overseas in November, 1942 after the completion of his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Walter attended Starling Junior High School and worked at the Army Depot before entering the service.

A brother, Marine Pfc. Arthur W. Townsend, also survives. He is presently stationed in Washington, D. C. after serving overseas. He formerly was employed at the Columbus Army Depot.

City to Remove Town St. "Jog"

City Council last Monday night appropriated the sum of $12,000 to be used to straighten the jog at the intersection of Gift and Town-sts. Present plans call for the jog to be removed before the last of the year. Houses in the way, have already been moved.

The action concludes a campaign that was started in 1935 by the West Side Board of Trade. The late Ray Hauntz carried the fight to City Council, where it was continued by Henry A. Koontz, 485 Hilltonia-av, who saw success crown his efforts this week.

The jog has constituted a traffic hazard for a number of years and has also been a drawback to the relief of traffic congestion on W. Broad-st. The new straight intersection should draw much west bound traffic and so relieve W. Broad-st. traffic to that extent.

RECEIVE DEGREE

Columbus students who received the degree of Master of Arts from Ohio State University at the August Convocation were Margaret Barclay, John Bowers, Jean Carr, Pearl Cunningham, Eileen Eckert, Ethel Cox, Robert White and Katherine Small.

Roy Hunter Is Suicide

Dr. John B. Gravis, coroner, returned a verdict of suicide in the death of Roy Hunter, 52, of 324 N. Ogden-av. Hunter was found dead in a bedroom of his home about noon Sept. 6 with a bullet wound in his head and a 32-caliber revolver at his side, police reported.

No evidence of foul play was found by police homicide detectives who investigated the case. They stated Hunter had attempted to take his life earlier by turning on the gas in his room, but was found before the fumes became fatal.

According to Dr. Gravis and police, Hunter had suffered from a mental condition for some time.

He is survived by a brother, Charles, of Columbus and three sisters, Mrs. Edith McColley, Columbus, Mrs. Doris Davis, Malverne, N. Y. and Mrs. Helen Masterandrec, Lakewood, O.

Private funeral services were held Saturday at the Fell Funeral Home with burial in the Galloway, O., cemetery.

Drivers' License Deadline Oct. 1

Drivers' licenses for 1946 went on sale this week. Drivers must have them by Oct. 1, it was announced by Frank M. Quinn, registrar of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles. On the Hilltop and West Side, licenses will be available from the appointed deputies, Mrs. Daisy Grooms, 2527 W. Broad-st, and Martin W. Hennick, 1188 W. Broad-st.

The fee charged is 40 cents for an operator's license and 90 cents for a chaffeur's license.

According to Mr. Quinn, veterans may obtain licenses upon presentation of their honorable discharges within six months after leaving the service, without taking a drivers' test.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a gown of ivory faille, fashioned with a tight fitting bodice extending to the hip line, where an extremely full skirt terminated in a wide sweeping train.

The sweetheart neckline was trimmed in seed pearls and the long sleeves ended in points over the wrists. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a satin coronet.

She carried a basket of spit fire roses and wore a matching rose in her hair. A gold heart on a chain about her neck was a gift of the bride.

A half hour of music preceeded the ceremony, with Mr. Donald Ochs, vocalist and Mr. Robert Nash, organist.

City, County Back Bond Issues Here

To Be Submitted At Nov. 6 Election

Franklin County Commissioners have pledged themselves to carry out "with strict economy and to have maximum usefulness" all construction work made possible by the $24,700,000 metropolitan development program to be submitted at the Nov. 6 election.

If the program is adopted, commissioners said they could submit no further bond proposals during the next five years.

City Council voted Tuesday night to submit eight bond issues, totaling $8,700,000 and an operating levy of two mills for three years and one mill for the next two years as their part in the program.

County projects in the 16-point program, which will provide an estimated 5000 jobs for three years for returning veterans and ex-war workers, include county trunk sewers, expansions of county and tubercular hospitals, a new children's home, county court house annex and the new veterans' memorial auditorium.

City and Columbus school portions of the program, include construction and modernization of school buildings, street, sewer and recreation improvements, added fire houses, fire and police protection, sewage disposal plant, garbage incinerator, health and safety building, and replacement of worn out equipment.

Having already approved the program, county commissioners last Friday passed a resolution pledging: 1. Strict economy and usefulness in construction work. 2. To spread the program to prevent any rapid increase in the overall tax rate during any one year. 3. Schedule projects to stabilize employment over the period. 4. If the new 16-point program is adopted, no new bond proposals will be made for five years.

There is still, also, plenty of maroon yarn for hospital coat sweaters for convalescents in military hospitals.

Hiking Club To Resume Activity

The Heart of Ohio Hiking Club is resuming its activities and men, women and children are invited to participate in the fall and winter program.

Five hikes have been planned for the fall season, none of which is over five miles long. No fast walking is done, since the whole aim of the club is to get folks out into the open. Such simple exercise can add much to the health of a person, added to the pleasure received from being in the open at this beautiful time of the year.

Lunches are usually carried, but quite often provision is made for cooking over an out-door fire.

The fall schedule is as follows: Sunday, Sept. 16, Northmoor Park, meet at Oakland Park-av and High-st at 2:30 p. m. Those participating are requested to bring their own evening meal—fire will be provided. The hike will be about two miles long. Hikemistress will be Ohna Kelly.

The second hike will be Sunday, October 14, Reob's Corners, meet at the end of the Cleveland-av bus line at 2:30 p. m. Hikemistress, Christine Schaer.

The third hike will be Sunday, October 28, and will be a Hallowe'en hike, Westgate, meet at the end of the Sullivant-av bus line at 3:30 p. m. Hikemistress, Esther Boehm.

The fourth hike will take place Sunday, November 18, Old Church hike, Worthington, meet at Blenheim-rd and High-st at 2:30 p. m. Hikemistress, Bertha Klein.

Sunday, December 9, a Christmas party will be held at the American Legion Lodge, Canal Winchester. Hikemistress, Marguerite Boyer.

Further information may be obtained by calling Dorothy Beesman, GA. 3559.

Is Serving Aboard Destroyer in Pacific

Dick Bolin

Richard S. Bolin, S2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bolin, 8 N. Ogden-av, is serving aboard the destroyer, U.S.S. Wadleigh, which has recently been mentioned in the list of ships comprising Admiral Halsey's Third Fleet, which started action against Japan on July 10, and continued until the end of the war.

Seaman Bolin enlisted in the Navy May 30, 1944, and after completing his boot training at Great Lakes, he was sent to the Naval Training Center at Minneapolis and from there to Corpus Christi, Tex. He was assigned to the destroyer Wadleigh in April, 1945.

Last Tin Can Collection Is Underway

The last tin can salvage collection is taking place now. The program which started Aug. 1, 1943, will come to an end Sept. 30, according to word received by city officials from James L. Hubbell, salvage manager for the War Production Board in Ohio.

The nation's supply of tin is still short and will remain that way for some time. Hence the final clean-up drive to collect all accumulated tin cans this month and so bring to an end this particular program.

The 23 districts in the tin collection area is at present getting its 41st collection.

One of the strangest steals of the war is reported by American Relief for Holland, a Community War Chest agency, which states that because Holland tulips have such a wonderful reputation, the Germans carted tons of Dutch soil back to Germany.

Parachute Saves Life of Airman

While serving as a ball-turret gunner on a B-24 Liberator, Billy Wilmer, recently discharged veteran with 38 missions, had a very narrow escape after a bombing mission over Germany.

He and his crew were coming back from Italy and started to have engine trouble over the Alps. They had to make an emergency landing, using their parachutes as brakes. Two of the engines gave out when they hit the runway on Vis Island in the Adriatic and had to stay at the island for two days before getting to the base.

Wilmer holds the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, the Purple Heart, the Good Conduct Medal and the ETO ribbon with seven battle stars.

He is a graduate of Central High School. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Wilmer of Hilltonia-av.

OSU Twilight School Now In Fourth Year

Ohio State University's Twilight School, entering its fourth year this fall, has scheduled 244 courses for the year of which 111 are on the autumn quarter program starting Oct. 1.

Returning veterans are expected to enroll in Twilight School in large numbers, Dr. Norval Neil Luxon, director, said, pointing out that many veterans who have obtained daytime jobs expect to keep their jobs and continue their education in evening hours under the provisions of the G. I. Bill.

Thirty-six departments of instruction are represented in the offerings of Twilight School which are on all levels from freshman year through Graduate School.

Evening office hours are maintained in the Twilight School office Mondays and Tuesdays so that persons employed during the day may discuss their year's program with the director. The Twilight School office is in 201 Administration Building.

The Florence Crittenton Home at 1166 E. Main-st, has cared for 89 girls thus far this year. The girls remain a shorter period now as there are more opportunities for them to become self-sustaining. No girl leaves the home until a program for her future as well as that of her child has been provided. The Florence Crittenton Home is supported by the Community War Chest.

Johnny O'Neil is Awarded Bronze Star Medal in Europe

Pfc. O'Neil

WITH UNITED STATES FORCES IN AUSTRIA — For heroic achievement as a 65th Infantry Division machine-gunner at the battle of Struth, Germany, on April 7, 1945, Pfc. John W. O'Neil of Columbus has recently been awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

Pfc. O'Neil, of the 261st Infantry Regiment, has been cited for his actions in the April 7 battle which resulted from a fierce German counter-attack against his battalion, which had been spear-heading the 65th Division's advance. The official Bronze Star citation says of his performance, in part:

"Under a withering hail of automatic weapons and small-arms fire, Pfc. O'Neil displaced his machine-gun to help repel the attack. Seeing friendly riflemen pinned down nearby, he carried his machine-gun and advanced unhesitatingly in the face of fire until he was able to give direct support to the troops and cover their actions.

"When all the riflemen had withdrawn, Pfc. O'Neil backed slowly toward the edge of town, still harassed by fierce return fire, until he reached a new defense line. Setting up his gun, he again supplied direct support to the troops. His initiative and utter disregard for his own safety reflect great credit upon Pfc. O'Neil and the military service."

The Columbus soldier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. O'Neil of 88 Brehl-av.

Honor Roll

A/S Richard Allen Dickson, Navy. Son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dickson, 23 N. Warren-av. Entered the service in July and is now at Great Lakes, Ill.

"BAD NIGHT"

Paul Leighninger, 37 N. Chase-av, just couldn't get to sleep last Thursday night . . . he was expecting things to happen all during the evening, and they started at 1:30 a. m. Friday morning, when he delivered Mrs. Leighninger to the hospital for an appointment with the stork . . . at 3:30 he was the father of an eight-pound boy.

Coming back home and to bed after his harrowing experiences, Paul was aroused in a very short time by a shot and yelling below his bedroom window . . .

It seems as though a man had approached Paul's car, setting out in front for any other emergency, and had been about to make off with it when by some unusual circumstance Officers Skipper and McLain came along in sturdy old prowl car number four, catching the man with his intentions showing . . .

The fellow was smart . . . he said, "Guess I got the wrong key," and started up on the Leighninger porch, then took off like a P-51 around the side of the house . . . McLain had anticipated the move and had sliced beautifully to the rear of the house where he thought he was in position to turn the play in.

He fired in the air and yelled "halt" but the fleeing carborrower wasn't having any, so the good officer lowered his sights and shot again, seeing the man fall over a wire fence into another back yard . . . although he had missed again, the man was apprehended later and lodged in the bastile on an attempted burglary charge . . .

As for Leighninger, he was just settling down to where he thought he might try the bed again when he heard milk bottles rattlin' at the kitchen door . . . so he gave up the idea with the knowledge that he had finally experienced one of those "bad nights" he had always heard about . . .

NEW YORK VISITORS

Mrs. Hazel Bercaw, operator of the Bercaw Beauty and Gift Shop, 2842 W. Broad-st, and her operator, Evelyn Parsons, took in the sights of New York last week on what she called a combination vacation-business-and-shopping trip . . .

She said that they did take time to look over some new hair styles, so we guess there will be some other type of curl-contour showing soon.

Mrs. Ruth Keller Tarpy, 34 N. Hague-av, went along, for the ride.

HOW OR EVER

A story is told by an eastern visitor here which has to do with the butcher-customer relationship in a time when both have to be the best diplomats in the world or they may lose that world, anyway it goes like this:

This customer, a lady who could be very irate at times and was most all the time, was spending her idle moments one day like she did every day, that is riding the butcher to the point that he was frayed around the edges.

Finally the beef-peddler told the lady that she would have to act more like other people or she would get no meat at all, to which she promptly replied, "I am leaving your store for the duration, but when the war is over you will want me back in here again" . . .

Then came the announcement of the ceasing of hostilities, and among all the joy and hilarity the butcher still thought of this woman. He couldn't rest until he had straightened it out, so he takes the Don Ameche in hand and, when her rasping voice came on the line, promptly told her in no uncertain terms that the war was now over and that he did not want to see her "now or ever again" . . . then, with a happy smile on his pan, he retired into dream-land . . .

THEY EXPECT IT

The majority of those Cowboy fans who sat in the blizzard sweeping over Springfield stadium last Friday night, seemed to think that this year's edition of the local gridders should have everything that last year's fine squad had . . .

This just cannot be . . . the

West Gridders Play Marion Tonight Minus Three Starters

Buckingham Out After Springfield Injury; Moore, Miller May Play

An injury-riddled Cowboy football squad will climb into a Columbus-Celina bus tonight for a trek to Marion where they will face a reportedly good team. Game time is set for 8:00 Columbus time.

The most sorely missed of any on the injured list will be Jack Buckingham, veteran end, who is suffering from a bruised kidney received on the first play of last week's Springfield fracas.

He is resting at his home, 171 S. Terrace-av, after a stay at Grant Hospital. Doctors say that he will be out of play for an indefinite length of time.

Guards Are Hurt

Other casualties of the 13-7 Springfield loss are regular guards Jerry Miller and Ed Moore, both questionable starters for tonight's game. Miller is suffering from torn rib ligaments while Moore has a bad knee.

Bruno Maxiea, last year's flash halfback, may see limited service, although he has had no work during the week. Bill Smith, who is still out of the line-up with knee trouble, tried to practice this week, but soon gave it up. Bill Eckle is showing slight improvement, and will probably see some service.

With Buckingham out, it will probably be Jack Thrush at one end with Bob Miles and Jim Price dividing the other. The tackles will be a toss-up between Bob Cassell, Bob Ginn, Eckle and Deyo. Dick Gubsch, center, will probably be moved up to guard to pair with John Cleveland in case both Miller and Moore are unable to play. Ralph Watts is slated to hold down the center spot.

Bright Spot

The backfield will be given added punch by the presence of Bob Snouffer, speedy fullback, who has been alternating at tackle. Bob, who is a hard-hitting runner, is also a good pass receiver. He reported late to practice this year after a stretch of ineligibility last fall.

Dick Slager, whose passing was spotty in last week's game, seems to be back to his old form and will be in the quarterback spot. Walter Dean, best running back to date, will hold down the right

It was later rebroadcast over Station WHKC at 5:30 p. m. on Sept. 1. At that time Pfc. Hickey was on furlough in England when interviewed.

Pfc. Hickey was attending his first year at Ohio State when he enlisted in the Army.

Football Game Brings Leg Break

While playing football with a group of friends at the West High football practice field, Thomas Greene, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Greene, 281 S. Southampton-av, suffered a broken leg Sunday afternoon. According to Tommy's mother, he was running with the ball when he slipped and fell.

Emergency squadmen took him to Mt. Carmel Hospital for treatment and later he was taken to his home, where his condition is reported as well as could be expected.

Dances Planned At Glenwood Later

Glenwood and Westgate Parks are carrying on their work this fall with a somewhat modified program, due to the fact that attendance has dropped off a bit since the opening of school.

Football and basketball are in full sway, with goal posts erected at Westgate last week. Young hopefuls are industriously practicing drop kicks and place kicks.

The indoor center at Glenwood is expected to open some time in October. Plans are being completed for classes in crafts, dramatics, music and singing, table tennis and shuffleboard.

It is hoped that entertainment patterned after the "Teen Canteen" idea that prevailed last winter will be possible to arrange this year.

Last year several local boys and girls donated their services with musical instruments and dances were arranged that proved very popular with the younger set, while the young musicians gained experience and practice.

If it is possible to arrange some such plan this year, the dances will be continued, under proper supervision.

Meanwhile outdoor activities are still popular at both parks and will remain so until the weather becomes too bad for outdoor play.

The hours at Glenwood Park are 2 to 5, while the hours at Westgate are 4 to 8. Mr. Grant is in charge of activities at Glenwood, while Mrs. Edwards is in charge at Westgate.

Hoge Memorial Church To Erect New Building on Broad

145 Ft. Frontage Purchased Across From Westgate Temple

In keeping with the general trend of expansion underway by the Hilltop and vicinity is the announcement this week that Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church has purchased a ground location for a new and larger building on W. Broad-st.

Three lots, directly across Broad-st from the Westgate Temple figured in a three-way deal which was closed last week.

The lots will cover an area 145 feet in width and 200 in depth.

Purchased from Estate

According to Rev. A. J. Wold, pastor, two of the lots were purchased from the Millikin Estate and the other, which now has a house on it, from a Mrs. Martindale. The house will be moved when the construction stage is reached.

Wold said that no set date has been decided upon for breaking of ground, because of the present shortage of materials and also of the desire to have a majority of the necessary funds in the treasury before construction is started.

Home for 38 Years

The present church building, which has been at 29 S. Eureka-av for 38 years, will be disposed of after completion of the new building, Wold said.

Plans are being made this week for a general clean-up of the building site Monday evening, in which members of all the church boards are asked to take part.

Pay-As-You-Go

Building and finance committees will be appointed in the near future to go ahead with the expediting of construction. An extensive financial campaign will start next week among the entire membership with an aim to insure the necessary funds into use without the necessity of mortgages.

For some time the present church building has been entirely inadequate for the ever-expanding activities of the church and Sunday School, thus the only solution was the step now being taken, according to Rev. Wold.

Jake Justus Thriller at Westmont

The escapades of a fun-loving wife furnish a comedy in RKO's entertaining mystery drama "Having a Wonderful Crime," starring George Murphy, Carole Landis and Pat O'Brien.

Miss Landis has the role of Helene Justus who delights in getting attorney and amateur sleuth Michael Malone (Pat O'Brien) involved with the police. George Murphy is her bridegroom, Jake.

As the story opens, Helen has just pulled another of her playful little stunts, and the police are hot on their heels when the three of them sneak into a theatre where a magician is presenting his disappearing act. When he doesn't reappear as he's supposed to, there's a panic. The action then switched to high gear, and the trio finds itself involved in the most thrilling and, at the same time, hilarious adventure. The mystery of the missing magician invades a honeymoon lodge, and there are weird happenings with a magic trunk and a disappearing corpse, to say nothing of two murders and an attempt on the lives of three amateur sleuths.

Finally the long-suffering Malone straightens things out and even has thoughts of a honeymoon for himself at the fadeout. A beauty ensemble of bathing belles is a feature of the picture.

The associate feature is "Garden of Allah," starring Marlene Dietrich and Charles Boyer.

Informal Double Ring Ceremony Unites Couple Before Flower Banked Mantle

A mantle banked with roses, gladioli, chrysanthemums and ferns formed the background for the informal wedding of Miss Jean Marie Klinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Klinger, 140 Eldon-av, to Sgt. Van Wayne Mountain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mountain, of Carbondale, Ill.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. A. J. Wold, at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday, Sept. 5, at 4:30 p. m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon frock of ice-blue, with black accessories. An orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

Miss Dorothy Moore attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a frock of fuschia crepe, with black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Sgt. Heywood Long, of Wright Field, served as best man for the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Klinger home and later the wedding party was entertained by a dinner at the Maramour. For her going away costume, the bride chose a rose gabardine suit, with navy accessories.

For the occasion, the mother of the bride wore an afternoon dress of soft grey-blue crepe and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Mountain wore an aqua wool-crepe dressmaker suit, with a corsage of talisman roses.

The former Miss Klinger is a graduate of West High School and was employed by the U. S. Army Engineers until her marriage. Sgt. Mountain attended Southern Illinois Teachers College and the College of Advanced Traffic. He is a member of Chi Delta Chi Fraternity and was employed by Huber and Huber Transport Co. of Chicago prior to entering the Army on Dec. 24, 1941. He served six months in India.

After a short wedding trip, Sgt. and Mrs. Mountain will make their home in Nebraska, where he is at present serving as radar operator at Kearney Field, Kearney, Neb.

"TELL ME THE OLD, OLD STORY"
ARABELLA KATHERINE HANKEY

Tell me the old, old story,
Of unseen things above,
Of Jesus and His glory,
Of Jesus and His love.
Tell me the story simply,
As to a little child,
For I am weak and weary,
And helpless and defiled.

Little Stories of GREAT HYMNS
This song is taken from a poem of the life of Christ and His love, written by Miss Hankey during a long convalescence. Another hymn favorite taken from the latter part of the same poem is "I Love to Tell the Story."

Once again the time is at hand to remember our service men overseas that they may know the joy of Christmas. Mailing time for overseas packages is from Sept. 15. to Oct. 15.

Relatives and friends are urged to select carefully the type of article that may be safely sent overseas to the different parts of the world where American servicemen are stationed.

This in particular applies to food. A tight container is a necessity. Tin cans, sealed or tin boxes are best. These may be packed into boxes for mailing.

It is more important than ever this year to kep up the morale of the boys who are still overseas and never let them forget our undying gratitude for the sacrifices they have made.

half position, and Harold McMillan, Masdea and Jerry Chinn will divide the left half slot. Austin Hutt, track star, will fill in at fullback.

Last Half Team

After a slam-bang win over Springfield last year, the Cowboys simply did everything wrong in the first half of their opener there last Friday.

West's forward wall was outcharged by a country mile, blocking and tackling was high and ineffective and poor play selection made an unpolished backfield even worse. The result being a 13-0 half-time score on a 60-yard end run and a sustained march of some 50 yards by the Wildcats.

The boys seemed to have more life and football savvy after the half-time intermission, with the line charging better and a few additional plays brought out which culminated in a fourth period off-tackle slant by Walter Dean for 12 yards and a score.

Downfield blocking and pass completion were still faulty in the second half and were given special attention during the week's practice. Coach Dale Rose says he thinks that this concentration on offense, along with an improved spirit will be apparent in tonight's battle.

RECORDINGS—

material isn't there or hasn't become evident . . . the experience is sadly lacking and the capacity to think in the heat of action doesn't seem to be there either . . . in short there is a whole lot lacking.

Most of the bleacher quarterbacks were ready to throw in the towel at the half, but became somewhat interested in the third quarter.

After the boys have that first game tucked away under their belts, some fine improvements are sometimes made . . . but it is too bad that so many injuries came about in that initial game; they're hard to take at this stage of the game.

Reed Varner Describes Task Force Scene as War Ends

Local Naval Officer Has Served On WASP Since Its Commission

Lt. (j.g.) Reed W. Varner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Varner, 168 Eldon-av, is stationed on the WASP in the Pacific. The ship was commissioned in November, 1943 and he has been serving aboard since that time.

His parents received a letter last Friday, Sept. 14, from Lt. Varner in which he describes the day the news came aboard the WASP, to cease all hostilities. The letter reads as follows:

Attached to Task Force
August 21, 1945

"It has been just about a month since we rejoined the fleet. A lot has transpired during that period.

Even though it may mean several added months of sea duty for me, I am very glad that I was able to be with the task force when the order to cease hostilities was given.

The news was received on the WASP with a calmness and quietness so complete that an observer who did not know the situation might easily believe the message was on misfortune.

Silent thankfulness was the order of the moment and the same spirit continued to prevail throughout the day, sustained, perhaps by the fact that Japanese planes continued to attack at intervals for many hours.

Fly Victory Colors

I will never forget the picture that spread before me when I went topside an hour or so after the dispatch was received that morning. The day was as bright and clear as only a Pacific day can be.

All ships in the formation were flying battle colors which are ensigns of several times the size usually used and a sign of victory.

From each yard arm hung a series of signal flags repeating Admiral Halsey's message, 'Well done 3rd.' A most impressive sight."

Lt. (j.g.) Varner entered the service in April, 1943. A graduate of West High School, he attended Ohio State University for three years and was given his Master's Degree in Foresty at the University of Michigan in 1939.

If Hunting Is Your Hobby . . .

You know the game is scattered, the fields are vast, and the legs get mighty tired. A "Hunters' Manual," showing exact location of RABBITS — SQUIRRELS — QUAIL — DEER, might mean a full bag in a short time.

Let the Want AD section of THE HILLTOP RECORD be your "Hunters' Paradise" for quick satisfaction. The furnace repair man may be right around the corner . . . the floor refinisher is waiting for your telephone call . . . the contractor is ready to put in your driveway before cold weather.

The home, car, truck, or range that you need can be found somewhere in your neighborhood and THE HILLTOP RECORD tells you where. Storm windows, insulating materials, and roofing are to be found in these pages. It will also help you get rid of something that is no longer of value to you . . . but may be sought by others.

Choose THE HILLTOP RECORD as your "Hunters' Paradise" for year - round wants. An advertisment in the Want Ad Section will give you a chance at the game at a small cost.

"Two Little Girls In Blue"
There were two girls and they were twins
Often fooled their father and mother,
That's where a cowboy's trouble begins
Couldn't tell one from the other.
They say he was honest—loved one dearly
And asked her to marry him.
The other cowboys could see very clearly
That he was out on a limb.

Warn Against Sales Fraud

Pose As Vets To Gain More Sales

Columbus residents are urged to investigate thoroughly magazine subscription solicitors who may call at their homes, some of whom are using false means of obtaining money from credulous housewives and business places, according to Homer E. Frye, Columbus Better Business Bureau manager.

The racket runs from groups of girls who claim they are working in a contest to become government nurses and boys who claim to be working for points enough to win a prize enabling them to take flying lessons, to those who represent themselves as World War II veterans, in order to gain the sympathy of potential customers.

If the magazines are not wanted by the prospect, it is suggested that money be given to send the magazines to hospitals for the use of veterans.

The Washington office of the Veterans' Administration has publicly denounced magazine salesmen who pose as veterans to obtain sympathy for their sales efforts.

MAKE EVERY DAY NAVY DAY

From the Navy comes the announcement that a large portion of the fleet will sail from the Pacific waters in time to arrive at New York and other eastern ports as well as filling the west coast ports for a big Navy Day show on Oct. 27.

How the Navy department can see fit to tolerate time now for a Navy Day show is hard for us to understand.

While thousands of troops of the Army, Navy and Marine corps who have the necessary points to return to their homes, wait on islands of the Pacific, we have a large portion of our ships sailing for large city ports in order to make a show on Navy Day.

Every day right now will be Navy Day with the men who want to get home if these ships, every one of them, are used full time in transporting men back home.

It is a well known fact to every family of this community that know through their men and women in the service that thousands of men are idle and weary of waiting to get home. They have points and have nothing to do but wait. While they wait the Navy gets its ships prettied up for Navy Day.

Unless this short sighted program of the Navy's is supplemented immediately by one with more sense behind it there certainly will be less and less admiration for the gold braided society that seeks to maintain a large Navy in peace time.

From authentic sources we have it that every advanced base in the Pacific and those here at home have far more men than are needed for their operation. Then an already slow demobilization plan is hindered by Navy Day plans.

Every family of this community having member in the armed forces abroad should voice their disapproval of this action and should urge their representatives to insist on every ship of the fleet being used for transporting men home rather than tieing up the fleet for a Navy Day show even for a day.

HARD TO GET SETTLED

Chet Rinehart, 238 S. Warren-av, is back at his old job on the Record this week; after spending close to four years in the Army . . . he says he doesn't know that he will stay, because it's hard to get settled after such a long time of such close supervision.

Which brings to mind an article we read recently that 90% of the returning servicemen were expected to find a job other than the one on which they worked previous to service.

City Claims Are Reduced

Councilman Henry A. Koontz, chairman of the judiciary committee, said last week that city council had earmarked $7500 for claims against the city for the city for the year.

To date council has paid out $2508.30. These claims are for various items, such as holes in the street, dead limbs falling on cars, and city cars involved in accidents.

Koontz says, "The people of the city can help save their own money if they would report hazards on the streets and sidewalks to City Hall."

Many claims coming to the committee are turned down because of lack of evidence or the claimant is to blame.

City employees causing accidents are usually discharged or given days off, according to Koontz.

The business rooms involved are part of the Powell Estate, administered by the Trust Company of the Huntington National Bank, who reportedly handled the transaction.

The Hot Water Tank Co., The Plaque Shop and the Broad-Hague Beauty Shop are the business concerns involved in the move, at 2781, 2783 and 2785 W. Broad-st.

Mrs. Theresa Brennan, a neighbor, discovered an accumulation of newspapers and called police, who summoned a fire department ladder crew to gain entrance to the locked house.

This examination resulted in the assumption that Mrs. Outcalt had been stricken during the night and, when her husband found her and made an attempt to help her, he also collapsed.

According to Spears, what had previously been reported as bloodstains was diagnosed as body fluid resulting from decomposition. He said there was no marks of violence.

An only son, Edgar, of 923 S. Columbian-av, claimed to have talked to his father, who was a retired city employee, a little over a week ago.

The bodies were taken to the Jerry Spears Funeral Home, where further examination was to have been made by Dr. Richardson.

Hallowe'en Festival Is Planned At Community Council Meet

At the first fall meeting of the Hilltop Community Council held Thursday night at the Hilltop Lutheran Church, the plans for a roller skating rink to be built at Westgate Park were adopted, with the suggestions of the Civic Arts Commission, the City Park Commissioner and the City Engineering Department accepted. The City Engineers are now drawing up final specifications.

Changes in the original plan as submitted by the council had to be made before the three city bodies would accept the building of a rink in one of the city's parks.

Now that definite plans have been agreed upon, little if any delay is looked for in the building of the rink.

Campaign Continues

A subscription campaign being conducted by the council is being continued, as the new plans will entail additional expenditures over the amount set for the project.

Henry Geshwilm of the finance committee, announced that $900 had been raised to date.

Howdy Harrison Missing On Last Day of War Flight

Parents Request Aid of Cong. Vorys

A former West High and Ohio University football star, Lt. Howard M. (Howdy) Harrison, is missing following a mission over Japan on the last day war was declared over in that area.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard R. Lt. Harrison commanded a flight of six Grumann Hellcats from a carrier off the Jap coast. The men started back and all six men were attacked by 18 to 20 Jap fighter planes. Two of the six pilots returned to the carrier, but no trace of Lt. Harrison or his plane has been found.

Three weeks earlier, Lt. Harrison was forced to bail out of his plane because of Japanese fighter planes and he lay adrift in the water for seven hours before he was rescued by a PBM flying boat sent out to search for him after two squadron mates saw his plane crashing into the sea, persuaded their commanding officer to let them lead the rescue aircraft.

Lt. Harrison's father has asked the aid of Congressman John M. Vorys over the disappearance of his son. Also at work on the case in Congressman Forrest Harness, Kokomo, Ind.

A West High School graduate, Harrison was All City end on the West High football team in 1937 which won the city championship of Columbus. He was a student at Ohio University, Athens, O., for three years where he also starred in football.

"The True Glory" Is Epic War Film At Westmont

With jet-propulsion speed, the story of the campaign in Western Europe has been telescoped into a magnificent documentary of determined purpose, unflinching courage and horrific destruction.

To many, "The True Glory" will epitomize the long struggle and, consequently will emerge as the definitive film of the war. It is breathtaking in its magnitude, staggering in its scope. It is also impossible for us to grasp the fullest measure of its impact.

The film with its introduction and its occasionally interspersed word of General Eisenhower is no pretty picture. Its seascapes are rough and tumbling, its mighty scenes rent the air with high explosive, its dawns are merely preludes to new, or renewed attack.

The top feature on the bill is "Double Indemnity," starring Barbara Stanwyck and Fred MacMurray.

Unceasing War on a World of Killers

★ Leeuwenhoek, in 1683, was the first to disturb the privacy of the teeming bustle of the unseen world. The "wretched wee beasties" cavorting innocently under his lens were later indicted and convicted by Koch and Pasteur. Unbeknown to Leeuwenhoek, he had discovered a vicious and unseen world of killers, now known as bacteria, or germs.

The span of time between Leeuwenhoek and Pasteur was almost 200 years. Only an average lifetime has passed since Pasteur's experiments, during which practically all we know about disease and its treatment has been discovered. Our knowledge is expanding at an ever-increasing rate. The pharmacist works with the physician in bringing newer and better medication into the sickroom.

"SUNSET AND EVENING STAR"
— ALFRED TENNYSON —
Sunset and ev'ning star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Tennyson never wrote a poem more exquisite or inducing. The tender lines reveal the serene beauty of the sunset of Tennyson's life; a life of sweetness and love, and of firm faith.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Next week is Fire Prevention Week, a period of seven days set aside to make an attempt to impress upon the citizenry how important an ounce of prevention can be when fire is considered — and it should always be considered.

In a release from the Columbus Fire Department concerning Fire Prevention Week we note that in a year's time damage from fire in this country is greater than two years of the blitz in England, and that is going some.

Columbus, with its close watch for fires, has a very low loss of $1.01 per capita. The Hilltop community is even lower than this, which is due in part to the uncongested layout of this residential area and also to the carefulness on the part of our citizens.

ANOTHER BOY

It's another boy for Pvt. and Mrs. Ralph (Eva Lou Louden, born in University Hospital Tuesday. Mrs. Louden is a sister to Melba Powell, who came out from the West Coast for the big occasion.

The soldier-father arrived in town Sunday, just in time for the big event.

ALSO PLAYS PING-PONG

We note that Bob Snouffer, West's hard-running fullback, is also a table tennis expert . . . he is moving through a tournament of that sport up at Olentangy Village.

At times in that Linden game Bob looked like he might be attempting to play a little table tennis . . . maybe he just gets his sports mixed.

MOTOR SCHOOL

Doc Cramer is still relating the story of how he and Curt Wilcox went on a vacation trip to Michigan with the thought in mind to do a little fishing.

Before they started the good doctor purchased an outboard motor so the boys could easily get from the best fishing grounds to the better. As the story goes, he tried it out in a rain barrel first and it ran slick as could be . . .

He says that they had big plans for that motor, but when he installed it on a boat and started put-putting out through the lake his hopes began to fade as it sputtered, coughed and quit . . .

The great fishermen reconciled themselves to the fact by deciding they had reached the best grounds anyway. But when they were ready to move on (without any fish) they found that the motor wouldn't start . . .

After several hours of trying they gave up and rowed back in. Then the mechanical wizards tried it in the rain barrel again, and again it worked. But also it wouldn't work again when they got it in the lake.

We understand that they came to the decision that there was a difference between the water in the barrel and that in the lake, so have decided to run their motor in a rain barrel where they are sure that its performance will be top-notch.

THE BROOKLYN BRIDGE

We see that there must be some prankster with a Flatbush sense of humor . . . noticed one of those big real estate signs sitting on the front lawn of West High School which advertised the Powell-av institution for sale.

Maybe it was one of those newly born real estate men who has been working overtime in digging up listings.

Board 13 Inducts Four in September

Hilltop men inducted into the Army by Local Board 13 for September are as follows: John Richard Gilmore, 675 S. Burgess-av; Robert George Charnier, 2715½ Sullivant av, and Lee Dienst, 253 S. Brinker-av.

The Marine Corps got Richard Henry Geshwilm, 421 S. Terrace-av.

Banqueted

The Green Cab baseball squad was given a banquet by its manager, Mark Stevens, 666 S. Eureka-av, at the Grandview Inn Thursday night.

Guests were Mayor James Rhoades and Coaches Dale Rose and Mack Pemberton of West High School.

West To Meet East In City League Battle

Cowboys Develop As League Contender; Aquinas Is Tough

What was once considered a losing team was this week assuming the role of a leading contender for the city championship as the West High Cowboys got ready to tackle East this afternoon after knocking off a heavy Linden McKinley squad 20-0 on the local field last week.

The Hilltoppers will be out after their third victory when they invade the East field at 3:15 this afternoon to face a fast-breaking veteran squad.

Coach Dale Rose said yesterday that Bruno Masdea, flashy spot-runner on last year's squad, looked like he would be ready to see service after being out all year with a bad ankle. However, he is not expected to start.

Slager Warms Up

Starting backfield will be Slager at quarter, McMillan and Sapp at the halves and Snouffer at full. Slager figured in all of West's scoring last week by tossing two touchdown passes and plunging for the other. McMillan and Sapp are steadily improving as ball carriers and defensive halfbacks.

After a two-touchdown scoring spree in the 25-7 defeat of Marion, Snouffer was unimpressive as a ball-carrier and line-backer Friday, but was throwing murderous blocks to clear the way for West backs. He was reported to be suffering from a cold.

Good Competition

East was impressively fast and defensively good in stopping Central's power backs last week. Using both the T and single-wing, they showed plenty of deception with around end sweeps and off-tackle slants and reverses, as well as a good passing attack.

They will be further strengthened this week by the return to the lineup of bruising Fullback Corotis who was out with a bad hand last week. Center Phillips, a clever line-backer will be hard to deceive by the West attack.

Wear 'em Down

Last Friday's McKinley game was a dull affair through the first half as the Cowboys stuck to their ground attack in a bruising display of power against a stone wall defense.

Slager and Snouffer, aided by McMillan and Sapp, continually banged into the middle of Linden's line, with little or no progress, then skirted the ends but were slowed up by a soft underfooting. Although threatening

In his well received address before a majority of the members of the local club, Moore said:

"The newspapers are the only complete histories being written of the doings of the so-called human race.

"They have just recorded the biggest story since the crucifixion World War II. I wonder how many readers there are, casually unfolding their papers to glance at the headlines before turning to the comics who consider the tremendous amount of work, money and effort involved in getting those stories to them from all parts of the world.

"Never has a war been so thoroughly covered by war correspondents and photographers as this one. Never has the cost been so high. Thirty-one American

Beautification Project Underway At West

BY JACK JONES
West High Student

There's a new atmosphere around West High School these fall days.

With the advent of the new principal, Irvin F. Young, to the Hilltop school, many innovations are being planned and instituted.

Not the least of these is the floral landscape contributions of Leo L. McComb, who operates and manages the Rosebud Floral, 351 N. Burgess-av. He gratuitously presented more than 300 choice, variegated chrysanthemums to the school.

Brightens Football Field

The beautification project was inaugurated at West High Friday, Sept. 28, where it was first on display before a capacity crowd at the Linden-West football game on the local field.

The project was introduced and supervised by Mr. Young, aided by two members of the faculty, E. C. Reed, botany instructor, and C. F. Bateman, shop teacher.

Thirty boys of the student body helped plan, cultivate the ground, and plant the mums at the east entrances to the building and in Magley Stadium.

Additional Improvements

New shrubs and hedges will be added later, with fences around the yards to protect them.

A group of boys forming a clean-up crew going around picking up stray paper in the yards will soon be formed by Mr. Young.

The chrysanthemums, which are the main part of the project, were donated by Mr. McComb, a former grad, who, with his son Bob, a student here, helped to supervise the planning.

Color Scheme

The main theme of the planning is red and white (Junior High School colors) chrysanthemums planted around the Jr. High door, with buff and brown (Senior High colors) around the Senior High entrance, thus symbolizing the respective school colors.

Assorted colors of all sizes helps to beautify the athletic field by their vivid, brilliant colors along the fence.

Community Hallowe'en Party Is Being Planned for Hilltop

Window Painting, Roller Skating And Dancing to be Included

Remember those old fashioned Hallowe'en parties in which every member of the family took part? This year Hilltop families are invited to participate in the first community Hallowe'en celebration to be held here.

Under the sponsorship of the Hilltop Community Council, an organization composed of representatives from most Hilltop groups, a program is being laid out which will be of interest to young and old alike.

Store Windows To Be Painted

As a preliminary to the night celebration, all art groups and individuals with artistic ability will be recruited from the Hilltop schools and asked to paint huge Halowe'en scenes on some of the prominent store windows on the Hilltop.

This part of the program will probably be sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, or Hilltop Business Men's Association, which will furnish the necessary water paint for the pictures, and will furnish prizes for the winners in the contest.

Tentative plans call for the painting to be done on Sunday afternoon before Hallowe'en, so the people of the community may se the artists at work.

Costume Contest

Prizes will be awarded to five different age groups in the Hallowe'en costume contest which will be staged as a grand march the night of the party. Prizes will be awarded in three classifications, the most beautiful, funniest and most original, making a total of 15 awards. This is open to every young person on the Hilltop.

Street Dancing and Roller Skating

One of the main streets will be roped off Hallowe'en night, and space allotted for dancing to one or more musical groups, while another section will be reserved for the smaller children to roller skate.

The organization of the committee from representatives of Hilltop groups will be completed next Monday evening, and next week's Record will give a detailed account of the great variety of stunts and amusement features which the committee will foster.

Romantic Comedy at Westmont

For all those young people who are in love, or who are making plans to get married, here is a little advice: Before you take that vital step be sure and see Robert Young and Laraine Day in "Those Endearing Young Charms," a smart modern romantic comedy spiced with sparkling dialogue, opening at the Westmont Theater Sunday, Oct. 7, for a three-day engagement.

The movie shows how a young girl very much in love, tames the man she hopes to marry, completely obliterating all of his wolfish tendencies. It all starts when Bill Williams introduces his best-friend, Robert Young, to his best girl, Laraine Day.

Young turns on his charm to full power and Bill finds himself out in the cold, cold world. But Young, a transport flier who has left a chain of broken hearts from Frisco to New York, meets his match when he spars with Miss Day.

Added attraction is "Adventures of Rusty," staring Ted Donaldson.

DO IT WITH THY MIGHT

★ Faith gives healing a great impetus. The will to live has carried many past the valley of the shadow. The writer of Ecclesiastes says, "Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."

The man who puts his heart into both work and play gives his life purpose and direction. When illness comes, he is ready to fight it with a disciplined will. Add to this the skill of a competent physician and the combination is hard to beat. We are prescription specialists.

'Let Republicans Finish the Job,' Say Councilmen

A plea to "let the Republicans finish the job" of putting the city back on "sound financial footing," was issued this week by the three Republicans — O. J. Fillinger, Joseph R. Jones and Henry A. Koontz—who are seeking to return to City Council at the November 6 election.

Pointing to the pledge the Republicans made to Columbus citizens when they took over control of council January 1, 1944, the three council candidates said:

"We Republicans in council are carrying out this promise to the letter. When control of council changed, there was an operating deficit of more than $1,000,000. Today, that deficit has been reduced to $400,000 and the city is operating within its income for the first time in years."

"BLEST BE THE TIE THAT BINDS"
— — — DR. JOHN FAWCETT — — —

Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts in Christian love;
The fellowship of kindred minds
Is like to that above.

Dr. Fawcett, ministering in a small Yorkshire village for equally small stipend, had accepted the call of a prominent London church. But the tearful entreaties of his devoted parishioners prevailed upon him to remain. He could never sever the tie that bound them. Soon after, he wrote the beloved BLEST BE THE TIE THAT BINDS.

West to Meet

once when Slager was knocked out of bounds on the Linden nine-yard line, the half ended in a 0-0 agree.

In the third period, Slager went over from the four after a series of running plays, mixed with short over-the-line passes had moved the ball to that point. Ed Moore place-kicked the extra point.

Lightning Strikes

The Cowboys struck fast for two touchdowns in the fourth period when Slager unlimbered his pitching arm. He tossed one from the West 21 that Thrush gathered in behind enemy defenders on his 48 and raced over for the score. Moore's kick was blocked.

When Linden's Hanawalt fumbled the ensuing kickoff on his 28, Jack Thrush, who played a bang-up offensive game, fell on it. On the next play, Slager whipped an aerial to substitute end Jim Price for the final touchdown. Moore made it 20-0 by kicking the extra point.

Played in a boiling sun, the game was the roughest of the season. Both teams were hitting hard with vicious tackles and blocks. Linden had no less than eight casualties, with several West players being relieved during the fray.

North's 25-0 defeat at the hands of Aquinas, South's one-touchdown margin over St. Marys and East's 7-6 win over Central left West and Aquinas as the leading contenders for the league race.

However, East and Central rank as strong barricades for the Cowboys before they get a crack at Aquinas in the home-coming game and close out the season with North.

The Cowboys battle South on the local field next Friday afternoon.

Unparalleled Valor

"Now, that the war is over, there will be many formal volumes of history prepared. Historians will paw through the records and write their books. Nothing they will write will have the touch of realism, the smell of mud and blood, the stark awfulness of battle, of unparalleled valor and sacrifice, that will compare with those stories written by the indefatigable correspondents. Those were stories written from battleships, from fox holes, telling the heroic exploits of American boys — 'the soft pampered youth of Democracy' as the dictators called them in an ill advised moment.

"This covering of the war is only one of the continuous services of the American press, whose unrelenting purpose is to keep the public informed on all issues at home and abroad.

"Press freedom is the light in the torch of democracy. When it is extinguished, the land lapses into the darkness of dictatorship, with consequent loss of liberty."

Brothers Meet On Okinawa By Chance

Howell Walters, Jr., and Paul Jones, half-brothers in the Army and sons of Mrs. David W. Jones, 431 S. Ogden-av, met by a coincidence the early part of September on Okinawa.

Howell had been overseas almost three years, serving in the Pacific. Paul arrived overseas at Okinawa on Sept. 10 and he knew his brother was stationed nearby. He asked everyone he saw if they knew where his organization was located so that he might find Howell.

It was only the second day and Howell stopped beside a bulldozer to ask the same question and it so happened it was Paul who looked down from atop the bulldozer and grinned at his brother.

The brothers spent that day together talking of their old friends and catching up on all their news of Columbus. They are able to see each other almost every day.

If Hunting Is Your Hobby . . .

You know the game is scattered, the fields are vast, and the legs get mighty tired. A "Hunters' Manual," showing exact location of RABBITS — SQUIRRELS — QUAIL — DEER, might mean a full bag in a short time.

Let the Want AD section of THE HILLTOP RECORD be your "Hunters' Paradise" for quick satisfaction. The furnace repair man may be right around the corner . . . the floor refinisher is waiting for your telephone call . . . the contractor is ready to put in your driveway before cold weather.

The home, car, truck, or range that you need can be found somewhere in your neighborhood and THE HILLTOP RECORD tells you where. Storm windows, insulating materials, and roofing are to be found in these pages. It will also help you get rid of something that is no longer of value to you . . . but may be sought by others.

Hilltop Record
2465 W. Broad St.
Columbus, Ohio
Sir:

The writer and members of the Columbus Police Athletic Association would like to express their thanks and appreciation to the Hilltop Record for the cooperation given in helping us make the Columbus Outdoor Thrill Circus, held on July 18th to 22nd, 1945, at the Red Bird Stadium, a success.

From numerous letters and comments we have received from the general public and business men of our city, we feel that the Association brought to the citizens of this community a clean, professional, outdoor show, that was enjoyed by everyone—old and young.

Looking forward to a bigger and better Outdoor Police Thrill Show in the city of Columbus in 1946, we are,

Sincerely yours,
Captain Glenn C. Hoffman,
President Columbus Police Athletic Association

I Never Knew

I never knew so many flowers
Adorned our pathway here.
I never knew the passing hours
Could memories hold so dear.
I never knew that certain words
Could all our fears erase.
I never heard the song of birds
Until I saw your face.

I never knew the moon could shine
So brightly in the sky.
I never knew the heart could pine,
When loved ones said good bye.
I never knew a knowing smile
Could make one feel so grand.
I never felt my life worthwhile
Until I touched your hand.

I never knew that just a walk
Could hold so many thrills.
Or just an understanding talk,
Could cure so many ills.
I never knew one's happiness,
Could be so near divine.
But I have felt that happiness
Since you said that you're mine.

Mrs. Orus A. Sheward
318 S. Ogden Ave.
Columbus 4, Ohio.

"The Atomic Bomb"

Who can say it wasn't the hand of fate
That gave us the atomic bomb?
A just recompense for spite and hate
And hurry Japan to her doom?
To save the lives of Christian people
Trying to follow his plan,
Vengeance is mine said the Lord Divine
So he had to destroy Japan.

The Bible has these words on display
"A Jeasous God Am I"
Those who look to idols when they pray
Will surely have to die.
He has the power to turn back the hour
Send nations to their doom.
Their suicide squad insulted our God
So he gave us the atomic bomb.

Moore-Durante Show To Boost War Chest Drive Here

Jimmy Durante and Garry Moore, stars of the CBS-WBNS show heard Fridays at 10 p. m., will bring their entire company to Memorial Hall Tuesday evening, Oct. 9, for the opening of the Community War Chest campaign for $1,487,000.

Columbus is One of Two Cities To Be Honored by Famed Comedians

The fourth consecutive Community War Chest campaign will have its formal opening with a big rally at Memorial Hall at 8 p. m. Tuesday, October 16. At this time final instructions will be given volunteer workers who will make the actual solicitation of funds for a goal of $1,487,000. Albert M. Miller and Ralph D. Henderson, president and campaign chairman, respectively, of the Chest, will speak.

Major portion of the evening will be given over to sheer fun as dished out by Jimmy (The Rose) Durante, Garry Moore and Company. Admission will be by ticket.

The entire Durante-Moore company including Jimmy and Garry, Maestro Jerry Gary, Songstress Jeri Sullivan and Announcer Howard Petrie, will stage a special War Chest program for the campaign workers. This show is heard at 10 p. m. Friday over WBNS.

Columbus is one of two cities to be so honored, the other being Boston, Mass. The weekly Durante-Moore radio show will be broadcast from Boston Friday evening, Oct. 12.

To End Next Year

The Chest drive will continue until Nov. 5. Funds raised will support 67 local welfare agencies for the next 12 months and National War Fund agencies, including USO, for a 15-month period. National War Fund will liquidate at the end of 1946.

"We must face the facts and realize that we still have a job to do," Ralph D. Henderson, chairman, said. "If everyone will stop and think what needs these Chest agencies will be meeting next year, this campaign will be the success the three previous ones have been."

A corps of 4000 volunteer workers have been organized under Mr. Henderson's leadership to put this last War Chest drive

BACK TO WORK

Comes Publisher C. Carlton Hartley after two years and four months of Naval service . . . and we do mean back to work! Arriving at the office Monday morning he found that he was without a desk, and with the typical Hartley attitude started in to do something about it . . .

He produced crowbars, hammers, screwdrivers, etc., and promptly went to work tearing out partitions into the morgue, washing walls and was yesterday applying the paint . . . he says he will have himself an office by the week-end.

Hartley arrived in town Sunday night from San Francisco where he was released after a trip from Pearl Harbor on the old Saratoga, along with some 3500 other men.

ONE WAY

We note that the Fayette County draft board has taken drastic action in an attempt to get the government to put some teeth into their action with strikers . . .

They have refused to draft any more men until Washington comes along with a hard and fast rule that will put an end to tie-ups in both commercial and military contracts.

WHY?

Is it necessary for civic organizations to pay such a high rate of rental for use of public school buildings . . . listening to plans for affairs which require the use of some parts of school buildings, there is always the big question of "Can afford to pay that much for that amount of space?"

An example is the suggestion to use the gym and cafeteria of West High School for a Hallowe'en party put on by the Community Council and all other Hilltop organizations. An unofficial estimate given by an employee of the Columbus Board of Education was around $75.

This in our estimation is an unusual rate inasmuch as the only expense to the school system would be the time of a couple of janitors who are paid approximately 75 cents an hour for their work, and what little heat, light and water would be used.

We agree that any commercial proposition should be expected to provide the system with some of their profit . . . but a civic organization that is trying to help the school kids of the community in their orderly celebration of Hallowe'en should be given a break on the deal.

PROMOTED

S1/c Robert B. Weakley, son of Poetry Editor Esther Weakly of 3 Belvidere-av, has been promoted to the rank of SM3/c . . . he has been stationed on the island of Terceira of the Azores group for the past year.

A graduate of West High, Weakley is 19 years old.

FUTURE TEAM

West High Coach Dale Rose is well on his way to a future football squad . . . his third boy was born Saturday at Mt. Carmel Hospital . . . the entire sports department is reported to be doing fine.

WRONG GUY

Bob Snouffer, West's speedy fullback, informs us that we had spoken of the wrong Snouffer in relation to a table tennis tournament last week . . . he says that he can't even play the game, also that he was aware of the kind of game he played against Linden but he didn't care about the whole Hilltop knowing it.

Sorry Bob, we were assuming again . . . and the reason that we mentioned the type of game played is because we know what kind of a game of which you are capable.

Dads To Be Honored At West-South Game

Cowboys Battle East To Scoreless Tie; Lead League

The West High School Cowboys face South's Bulldogs at Mugly Field this afternoon at 3:15 before an expected capacity Dad's Day crowd. West has a record of one win and one tie in City League play, while South has yet to win a game but is credited with a tie against Central last week.

According to Coach Dale Rose, the Cowboys have an added injury to their long list. Fullback Bob Snouffer hurt his hip in last week's game with East and has been unable to practice since.

Bruno Masdea, who saw limited service in last week's fray, was suffering from a severe cold. Walter Dean and Bill Smith are still out of the picture because of knee injuries.

Other changes will probably be made to fill in for bad showing at some positions in the East game.

Changed Line-up

The backfield looks like Slager at his quarterback spot, Paul Layman at fullback and a toss-up between Sapp, Chinn and McMillan at the halves. This will mean a slower-moving backfield, but Layman's blocking should prove to be an effective factor.

Senior Jim Price, who looked good defensively against East, will probably get the call over Sophomore Jack Thrush at one of the ends, with Bob Miles holding down the other. Eckle and Ginn should go again at the tackles, with up-and-coming Don Borsor and veteran Jerry Miller at the guards. Watts will start at center.

Tie In Crucial Game

Last Friday the Cowboys ran into tough going against East and were battled to a scoreless tie by a fast-charging East forward wall which was helped along by several West fumbles at critical times.

Played on a soggy field while a light rain fell all through the game, the Hilltoppers were forced to stick mostly to line play at which they were out-matched. East's ends continually stopped the Cowboy sweeps on which there was very little blocking.

Slager's passes were kept pretty well ineffective by the rain and an alert East defense. However, a few were completed for good gains.

Threaten Early

West threatened to score in the first quarter when they recovered an East fumble on the Tiger 45 and smashed to the four where a bad pass from center resulted in a fumble and East kicked out of danger.

The Cowboys again started a drive late in the fourth quarter from their own 20. Jerry Chinn dashed off tackle and went to the 35. A pass from Slager to Thrush was good to the Tiger 25 but, after a sweep and line plays failed to gain, another Slager pass was intercepted by East, who held the ball until the final gun.

Next Friday will see the Cowboys battle Central on the West field. Central has been beaten by East 7-6 and last week played a 6-6 tie with South.

Rosebud, Yost To Display Flowers

Workmen are busy preparing the City Hall grounds for the annual flower show which starts today and will continue for three days. Flowers valued at $250,000 will be exhibited at the show.

Ray Dietz, chairman of the show, said that flowers will be displayed from all sides of the building this year instead of the W. Broad side, as was the case in previous years.

Most of the flowers on display will be chrysanthemums. Many varieties of which will be displayed both inside and outside the building.

Leo L. McComb, proprietor of the Rosebud Floral Co., 351 N. Burgess-av, will present a talk this afternoon on the subject of "Chrysanthemums." He will also have a display of chrysanthemums, including several new varieties, on the outside of the building.

Yost Florists will also have a display of chrysanthemums and other flowers on the inside of the building.

The displays will be a bit limited this year, due to the shortage of mums, according to several Hilltop florists.

The Columbus Boychoir and the Columbus Concert Band will perform at Sunday's session, according to Mayor Rhoades. The choir will sing at 3:00 p. m. with the band playing from 2:00 to 4:00.

Onward, Christian soldiers,
Marching as to war,
With the cross of Jesus
Going on before!

See His banners go.

The occasion for the writing of this famous marching hymn was a union of the Sunday Schools of Yorkshire, England, in 1865. With banners waving, and crosses high, the children proceeded from one village to another, singing enthusiastically and forgetting the tiresome journey.

Community Junior Theatre Announces Year's Schedule

Tickets are now on sale for the Community Junior Theatre 1945-46 season. This project for children's entertainment which started last year under the auspices of the Junior League, is this year, a part of the civic program.

This year's schedule of entertainment will start Oct. 20 with a magic show to be presented by "Myrthquake Magician Courtney," to be presented at Memorial Hall. In November, "Circus Day" will be held at the same location.

A Christmas play by the Capital University Players will tour the city's high schools in December.

Program Announced

The Ohio State University Symphonic Band will appear at Memorial Hall in January to teach the various musical instruments to the children.

February will bring a water carnival in the Ohio State University Natatorium and the Ohio State University Players will present a stage production, "The Ghost of Mr. Penny."

"Babyaza," a puppet show, is on the April program and the Columbus Boychoir will close the season in May with a special concert.

Last year several programs were presented that were especially suited to children of elementary school age. They were given in three auditoriums and were excellently received.

Board Formed

At the end of the year interest in the undertaking had grown to such an extent that a community board was formed to have a part in the planning and organization of the theatre.

This board is composed of men and women from the community and from the executive and recreational fields of Columbus.

This year a greatly enlarged series of programs is being planned. The season tickets are ninety cents and may be purchased at the Junior League offices, 8 E. Long-st, or may be obtained from Todd's Drug Store, 2467 W. Broad-st, or at Todd's Pharmacy, 2572 Sullivant-av. Single admission tickets sell for 25 cents.

"West Side And Hilltop Needs Me," Koontz

Councilman Henry A. Koontz, in a speech before the 11th Ward Republican Club last week, stated that he was the only representative from the Hilltop in Council and was the only one running for the position from this part of town.

He pointed out that if he was defeated, the Hilltop would be without any representative in Council. If that should occur, it would be the first time in the history of the city.

Koontz pointed to the favorable financial condition of the city after two years of the present council.

He stated that council had negotiated a fee of one and one half million dollars from the street car company, the increase in licenses of taxi cabs from $25 to $125 per year.

He urged his election to safeguard the Hilltop representation in Council.

Capt. Smith Urges Precaution In Emergency Cases

Capt. Albert Smith, in charge of fire department emergency work, this week urged the public to use great precautions in the handling of accident victims.

Inexperienced but well meaning by-standers often peril the lives of the injured by moving them before the emergency squads arrive at the scene. He pointed to several recent cases where broken bones were forced through the flesh of accident victims. Such persons should be moved by trained squadmen, who know how to remove such victims from the wreckage of cars without further injury.

Capt. Smith also urges motorists to pull over to the curb and give the squad cars a better chance in traffic. The quicker the squad car reaches the scene of the accident, the better chance the injured may have to survive.

So pull over to the curb when you hear the sirens on any emergency vehicle.

Retires from Railroad

William R. Gilbert, 318 N. Burgess-av, retired from the Pennsylvania Railroad October 1, after 43 years service as conductor. He was conductor on the Jeffersonian for two years and finished his duties as conductor on the St. Louis and The American.

Mr. Gilbert was given a leave of absence for one month in February from the railroad. He and Mrs. Gilbert made an extended trip into Old Mexico, Texas, and California, but decided to spend the remainder of their trip at Pickerel Lake, Newaygo, Mich., where their summer home is located.

Back to Civies

Out of the moth balls came my old clothes this past week and into the closet went a number of Navy uniforms, and it goes without saying that I'm certainly glad to join that group of wearers of that little gold discharge button.

And better yet it's good to get back to the Hilltop and know that those long days of such things as standing in lines, saluting, attending inspections, and all the general gold bricking of the service are over.

I'm particularly glad to be back at the Record and now that I've found myself a desk again I'll attempt to get in the swing of things and try again to add my bit to giving the Hilltop a good community newspaper.

Thanks To The Gang

First and foremost may I publicly thank the gang at the Record for their fine efforts in my absence. I'm fully aware of the many difficulties encountered during the war months in getting out a good paper. Our readers and customers are likewise to be thanked for their cooperation and thoughtfulness in these trying times.

Each day now is finding us just a little closer to normal production again and we are daily assuming that the emergency is over and are trying our best to get the old ship back on an even keel. We anticipate that our old Record staff will be complete in a few weeks. This week we are glad to welcome back another of our old standbys, Homer Prince.

So again, thanks to all the Record employees for your very fine job in my absence. It was well done.

Round About The Hill

Names make the news and each week we'll attempt herein to furnish you some local news making names. For example: Mo and Mildred Williams returned last week from a much needed rest down Florida way (how I don't envy anyone who wants to go to Florida) . . . Diminutive Melba Powell, erstwhile Hilltopper, but now of Los Angeles, returned to her home there this week . . . T/Sgt. William T. Elliott, late of Paris, France, back from the wars in Europe and accompanied by "Babe". Now get it straight—Babe is a five-year-old terrier who accompanied Bill on all his missions, and he is rightfully proud of her. Welcome to the Hilltop, Babe . . . Jack Shank back from a trip to the Smokies (latest stories censored) . . . Bill Moore, former Record linotyper, also back from Europe and glad to see his family of girls . . . Now it's Major Bob Ferguson and last word was that he was enroute here by way of Calcutta . . . His brother Bill is still up around Okinawa in his Navy blue . . . Eugene Feutral out Wilson Rd way now operates his own Rural Electric Service . . . Comes next week Charley Kent will have a tenth anniversary message for his friends. Naturally we classify Charley as a man of good judgment since he has used an ad in the Record each week of the 10 years he has been in business here . . . Ed McGurer tells me he has some of his old help back and it looks like old times at his garage.

Notes In Passing

It's many a lad who will welcome that new Navy point reduction on Nov. 1, but don't let anybody kid you that the Navy or the Army can't spare their men right now . . . Understand teachers don't like to be caricatured, 'cause they claim such doings don't attract attractive prospects to their profession . . . We know a young lady who thought it most unusual that some people put catsup in their bean soup. Try it sometime . . . And we know another young lady who would be delighted if her sailor boy friend and one and only would give her a cedar chest for Christmas . . . "Rhapsody In Blue," coming soon, is everything it is cracked up to be (we saw it in Frisco while waiting between lines at the Navy separation center) . . .

Inside Location Is Considered As School System Offers Low Rent

Plans for the first Hilltop Community Halloween Party were being organized this week, as committees representing all organizations went to work in cooperation with the Hilltop Community Council.

Originally planned to be held outdoors in front of West High School on Powell-av, the Columbus Public School System has shown some concern over the welfare of the grass and flowers adorning the lawn of the school building.

S. L. Gingery, business manager, suggested Monday that the unprecedented affair be held on the inside of the school building where this would be prevented. He said that the space which was needed [illegible] This was being considered by a committee in charge with [illegible] possibility of adoption.

A committee representing the Hilltop Business Men's Association is making plans for judging and awarding prizes to costumers.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club is working with local schools to set up a window-painting contest. Prizes are to be awarded in three groups, elementary, junior high and senior high.

Other organizations working are all P.-T. A. groups, Blue Star Mothers, American Legion, and others.

Wanted: 10 High School Boys or Girls

Regular year round part time employment is available at The Hilltop Record for about ten high school age boys or girls who are interested in making good money during their after school and Saturday hours.

Effective this week The Record is establishing a Little Merchant Subscription Collection System.

In effect the plan will work like this: It will be about like an insurance debit. Each of the young men and women employed will be set up in business for themselves and given an opportunity to build their business to the proportions of their abilities.

Each one employed will be given a district on the Hilltop to supervise. It will not involve carrying papers but will merely call for them to service their accounts.

A payment plan has been set up which will prove of extreme interest to those employed. In two evenings previous to press time two boys have averaged $1.65 per hour for their efforts.

Additional monthly cash prizes will be offered and present plans call for a Christmas party for the group.

In addition to providing satisfactory pay for their efforts the plan will give each one employed very valuable training in their contacts with the public which should be of much more value to them in future years.

Only those who follow through and complete the job assigned to them will be permitted to retain their districts. To those doing exceptionally good jobs additional territory will be available.

Parents interested in having their sons or daughters employed in profitable part time work are asked to have them report at the Record office for an interview.

THE FRUIT OF UNCEASING LABOR

★ Between 1911 and 1935, a brief span of twenty-five years, extraordinary progress was made in public health. According to figures released by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the duration of human life during this period was extended by almost fourteen years. It is all the more remarkable in the light of the history of this period, which included the first World War, the worst epidemic in recent history, and America's most severe depression.

Many agencies have contributed to make America a more healthful place in which to live. Not the least of these are scientific medicine and pharmacy, which work unceasingly for better methods of prevention and treatment of disease.

A lovely gown of filmy white chiffon was chosen by Miss Bernice Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shepard, 491 Wrexham-av, for her wedding to Mr. Ralph W. Murdock, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Murdock of Washington, D. C.

Fashioned with a deep sweetheart neckline, bordered by a deep ruffle of Chantilly lace, the gown ended in a sweeping train. The bishop sleeves terminated in cuffs of the same lace. A fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a coronet of French orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was an amethyst lavellierre, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and gardenias, centered with blue carnations.

The ceremony took place at the Glenwood Methodist Church, Sunday, Oct. 14, at 3:30 p. m. with the Rev. Joseph Shellhaas officiating. An altar banked with white gladioli and fern formed a lovely background for the wedding. Three tall white candelabra added to the beauty of the scene. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. John Schumiok was matron of honor, while Miss Evelyn McDaniels served as maid of honor. They wore identical gowns of blue, with bodices of jersey and full net skirts. Their bouquets were talisman roses and they wore tiaras of the same flowers in their hair.

Mr. James Nolan served as best man for the bridegroom. The ushers were Mr. Floyd West and Mr. Ralph Hyer.

For the occasion, the mother of the bride chose a gown of royal blue crepe, with fuschia accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses and white carnations.

"AMERICA, THE BEAUTIFUL"
KATHERINE LEE BATES
O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

This patriotic hymn was inspired by a journey from East to West in 1893. The white buildings of the Columbian Exposition—the expanse of spacious skies—the purple mountain majesties impressed her vividly. Each line voices the true patriot's dream for a future when all this natural beauty may be undimmed by human tears.

Court Father Is Candidate for Judge

"Father of the Municipal Court of Columbus," is a title often applied to Francis M. Thompson, now a candidate for Presiding Judge, because it was Mr. Thompson, who, while a member of the General Assembly of Ohio, introduced and followed through the final legislation that established the court.

Mr. Thompson as an attorney, also had much to do with establishing the jurisdiction of the Municipal Court in Land Contract Sales cases, by persuading the Court of Appeals to broaden several of its decisions to include instructions for the guidance of the Municipal Judges.

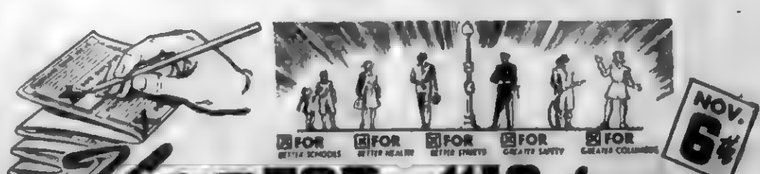
Vote ☒ FOR JOBS and PROGRESS



IT SEEMS a long time since our men and women went away to serve in the armed forces. Now they are coming home.

It has been a long time since Columbus and Franklin County have made any major improvements. Now is our opportunity to make this a better community—bringing new industries and opportunity and prosperity for returning veterans—for all of us!

The 16 issues for Jobs and Progress will provide the equivalent of work for 15,682 persons for a year. The carefully planned projects will benefit everyone in the community . . .

Health and welfare, sewage and sanitation, police and fire protection, new and modernized schools, a self-supporting auditorium for veterans and sports events and conventions, more hospital beds, recreation and safety, a new children's home.

Announcement

I am pleased to announce that I have purchased the Hauntz Food Market and will continue to operate it under the same name.

For the past 15 years I have been a resident of the Hilltop and actively engaged in the management of grocery businesses during this time. I am well acquainted with the fact that the Hauntz Market has always rated a top position among Columbus independent food stores by providing the best in merchandise and service.

It is our sincere desire to carry on the tradition established by the late Ray G. Hauntz in maintaining on the Hilltop the finest food store in the city.

In recent months many items have not been available but as the emergency passes and scarce items once again appear on the market we will again be in a position to fill your every food need. If we do not have what you ask for today don't hesitate to ask again on your next visit.

May I take this opportunity to ask that you drop in and get acquainted. I welcome the opportunity to thank you for your continued patronage.

—Franklin D. Sparks

Stationed at Norfolk

Howard Eugene Ford, F1/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ford, 356 Larcomb-av, was recently home on a 30-day leave after serving overseas in the South Pacific. He wears four battle stars.

He entered the service in January, 1944, and went overseas last April. Howard returned Friday, Oct. 6, to Norfolk, Va.

Excuse us, pleze!

We don't want to be accused of getting "high hat." Even though we have been advertising "better goods," we are well aware of the fact that we have built our business on the best popular-priced merchandise available at moderate prices and this will be our policy in years to come.

Although we advertise Hats for men at 6.50, 7.50 and 10.00, remember we also have a complete big range of fine fur felt Hats at 4.95.

Other low-price, top-notch lines we feature are:

"TRU-VAL" SHIRTS at 1.65
"KERRY-KUT" PAJAMAS at 2.29
"COOPER" *JOCKEY SHORTS at 60c
"BOTANY" AND ARROW TIES at $1
"MONARCH" UNION SUITS at 1.69
"HICKOK" BELTS AND SUSPENDERS at $1
"FRUIT OF THE LOOM" *SHIRTS and SHORTS at 39c
"SEAL-PAK" HANDKERCHIEFS at 10c
"TEST" OVERALLS AND JACKETS at 1.69
"WOLVERINE" HORSEHIDE WORK GLOVES at 1.39

and, of course, many, many others

*To avoid misunderstanding we DO NOT have all of these items in stock today but are looking forward to increased allotments in the near future.

Cowboys To Meet Pirates Friday On Magley Field

Defeat South 13-7 In Hard Battle

Playing before a capacity crowd, the West Cowboys blasted a 13-7 win over the South Bulldogs on the winner's field, Friday, October 12.

The game was under way with a bang, West receiving the kickoff on their own 37. On the third play of the game, Dick Slager circled left end for 10 yards and the Cowboys initial first down of the game. After an attempted pass—Slager to Bob Miles—and runs by Slager and Jerry Chinn failed to gain, the Cowboys were forced to punt, Slager kicking to the South 15. South fumbling, West recovering the punt. Gains by Slager, Bob Snouffer and Bill Sapp carried the ball to the South 3 from where Bruno Masdea smashed over for the initial touchdown of the ball game. Jack Thrush ran the count to seven for the Bucks by booting the pigskin squirely between the uprights.

South, unable to gain after receiving Borror's kickoff, returned the ball to the Cowboys on a long punt to goal into the end zone. The Rosemen taking the ball on the 20. After a series of five first downs and some beautiful offensive playing by Slager, Snouffer, McMillen, Masdea and team, the Cowboys romped to the second score of the contest, Slager scoring on a quarterback sneak. The conversion was blocked, Jim Price recovering and attempting to carry it over was swamped by the Bulldog kennels. The score, West 13, South, 0. After being scored upon twice the Bulldogs began to put on an offensive show of their own, racking up 2 first downs before the gun ended the first half.

The second half got under way with West receiving the kick. Unable to gain, the Cowboys kicked to South 43. South then began an offensive march that netted them two more first downs and a six pointer. That Bulldog march took them from their own 48 to paydirt. The conversion was good, Thompson kicking.

The Cowboys received the kickoff and after clicking two more first downs, lost the ball on South's 32 via a fumble. South in turn held for downs, kicked. The Cowboys then ran up two more first downs, losing the ball on a fumble on the Bulldog's 35. That offensive showing included two Slager Miles passes.

The Bulldogs, not wanting to be out-done, decided on showing a little power themselves. With Bob Myers carrying the brunt of the attack the South Siders began to roll. After four successive first downs and a march of 61 yards the Bulldogs failed to score on an end run from the Cowboy four, Harold McMillen coming in from the secondary to drive the Bulldogs back to the eight, seemingly taking the wind out of the Bulldogs' sails. The Cowboys took the ball on downs and held it for the remaining minutes of the game.

Must Keep Winning To Stay With East

On Friday, Oct. 19, the West High Cowboys will meet the Central Pirates on the Hilltoppers' home field.

West will attempt to make it win number three in the race for City League championship.

At present West is tied with East for first place in the City League, having won from Linden McKinley and South and fought to a scoreless tie with East.

Central is tied with South for last place in the City League, having lost to East and tied with South.

West is given the edge in this encounter, but the power of the Pirates cannot be underated. East won from the Pirates by the narrow margin of 7-6 with the Pirates holding the edge most of the way, but unable to score.

Hilltop Bus Service Is Vital Need

A rapidly expanding Hilltop is much in need of improved transportation service around the Hilltop community itself.

It is an opportune time for civic groups of this section of the city to merge their efforts toward providing a Hilltop bus route so that outlying neighborhoods may have transportation to the Sullivant Avenue and Broad Street bus lines and business sections.

With the war emergency gradually fading we feel the community is entitled to far better service than the spasmodic cross town bus service on Hague Avenue.

Individual families concerned may be of assistance in the matter by expressing their desires in a letter to the Record in order to get the ball rolling. Let's hear from you.

Names Make The News: Good to see Haig Addison back in civvies again . . . and the same for Don Rice . . . Comes a compliment from a Hilltop lady for Joe Goodwin, genial Sullivant av. druggist, who says he rates tops in courtesy among Hilltop merchants . . . A hearty "Hello" to Pop Campbell, 180 S. Harris av., from this corner and glad to hear you are getting along well again, Pop . . . Add unique ways of meeting up with old friends: I hadn't seen C. S. Kennedy, West Hi mechanical drawing instructor, for about three years only to have him slide into the back end of my car on a slippery Broad street bridge on Monday. No damage, but handshakes at the scene of the accident . . . Shades of spring: Dr. J. N. Cross reports he has purple iris in bloom in his yard . . . It was the fourth birthday for the twin Davis daughters up Steele av way on Monday . . . D. C. Finneran's foto in one of the dailies on Wednesday with his words of approval for compulsory military training . . . Reed tells me that block floor covering in Budd's Barber Shop isn't new now for nearly a year, but just the same it's one of the improvements a fellow notices right off . . . Paul Leininger's young dotter assisting him in passing out prizes at the BM Halloween party . . . And speaking of parties: That annual Halloween jamboree is always one of the best this community has an opportunity to attend. Never a dull moment and never a strange person . . . A big hand to Ed Planck and his committee . . . Wonder if the appearance of John Wolfe's name in this corner would draw forth a call from him? . . . Top Record subscription salesman for the week is Ronald Bryant who is really doing a bang up job down Harris, Warren and Hague aves . . . Jean Young a Hilltop visitor Wednesday . . . Ken Dickerson a Detroit, business visitor during the week.

Navy Day Note

Tomorrow is Navy Day.

I spent quite a few months with the Navy and I'm for the Navy.

But that doesn't mean that I can be enthusiastic about Navy Day this year when a great portion of the fleet was sent home from the Pacific and are today lined up in ports on the east and west coasts for a big Navy Day show.

The scene in the Pacific is that of thousands of eligible discharged men awaiting transportation back to the states.

Certainly no good will is being built for the Navy among these men as they think of their possible transportation being displayed in U. S. ports.

Don't come back with the statement that these ships aren't suitable for transporting men. Some of the battle wagons have landed as many as 900 men on a trip and certainly nothing else would be any more important right now and if you mention that this would be costly you should be shot for even thinking of cost. The Navy never does.

TOPCOAT STOLEN

R. M. McGhee, 64 N. Roys-av, reported to police Wednesday that a topcoat, valued at $40, had been taken from his car while it was parked in the 100 block of S. Harris-av.

One Dead, Several Injured In Accidents

Princeton Ave. Woman Killed; Amelia Houx Badly Injured

The accident toll continues to mount with the report of one death and several injuries suffered this week by Hilltop people.

The 27th Columbus traffic victim of the year, Mrs. Florence Sparks, 38 N. Princeton-av, died en route to Mt. Carmel Hospital in a Shroyer ambulance Saturday night.

She sustained a fractured skull when she was struck by a car driven by Malcolm Hire, Dayton, while crossing the street in front of 1336 W. Broad-st, according to police reports.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in the Shroyer Funeral Home. Besides her husband, John D. Sparks, Mrs. Sparks is survived by three sons: Carmel of Hershey, Pa.; Forrest and John Sparks of Columbus; three brothers, William and John Riley of Columbus and Joseph Riley of Kentucky; three sisters, Mrs. Bessie McClurg and Mrs. Callie Alcorn of Columbus and Mrs. Delcie Carrington. Her mother, Mrs. Nancy Carver of Kentucky, also survives.

Four Injured

A two-car collision at W. Broad and Ogden-av resulted in the injury of four persons Sunday night, when a car driven by Clarence Freeman, Jr., 18, of Grove City, collided with one driven by Robert D. Leaman, 324 Nashoba-av, police said.

Taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Freeman was treated for a cut on the left arm, while his brother, William Freeman, 15, was treated for a forehead cut and body injuries.

Mickey Hawkins, 17, and Paul Brechenridge, 19, both of Grove City, suffered cuts and bruises. They were riding with Leaman.

Struck While Crossing Street

Mrs. Amelia L. Houx, 40, of 2518½ W. Broad-st, was struck by a car driven by Dorothy Phillipi, 156 Southampton-av, Monday night when she was crossing W. Broad-st near Terrace-av, according to police reports.

She suffered fractures of both legs, a fractured right arm and body bruises. Taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital in a Noble Allen ambulance, she is reported to be in a critical condition.

Cars Collide

A head-on collision at W. Broad-st and Davis-av Monday resulted in a fractured little finger and head injuries for Mrs. Mildred Sullivan, 24, of 31 Woodland-av. She was riding in a car driven by her husband, Gerald. The driver of the other car was Catherine Kunz, 85 N. Wheatland-av, according to police.

Taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital, Mrs. Sullivan is reported in fair condition.

Struck by an auto as she crossed Third-st at Spring late Monday, Mrs. Laura Harrison, 5 Clarendon-av, suffered bruises, police reported. Her companion, Mrs. Cora Foley, 364 W. Second-av, also suffered bruises. Driver of the car was Alvin Kasson, 78 Crestview-rd. Taken to St. Francis Hospital, the women were treated and released.

New Beaver Auto Store Is Distinct Addition To Hilltop

Christmas Toys Are Now In Stock

The new Beaver Auto Supply Co. store, which opened recently at Hague and Broad, is a distinct addition to a community of modern stores. Managed by Evan E. Evans, who lives with his family at 637 S. Terrace-av, the new store will carry a full line of Sonoro radios, as well as Sunbeam and General Electric appliances and others which are carried under the trade name of the store.

More and more of these items are becoming available every day. Motor oils and automotive equipment are also stocked by the store.

George Beaver, 2348 Arlington-av, proprietor of the Beaver stores, lived as a boy and young man on N. Terrace-av, and out of sentiment for his old home surroundings has made a special effort to serve the Hilltop community with the most modern store possible, with the most complete stock available.

Toys are already on hand for Christmas, with more arriving every day. Kiddies will find a fairyland awaiting their inspection when the Christmas displays are completed.

One of the services offered by this up-to-date store consists of ordering any item not on hand, thereby saving many trips downtown for the shopper.

In compliance with the custom adopted by many Hilltop concerns, the new store will close Wednesday afternoons.

Beaver Auto Supply Co. has been in business in the city for more than 15 years, 14 of which they have served the Hilltop community.

Little Stories of GREAT HYMNS

Its poetic excellence—fervent appeal—and thrilling optimism have made this a missionary hymn of matchless popularity. Like many other great hymns, it was written at one sitting, with no thought that English speaking peoples all over the world would use it in praise to their Creator.

We're Celebrating our 10th ANNIVERSARY

Charlie Kent

Ten years ago this month Kent's Modern Market was opened for business on Sullivant Avenue. So this week we are going to celebrate our Tenth Anniversary.

Needless to say, it is very difficult for any merchant these days to get sufficient merchandise and at the right kind of prices to put on a big anniversary sale like we did in the good old days before the war. But even so, we feel it is an opportune time to carry an anniversary message to all our friends on the Hilltop and remind them that we are most appreciative of all their fine business in those past ten years. Then too we hope to be able to serve you better still in the not too distant future.

In ten years' time we have tried at all times to maintain one element above all else in our business . . . that of QUALITY. Many times foods are advertised and sold by some firms at much reduced prices but oftimes these very low prices are possible because the merchandise itself is not worth the price being paid. We have always stood behind the foods we have sold and have always attempted to provide you with the best of good meats, vegetables and groceries.

During the war we have been forced to reduce the many services we once provided. However, as the emergency passes we will assure you our service will again be in keeping with the best to be had on the Hilltop.

Again we say Thanks, in a great big way, for your kindnesses in our past 10 years. We want to continue to serve you. If you are not at present a Kent customer, why not stop around this week and let's get acquainted?

Soldier Is Given Royal Welcome

A procession of cars decorated with red, white and blue streamers, combined with the din of cow bells and dinner bells, drew many people to their doors Sunday night thinking they were to witness a wedding party, when in reality it was the welcome given to a Hilltop soldier by his friends and neighbors.

Cpl. Warren E. Dusenbury, of the 1st Division, 16th Infantry, whose wife and three-year-old son, Gary, live at 402 S. Westgate-av, was the recipient of the enthusiastic welcome. Cpl. Dusenbury fought in France, Belgium and Germany. He wears the Combat Infantry Badge, the Presidential Unit Citation, with cluster, five battle stars and the Croix de Guerre.

He was graduated from Central High School in 1939 and is well known as a baseball player. Mrs. Dusenbury is the former Irene Johnson and a graduate of West High School.

Sgt. Bennett was responsible for casualty records and correspondence and bulletins in chaplain's headquarters and also served as organist and choir director. He organized and conducted a male chorus of 45 voices at Casablanca which became a regular broadcast feature. Upon being transferred to Caserta, Italy, another chorus of mixed voices was organized under his capable direction.

The Hilltop Needs Representation In Council

Let's face a fact.

The Hilltop, a community of some 12,000 homes, needs continued representative in the City Council.

When you go to the polls on next Tuesday you have an opportunity to vote for a Hilltop man in that capacity. Henry Koontz, present member of City Council, is a candidate to fill one of the posts now open.

Koontz has been in business on the Hilltop for a great many years and has served in City Council since June, 1944. His time spent in council has been marked by level-headed thinking and he now has a city wide following as a popular councilman.

Let's remember on Tuesday that the problems of our community will stand a much better chance of being properly considered if we have a Hilltop man in council.

A Very Fine Job

To all those who had a part in the Hilltop Halloween party at West High on Wednesday night should go a world of appreciation from the residents of this community.

This was indeed a fine party and one that proves beyond a doubt what an organized effort can do toward preventing vandalism on this annual festive occasion.

To the Hilltop Community Council, the Hilltop Business Men's Association, the Kiwanis Club, the P.-T. A. groups and all other organizations and individuals—come from the community.

Artists At Work

A community of artists! That's the Hilltop.

This was evident early this week as the Halloween atmosphere was spread from one end of the Hilltop to the other as local students displayed their talents on the windows of various stores up and down the business sections.

Witches, elves, pumpkins and the famous fodder in the shock all had their place as a variety of colors were spread over window glass, thus showing the "proper way to soap a window."

The idea, sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, was a good one and proved very successful.

City Officials and Bond Issues Face Voters Tuesday

Henry A. Koontz

Koontz Is Hilltop Hope for Council

Hilltop residents will go to the polls Tuesday to support their choice for city officials after one of the most bitterly contested municipal elections in several years.

They will also be called upon to decide the question on a 10-point issue for a city, county and school improvement program on a long term basis.

Only candidate from the Hilltop is Henry A. Koontz, 455 Hilltonia-av, who is attempting to secure his first term as councilman after finishing an unexpired term at City Hall.

Koontz was appointed to Council last year for his first try at a government position. A resident of the Hilltop and West Side for life, he opesates a drug store at Eureka and Sullivant-avs. He was formerly with the Mykrantz Drug Store here. He is a graduate of West High School and Ohio State University.

Competition Heavy

Republican running mates for council with Koontz are Joseph R. Jones and O. J. Fillinger, all incumbents. Their opponents are William H. Brooks, Peter Kinnear and Charles Harcourt.

The office of City Attorney will be filled by either Richard W. Gordon, Republican, or Kenneth B. Johnston. Present Auditor R. P. Barthalow is defending his position against Democrat John L. Nolan.

The race for a seat on the municipal bench is wide open, with incumbent Presiding Judge John M. Mathias facing Francis M. Thompson for a six-year term in that position.

Municipal Judges Charles R. Petree, Rodney Ross and Fred Donnally, all incumbents, are facing Thomas J. Duffy, Carl W. Lortz and T. Vincent Martin. Ross and Donally are on unexpired terms.

There is no race for the school board, with three to be elected for four-year terms, as there are only three on the ballot. They are Miss Ann Paterson, Dwight A. Swisher and Carl J. Wirthwein.

The bond issue, covering a period of 10 or more years, is a big factor, as there has been no precedent in past elections.

Open Fleet Wing Station Here

A new filling station has been opened at 2370 Sullivant-av, on the corner of Oakley-av, to be known as Jackson's Fleet Wing Service.

The new station is owned and operated by Percy Jackson, 213 Powhattan-av, who was honorably discharged from the U. S. Army on August 13. He was in the service two years. His wife and 18 months old son live at the Powhattan-av address.

The new station is prepared to offer complete service for the winter, with anti-freeze and grease lubrication. A line of new and used tires, batteries and accessories are also offered by Mr. Jackson.

Mrs. Boggs Leads Girl Scout Troops

Girl Scout Troop 103 was reorganized Monday. The new leader is Mrs. Mary Boggs. Assistant leaders are Mrs. Frank O'Bryant and Mrs. Howard Curl.

Memorial services will also be held.

NEW STORE HOURS

The Fay Shop, 2392 W. Broad-st, will be open all day on Wednesdays, starting Nov. 7

Will Reign At Dance Tonight

Kathryn Adams, the queen, and her court will feature half-time ceremonies at the West High-Aquinas homecoming game this afternoon at 3:00 p. m.

The queen and her escort, Jack Buckingham, injured Cowboy end, will be led onto the field by the West marching band, which will in turn be led by a horse and rider. She and her court will be presented to the crowd by Marion Watkins, class president.

The queen and her court will also share the spotlight with the squad and their coaches at the homecoming dance in the gym tonight.

Newly-elected co-captains, Dick Slager and Bob Snouffer, Cowboy backfield men, will present the queen with a double dose of affection at the half, as is the usual custom.

Must Win It

And sandwiched in between this show of pomp will be a football game which West must win to stay in their present top position in the city league. It will be their last home game.

Aquinas started off fast this season against North with a lopsided score, but ran into defeats by Linden-McKinley, East and Central. However, they are still a dangerous ball team.

The Cowboys were just managing to slide past city league teams by a few-point margins, then hit their stride last week against Arlington when they downed them 24-0 in a superlative exhibition of football.

They will end their season next week against North, which will give the western lads a title if they can hurdle these last two obstacles.

Highland P.-T. A. To Meet Thursday

Elizabeth "Ditty" Barfield, a junior of 491 Belvidere-av, was given flowers and the title of queen of the dance by the squad. She then presented a prize to winners Don Anderson and Shirley Keatsman.

$900,000 To Be Spent On Hilltop Schools

Nine hundred thousand dollars ($900,000) will be spent on the Hilltop and West [illegible] schools if the Jobs and Progress program is passed by the voters in the election on Tuesday, Nov

For years it has been known that [illegible] schools as Highland Avenue and Starling are the worst type of fire traps. Lives of all these youngsters are daily endangered during the winter season each year.

Supt. of Schools, George L. Roudebush, stated this week that passage of the proposed bond issues for the schools would provide for expenditure of $100,000 each on six elementary schools and one junior high in the West Side and Hilltop territory. In addition another $200,000 would be spent for a new school in the Flieser-Franklinton district.

Fireproofing and new heating equipment are prominent in the improvement plan for Highland Avenue School while fireproofing and some heating improvements are scheduled for West Broad Street School. A modification of the West Mound Street School problem is also promised but no details were available. All other schools will share in the benefits of the issue if passed.

Hundreds of individuals and organizations throughout the city and county have closely examined this program and have found it sound, financially and otherwise.

They enthusiastically urge you to support this very desirable and essential program.

The Hilltop Record adds its editorial approval of the 16-point program.

New Book of Homes Features Style Trends

For families planning to build a home, a new, inspiring book, "Style Trends," sheds light on many perplexing questions. It will interest particularly those who have been confused by conflicting ideas they have read or heard concerning postwar homes.

"Style Trends" is available to perspective home builders of this community at the Jones Lumber and Coal Co.

The book is offered in the belief that home planners have a vital stake in getting authoritative facts on the kind of homes they are likely to build and own after the war.

In this book they will discover answers to such all-important questions as these: What are the facts about postwar architectural styles? Will there be radical changes from the traditional and loved designs of the past? What about new materials and new construction methods offered as cure-alls to all building problems?

"Style Trends" answers these questions and many more. In beautiful color illustrations, it offers a preview of "homes of tomorrow." They are homes that families will instinctively see as the answers to their questions. In architectural design they include the best and most popular of the historical styles, adapted and modified to meet present and future desires and needs.

Floor plans, for example, are scientifically laid out to save steps and time, and to provide adequate storage space. Yet every home shown is different, and subject to such further variations in treatment and features as individual tastes, sites and needs may indicate. Furthermore, the homes shown in "Style Trends" incorporate such new methods and materials as have proved worthy of being built into permanent homes.

Thus, to those who have been confused [illegible] to the point of despair [illegible] fantastic prophecies, "Style Trends" offers a solid foundation for their dream homes. It interprets what American families want and need in their homes and will help them stay abreast of the times.
